SHERIFF BAILEY GRANT

SHERIFF GRANT IN RACE AGAIN

Says 'I Will Definitely Be A Candidate In The Coming Election'

Sheriff Bailey Grant announced yesterday he will seek re-election in the Ouachita parish sheriff election next January.

In an interview yesterday, Sheriff Grant, pointed out, "I will definitely be a candidate in the coming election and will make a formal announcement at a later date.

Sheriff Grant announced his plans yesterday after Milton Coverdale, a former sheriff, stated that he was entering the sheriff's race.

Sheriff Grant was elected to office in 1948 over three opponents. Since taking office, he has completely modernized the department into one of the most efficient in the state.

In addition, he has added a night patrol car and has increased the number of deputies in the department to maintain an office which is open 24 hours a day for night calls.

Two-way radio sets have also been installed in all the sheriff department automobiles and a completely new method of record and case filings established during Sheriff Grant's term.

At various times during the past four years, Sheriff Grant has sent members of the department to F.B.I. schools where they have been thoroughly trained in investigative and fingerprint procedure.

This year, he was named the outstanding young man of the state and was awarded a certificate of merit by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for his outstanding service to the community at a state convention in Shreveport.

Prior to this he was selected as

U. N. Threatened By Red General

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Kim Il Sung, North Korean Communist boss, was quoted by the Peiping radio today as threatening, "if the American aggressors venture to break up the armistice talks at Kaesong, they will not only be annihilated on the ground but will also be dealt heavy blows in the air."

The broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, said Kim's threat was made in a Pyongyang meeting Aug. 15 commemorating the sixth anniversary of Korea's liberation from Japan.

It said 800 leading North Koreans, diplomatic representatives of Russia and Red China, and Chinese military men were present.

DID YOU KNOW?

That where and when traffic is being controlled by automatic signal lights, it shall be unlawful for any person to drive a vehicle into a street intersection where and when the red or stop signal is burning, except when signalled to do so by a police officer who has stationed himself in the intersection and assumed the direction of traffic; provided that the police department, may, at such intersections that it may select, display signs under automatic traffic signals reading "Stop, Turn Right on Red." At such designated intersections a vehicle, upon being brought to a full stop not more than fifteen (15) feet from the intersection to be entered, may turn right on the red signal if no vehicle approaches on the street to be turned into sufficiently near to render collision or accident probable.

Feazel Offers To Donate $5,000 Toward Institution

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is one of a series of stories written to explain proposals of the forthcoming West Monroe and ward five bond election.)

By Bert Hatten
(Staff Writer)

Initial steps for securing West Monroe's first hospital have been taken. In a bond election, called for September 18, property owners of ward five will decide whether or not they are willing to spend $650,000 to construct, equip and maintain a public hospital.

The Ouachita parish police jury has already created a ward five hospital district and appointed a five-man administrative board to manage the project.

The five prominent West Monroe men appointed to the board are: West Monroe City Judge Jesse Heard; Dr. G. L. Gallaspy; Fred Bennett, owner and operator of a drug store; Tom E. Hicks, vice-president of the Ouachita parish police jury and a West Monroe contractor; and Fred Riser, dairy owner and milk processor.

With the $650,000, if approved, the hospital board proposes to purchase a site, build and equip the institution to approximately 60-bed capacity. Judge Heard, president of the board, frankly admits that a hospital with a 60-bed capacity is inadequate for the West Monroe raea.

Judge Heard said expenditure on the hospital had been limited to what was considered a sound indebtedness at this time. He pointed out, however, that the building would be erected in a manner that future expansion could be carried out with a minimum of expense.

Once the institution is completed and placed on a paying basis, any profits will be available to invest back into expansion. If the bonds are approved, Judge Heard estimated that the hospital would be ready for occupancy within a year and a half.

But he pointed out that an un-

Col. Compton Is Winner Of Air Race

Detroit, Aug. 18. —(AP)— An air force colonel streaked into Detroit from California in less than three and a half hours today to win the famous Bendix transcontinental trophy race and set a new speed record for the national air races event.

Flying a thundering F-86E Sabre jet with standard equipment, Col. Keith K. Compton, 35, covered the more than 1,900 miles in an unofficial elapsed time of 3 hours, 26 minutes and 56.4 seconds. This included two quick stops for refueling.

This was an average clip of 555.7 miles an hour, according to unofficial figures. The old record for a Bendix race was 529.61 MPH, set by Major Vernon A. Ford in an F-84 from Rosamond Dry Lake, Calif., to Cleveland two years ago.

The St. Joseph, Mo., colonel, who said he entered the Bendix event "over the extreme objections of my wife," flashed across the finish line at Wayne Major airport at 12:31:41 p.m. (EST). He had taken off from Edwards air force base near Los Angeles at 9:04:45 (EST).

An air races spokesman said there would be no certification of a Bendix winner tonight because the national aeronautics association had refused to confirm times. The association said it had not

ED MILLER HELD IN THEFT OF $600

Aubrey Freeman States Money Taken While He Was Unconscious

Ed Miller, 44, charged with the theft of $600 from the person of Aubrey Freeman, operator of a wholesale produce business, was arrested Friday afternoon at his residence by Sergeant Gene Martin and Sgt. W. H. Lockett of the Monroe police force.

Freeman, who was operating a wholesale business during the absence of its owner, J. A. Ford had the $600 collection from the business in his possession when he joined Miller for drinks at approximately 8:30 Thursday night, officers were told.

Freeman asserted that they later "took in" several night clubs, and during the course of the evening, Miller borrowed $10 from him.

The following morning Freeman awoke in a lot on Plum street, near the new school, with a large knot on his head, and the discovery that the $600 and a truck which he had been driving were missing.

When arrested, Miller was searched and found with $18 on his person. He stated that he had no knowledge of the large sum which Freeman had in his possession.

Talks Continue At Kaesong; Reds Appear Ready To End Korean War

By Don Huth

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Aug. 19. —(AP)— A United Nations subcommittee flew back to Kaesong today to resume truce talks with Red negotiators whose superiors have shown signs of readiness to break the deadlock.

For the second straight day Saturday the UN and Communist junior teams had met in a friendlier atmosphere than any shown when the full delegations wrestled with the impasse.

They sat around a small Korean tea table and studied military maps in their effort to arrive at a solution of the vexing problem of where to place the cease-fire buffer zone.

(Government sources in Washington said the two sides were trying to figure out which line each army thinks it can defend

EX-OSS OFFICERS DENY KILLING MAJ. HOLOHAN

Aldo Icardi (top) and Carl G. Lodolce (bottom) relax with their families in the midst of charges that they killed Maj. William V. Holohan, their commanding officer, in Italy in 1944. Icardi lives in Preakness, N. J., and Lodolce in Rochester, N. Y. The two former officers of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) said they will fight any attempt to send them back to Italy for trial. Both protested their innocence. This World War II snapshot shows Holohan, Icardi and Lodolce (left to right in rear) with the OSS team that parchuted behind German lines in Italy during the war to arrange for delivery of arms to partisans. Holohan disappeared mysteriously on that mission. Last Wednesday the Defense Department in Wasnington said he was slain in cold blood by Icardi and Lodolce with the help of two Italians in a dispute over distribution of the arms to the partisans. Jes' Ramblin'

Once more Jes' Ramblin' is back home and it is fine to see Monroe again although it was good to see New York and his native state Connecticut, again. Up in the vicinity of Danbury, Conn., where a stay was made, it was 37 degress one morning. Winter blankets were required and a fire in the fireplace was needed night and morning. This proved quite a change to 104 degrees, on Friday in Monroe, when the weather man seemingly let loose a hot welcome for our return.

While in New York, we stayed at Hotel Lexington which is popular with many Monroyans as Charles E. Rochester is the manager of his fine hostelry located at Lexington Ave. and Forty Second street. Rochester, by the way, is a native son of Monroe who has made a career such as would do justice to a Horatio Alger hero.

He started to work odd hours, when attending high school, in Hotel Monroe as an assistant clerk

American, Chinese Jets Tangle In Fierce Air Battles

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Aug. 19. —(AP)— Scores of U. S. and Communist jet fighters tangled in two swirling air battles over northwest Korea Saturday while the Allies laid down the heaviest one-point artillery barrage in the war on the ground front.

The flashing dogfights involved 111 planes six miles above the Sinuiju area, near the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria. One Red jet was reported probably destroyed, another damaged.

On the eastern front, Allied artillery hurled a barrage of 15,000 shells at one target—a Communist-held hill. U. N. infantrymen walked to the crest without opposition afterwards.

AP Correspondent George MacArthur reported ground action along most of the front continued light, mostly patrol probing. There was fierce local fighting in the eastern and west-central sectors, however.

A delayed dispatch from A. P. Correspondent Stan Carter, on the central front, reported Allied infantrymen opened a limited assault early Saturday morning on a dominating hill north of Kumwha.

The infantry moved through a smoke screen laid down after an

Greek King Cuts Lover's Jail Term

Athens, Greece, Aug. 18.—(AP)—King Paul today cut the prison-sentence for Crete's modern Romeo, Costa Kephaloyannis. But Costa still won't be free to rejoin his Juliet until Nov 3.

Costa carried off dark-eyed Tassoula Petracogeorgi a year ago to the rugged Cretian mountains and married her. Their families had long been enemies. Costa was sentenced to two years in prison for illegal possession of weapons last February.

King Paul cut the sentence to 14 months. Under the old legal code this would have meant Costa was free right now, with time off for good behavior and double time credited for imprisonment in a rural jail. But unfortunately for him, a new code has come into effect since he was sentenced.

The jail governor, who calls Costa an excellent prisoner, let him talk with the Associated Press by telephone:

"Is it true?" he asked.

Told that it was he shouted:

"Hooray Our mutual great love is undiminished."

He blasted reports printed in some Athens newspapers that his and Tassoula's ardor had cooled.

Convicts Escape Kingston Prison

London, Sunday, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Colonial office said today an unknown number of convicts broke out of the Kingston prison during the tropical hurricane that swept through Jamaica Friday night and Saturday morning.

The Colonial office spokesman said no other details of the incident were known immediately.

The information came in a terse official cable from Kingston, the Jamaica capital.

It said: "There have been no civil disturbances except a break from the Kingston jail."

The Colonial office said a fresh report is expected from Jamaica within a few hours.

Property Damage In Jamaica Set At $16,800,000; Rainfall In Violent Storm Measures 17 Inches In Five Hours

Miami, Fla., Aug. 18—(AP)—The hurricane that smashed at Jamaica, taking 25 lives and a heavy property toll, continued to roar tonight on its west-northwest course toward Yucatan Peninsula.

The Miami weather bureau placed the storm's position at 11 P. M. (EST) at 110 miles west of the Island of Grand Cayman and 300 miles south-southwest of Havana.

After leaving Jamaica, the hurricane passed a short distance south of Grand Cayman, sideswiping the island with 92-mile-an-hour winds. There were no reports of how the British owned island of 7,000 population withstood the glancing blow.

The storm is expected to continue its west - northwest movement during the next 12 to 24 hours, the weather bureau said, and by mid - afternoon tomorrow should reach Cozumel, an island a few miles off the extreme northeast tip of the Yucatan peninsula.

From there, it may cross the peninsula into the Gulf of Mexico.

Wind velocity in the center of the storm still was estimated at 115 to 125 miles an hour. Gales extended outward 150 miles to the north of the eye and 50 miles to the south.

Caution was advised for all interests in the northwestern Caribbean, including extreme western Cuba, the Yucatan channel and the north portion of the Yucatan peninsula.

Kingston, capital of British Jamaica, counted upward of 25 dead and $16,800,000 in property damage in the wake of the storm.

Rainfall in the violent storm totaled 17 inches in a little over five hours during last night. This, storm warning headquarters at Mi-

ITALY WILL TRY TWO AMERICANS

OSS Men Charged With Slaying Major Holohan To Be Tried By Italians

Rome, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A provincial prosecutor decided today an Italian court will try two former American soldiers — either in person or in absentia — for the behind-the-lines slaying of U. S. Maj. William V. Holohan in 1944.

Aroldo Borghese, general prosecutor of the Turin district, changed an earlier decision and said he would ask for extradition of former Lt. Aldo Icardi of Preakness, N. J., and former Sgt. Carl G. Lodolce of Rochester, N. Y., after further investigations.

"The two Americans, if they are not turned over to the Italian magistracy," Borghese said, "will be tried in absentia."

A trial in absentia is largely for the record. A person convicted in such a trial is subject to punishment only if he comes to Italy.

In any case, imprisonment is the

Expects Full House At Bond Meeting

A packed house is expected tomorrow night when a mass gathering will be held in the West Monroe city courtroom under the supervision of a recently organized steering committee whose primary function is to further promote the five propositions in the upcoming bond election.

It was announced yesterday that a public address system will be set up to facilitate the program which will be made up of addresses and question and answer periods.

The steering committee—made up of a cross-section of civic, book and veterans clubs—as 26 regular members, and two ex-officio members. The latter two, Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr. and Alderman Hugh Taylor, will not have a vote in the proceedings. They will supply data for the city government.

Elected to head the committee has been Charlie Wall. The regular members chosen other than officials are as follows:

NINE KILLED IN BUS COLLISION

20 Others Injured When Crowded Bus, Beer Truck Collide In Mich.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Nine persons were killed and 20 more injured when a Greyhound bus crowded with vacationers crashed head-on into a huge beer truck six miles south of here late today.

The driver of the northbound truck had swerved on US-23 to avoid a car pulling out from the side of the highway.

His huge vehicle met the bus, traveling from MacKinac City to Detroit with about 40 passengers, with an impact that crumpled the front section of the bus and caused it to overturn into a shallow ditch.

Truck driver Arthur Aube, 23, of Ossineke, Mich., and his 18-year-old assistant, Melvin Chase of Alpena, both lost their lives.

The other dead were passengers on the bus. Most of them had been seated in positions directly behind driver Irwin Barett, 32. The driver himself was injured critically.

The other dead included: Mrs. Carl Hansen, 31, Sussexstreet, Detroit. Harold Ervin Bromund, 18, Alpena. Darlene Grice, 11, of 811 E. Witherbee, Flint.

Bodies of four women, between the ages of 40 and 60, had not yet been identified.

The big bus was so badly wrecked that several of the injured had to be cut free with acetylene torches.

Four ambulances were hurried to the scene of the crash. They took the injured in relays to Alpena general hospital.

Pain Hits Red After Viewing U. S. Exhibits

Detroit, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Russia's air attache, Engineer Maj. Leonid Pivnev complained of a stomach ache today after inspecting the United States air force exhibit at the national air races.

"I think it's appendicitis," he said. "I am going back to Washington right away."

Pivnev said he thought he had been made ill at an air races banquet last night. None of the 40 other foreign nations' air attaches, however, had any complaint.

Air force spokesmen said Russian officers are familiar with all American planes, but not with details of armament and radar equipment. These features are shrouded in canvas at the Wayne county airport.

Chinese Reds Extend Anti-Foreign Campaign

Italian, Jap Accused Of Plotting To Assassinate Mao Are Executed

Hong Kong, Sunday, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Chinese Reds, in a deadly extension of their anti-foreign campaign, announcd today the quick execution of an Italian and a Japanese convicted of being hired by the United States to assassinate Mao Tze-Tung, Communist chairman.

The U. S. state department has denounced the Red allegations as "completely and knowingly false" and a "bare-faced lie."

The Peiping radio said Antonio Riva, 55, Italian merchant, and Rinichi Yamaguchi, 47, a Japanese bookseller, were executed in Peiping at 5 p.m., Friday.

It did not say how, but reported that en route to the execution ground, "the streets they passed through were throngd with people who expressed their feelings at their criminal activities with shouts of 'down with imperialism,' suppress counter - revolutionaries,' 'long live the people's republic of China,' and 'long live Chairman Mao Tze-Tung.' "

The convictions were announced Friday, along with those of four other foreigners and one Chinese who received prison terms up to life for involvement in the alleged plot. Indications were that the condemned men were taken out and executed immediately.

The Red radio charged that the "spies" all worked for Col. David D. Barrett, formerly U. S. military attache at Peiping and now military attache at Taipeh, Formosa.

Communist propaganda organs poured out thousands of words about the case, denouncing America and Barrett.

The Red press was filled in hate - filled articles saying that "This once again reveals that American imperialism has been deliberately plotting over a long period to undermine our country," and predicting "complete victory in the struggle against U. S. imperialism and its running dogs."

The Reds charged that the "plot" was to assassinate Mao and other Red big shots by firing a mortar and smaller weapons at the platform during the Red regime's anniversary celebration in Peiping Oct. 1, 1950. Arrests beginning in September were said to have thwarted the scheme.

"I never at any time, either on my own initiative or on orders of any agency of the United States government, ever attempted to assassinate or contrive the assassi-

Iran Presents Plan To End Feud With British

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 18. —(AP)— Iran presented counter - proposals tonight in an attempt to settle her oil feud with the British and a somewhat more optimistic atmosphere settled over the two-week old negotiations.

Richard Stokes, the British negotiator, told reporters after the three-hour meeting: "I'm quite sure the Iranians want to come to a settlement."

Ali Shayegan, a member of the Iranian delegation, said there had been an "informal and friendly exchange of views."

The two delegations agreed to meet again tomorrow. The fact that the negotiations were kept alive, even though the Iranians have announced their rejection of Stokes' plan to keep management of the nationalized oil fields and Abadan refinery in British hands, was the most encouraging phase of the situation.

W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special envoy, was reported to have played a key role in the talks tonight. He was pictured as urging the Iranians to consider carefully the British plan, which purports to give Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government a 50-50 share of profits from Iranian operations, previously carried on by the British-owned Anglo-Iranian oil company.

The Iranians had announced earlier they were rejecting the Stokes plan. Stokes had declared it was "the best offer I can make" and added that remaining British oil technicians would be leaving the country soon unless Iran agreed to a speedy settlement.

To observers, these developments had sounded ominous.

But in the meantime Walter J. Levy, Harriman's technical oil advisor, closeted himself with Mossadegh for two and a half hours. He went thoroughly into hard facts facing Iran if she cut loose from British help in operating the industry and has to depend on recruiting other foreign or Iranian technicians.

After tonight's meeting, Stokes said the big obstacle was an

BURGLARS RAID 2 LOCAL CAFES

Loot From Cafes, Drug Store Include One Hundred Dollars In Cash

Early morning burglars raided two cafes and a drug store here Saturday taking about $100 in cash and a box of cakes from a restaurant.

Monroe police reported that Drouet's Drug Store, 202 North Second street, was robbed of $100 and a cash register hauled across the street.

The Green Mill, which was reported to have been broken in at 2:21 a.m., said nothing was missing from the establishment, but the Walnut Sandwich shop said a box of cakes was taken by the prowler at the cafe.

Police said in each case the glasses were broken from the doors of the buildings.

At Drouet's, the burglar robbed two cash registers. One was found by police on Bennett's parking lot near a garbage can and the other in the middle of the floor of the drug store.

The ice man reported the robbery at Drouet's when he noticed the glass broken out of the door as he was making his delivery.

The Coca Cola company's night watchman reported the break-in at the Green Mill.

Supports Plan To Up Cotton Prices

Jonesville, Aug. 18.—(Special)—A resolution calling for the support of all cotton farmers in Catahoula and in the south behind a move to raise the price of cotton has been passed by members of the Catahoula Farm Bureau.

The project, sponsored by state and national farm bureau organizations, seeks to have farmers keep their cotton off the market by placing it in the government loan pool, with the idea of better prices from a controlled market.

Loans on the 1951 cotton crop in Catahoula will be made at 31.63 cents per pound.

First bale from the Catahoula crop was ginned on Monday of this week, and sold for 36 cents per pound. Cottonseed is bringing $65 per ton.

ARMY TESTS NEW CURE FOR FEVER

New Drug May Make It Possible To Cure Malaria Before Effects Felt

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The army disclosed today that it is testing a new drug which may make it possible to cure malaria so fast that the victim will recover from the disease before he knows he has it.

Extensive tests already conducted in this country and in Korea indicate that the drug, known as primaquine, may be a far more effective treatment for malaria than any drug now in use, said Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, army surgeon general.

Armstrong added, however, that further research is necessary to see if primaquine will prove as effective against the type of malaria found in Korea as it has against experimental types.

Troops in Korea have been given regular treatment with another drug, chloroquine, which supresses malaria but does not cure it. A new phase of the program calls for giving primaquine to several hundred of these men on their way back to the U. S.

"If this trial is successful," the army said, "it may be possible to cure malaria which has been suppressed by chloroquine without the individual concerned being aware that he had contracted the disease."

Armstrong said tests on soldiers who got malaria in Korea were recently commended at army hospitals at Fort Benning, Ga., and Fort Knox, Ky. Early results have been favorable, but it will be several months before it can be ascertained that the drugs brings a complete cure.

Tests on patients who contracted malaria in places other than Korea have indicated the cure is complete. Those tests were made on prisoner volunteers at Statesville penitentiary, Joliet, Ill., in cooperation with the University of Chicago. Later the army conducted tests in Nicaragua.

Catahoula Forms Wildlife Group

Jonesville, Aug. 18.—(Special)—Catahoulans joined the ranks of about 15,000 wildlife enthusiasts in other parishes this week with the forty-second sportsmen's organization to be affiliated with the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

About 100 persons meeting in the parish courthouse at Harrisonburg organized the Catahoula Sportsmen's League. Tillman Curtchfield of Jonesville was elected president, Lonnie McGuffee of Harrisonburg, vice-president; and Clay King of Harrisonburg, secretary-treasurer.

Board members elected are: Foster Budwah, ward one; Manley Gordon, ward two; Arthur McVay, ward three; Ronald Richardson, ward four; Jesse Beasley, ward five; Roland Huson, ward six, and Wash Wiley, ward seven.

Speaking at the meeting was Charles Bosch, executive secretary of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation. He explained that the sole objective of the federation is better hunting and fishing, and the many ways in which that objective might be accomplished by a group organized from local to national levels.

Regular meetings of the Catahoula Sportsmen's League were fixed for 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Monday in each month, beginning in September, at the Harrisonburg courthouse. Dues were set at $1.

Membership is open to any Catahoula man, woman or child interested in wildlife, and also to the hundreds of folks from other parishes who fish and hunt in Catahoula.

Theft And Burglary Charges Are Filed

Robert E. Watley, 31, was arrested Thursday night by Monroe police officers, J. C. Kelly and Howard Brown, on separate charges of theft of automobile and simple burglary of the same car, a 1947 two-door Chrevelot, owned by Travis Motors, corner of Louisville and Riverside.

At the time of the arrest, Watley was under the influence of a narcotic, asserted Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Watley is being held in the Ouachita parish jail under a $2,000 bond, it was stated.

Progressives Will Wait Before They Make Choice

Minneapolis, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Progressive party leaders indicated today they would take a "wait and see" approach to presidential candidates in 1952.

As the first session of a national committee meeting broke up, a spokesman said no one had been put forth as a progressive party ticket leader next fall.

"We haven't decided yet; we may support an independent candidate if one should appear —just so he is dedicated to peace and security," C. B. Baldwin, New York, national secretary and campaign manager, said.

There was no apparent move to woo Henry Wallace, 1948 progressive candidate for president, back into the party. Wallace split with the progressives when other party leaders opposed U.S. action in Korea.

Baldwin said a committee would be named either today or tomorrow to meet at a future date and decide time and site of the progressive party's national convention next year.

The national committee also began consideration of a plan to revitalize the party. One suggestion called for party conferences in major geographic areas of the country in September and October "to begin at once the rebuilding of the progressive party, intensifying its organizational activity and to assure our place on the ballot."

Baldwin said about 24 states are represented at the sessions, which are closed. However, only three of the six national officers are present. They are besides Baldwin, Elmer A. Benson, chairman, and Hugh Bryson, one of two vice chairmen. Absent are Paul Robeson, co-chairman; Senora B. Lawson, the other vice-chairman, and Boris R. Steinberg, treasurer.

Midway in today's first session, the committee sent a telegram to President Truman declaring "the people of the U.S. are not concerned with where the line is drawn in Korea — they want an end to that war and its senseless slaughter. They want the return of their sons. They want a line drawn forever between war and peace.

"...We call upon you to order Gen. Ridgway to conclude a truce at once and begin peace talks. We urge that no impossible conditions be imposed to further delay the conclusion of an immediate truce."

Vito Marcantonio, former New York American labor party congressman, arrived late today to address a public rally sponsored by the progressive party tonight, He was scheduled to speak at about 10:30 p.m. (EST).

Disabled Vet Protests 1-A Draft Rating

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Robert A. Nordin, 23, South Bend, protested when his draft board classified him 1-A last June.

Despite his protest, the draft board yesterday ordered him to report at Indianapolis Aug. 28 for pre-induction physical examination.

"I'll be glad to go if they send an ambulance," said Nordin.

His father, Albert Nordin, explained that his son is "totally disabled" and is "receiving a 100 per cent disability pension from the Veterans' Administration."

Nordin said his son is suffering from tuberculosis of the spine, left hip and leg and "is in a complete body cast." Although he is home now, he has spent considerable time during the last four years in Hines Veterans Hospital, Chicago.

Nordin is a veteran but is eligible for the draft since he did not serve more than nine months before June 24, 1948.

A draft board spokesman said the board had no knowledge that Nordin was in a cast. He explained that a prospective draftee has only two courses to follow in changing classification—either in person before the board or a doctor's certificate of condition. He said Nordin did not take advantage of either.

Nordin's father said the board has written to Hines Hospital for a report on the young man's condition.

ASKS PERMANENT CRIME PROBERS

Senator Wiley Proposes Lasting Investigation Of Criminals In U.S.

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A permanent senate crime investigating committee was proposed today by Senator Wiley (R. - Wis.) a member of the special committee that expires September 1.

"The crusade against crime has only begun; it cannot be allowed to die," Wiley said.

He proposed that the senate interstate commerce committee or a sub-group take over and carry on the sensational investigation handled for 16 months by the special committee under leadership of Senators Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) and O'Conor (D.-Md.).

Such a group could hunt down criminals and key witnesses who have been hiding out to avoid testimony before the expiring committee, Wiley said.

In a letter to Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D.-Colo.) of the commerce committee, Wiley suggested these three "assignments" for future crime inquiries:

1. "The incredibly odorous situation along the New York-New Jersey waterfron . . . where organized piracy exists on a scale that would make Captain Kidd green with envy, where all the evils of narcotics traffic, labor union violence, policy rackets, and other crimes abound."

2. "The current gangster effort being made to invade the teamsters union in Chicago . . . there have been a series of outrageous bombings, beatings and murders in Chicago teamster circles which have indicated that there is being attempted a repetition of the Capone mob muscling into unions of the 1920's."

3. "A complete probe of interstate angles of crime and the District of Columbia' including testimony about high profitable "numbers operations."

Wiley pointed out that in a relative brief time, the senate crime investigators have turned up much that state and local officials had failed to find or act upon.

He said the field or organized interstate gambling had been pretty well exposed, but the special crime committee's files contain "literally treasures of information which can be used down through the years in supplementing the work of federal, state and local law enforcement officers."

"It would be a pity if those files were simply to gather dust in some senate attic," he said.

Missionary Believes Nationalists Stronger

Brussels, Belgium, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A Belgian Catholic missionary expelled from China after 12 years there, believes the Chiang Kai-shek nationalist regime is regaining popularity in Red China.

Writing in Brussel's "Nation Belge," Father Martin Gorisser described the Chinese Communist rule as a "gigantic disillusion for the Chinese people."

He added "this disillusion is favoring the rising popularity of the nationalists with the Chinese masses."

Father Gorisson wrote that the Communists were preparing to set up a "national Catholic Church."

WANTS TO SLICE MORE FROM AID

Sen. George Promises To Seek $2 Billion From Truman's Program

Washingon, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) said today he will try to cut about $2,000,000,000 out of President Trunman's foreign aid program when the bill reaches the senate next week.

This is twice the reduction voted by the house. Last night a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats in the house amputated $1,001,250,000 from the $8,500,000,000 measure.

As it now stands, the bill would make a $7,498,750,000 contribution in military and economic aid to nations allied with the United States in fighting communism.

George, chairman of the senate finance committee, said he wants to end all economic aid for European nations "because we promised to bring the Marshall plan to a close and we should keep our promise". Thus his campaign appeared to be directed mainly at the economic aid phase of the program, for which Mr. Truman asked $2,200,000,000. The rest of the money would be for military aid in the form of aircraft, tanks, ships and weapons.

Western European nations are now up to 144 per cent of their pre-war production," he said. "If they can't carry themselves now, we ought not to kid ourselves that they ever can."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) announced today he will throw his support behind a $1,000,000,000 cut.

Mr. Truman has told senate leaders that any reduction in the funds requested will seriously interfere with world defenses against Soviet Russia. But prospects of the senate restoring any of the cuts made by the house grew dimmer. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee has expressed the belief that sizeable reductions are inevitable.

George said he is not impressed with the argument that most of the economic aid requested is to shift European industry from civilian to defense production.

When people agree to give away money by the billions, they can make up their minds to almost any argument,' he said.

George added he had little sympathy for military aid to South American nations, saying "it is nothing but a grant."

Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, told reporters he might be agreeable to a compromise under which 20 per cent of military and economic funds would be interchangeable.

In voting yesterday's cuts, the house whacked $690,000,000 off economic aid for Europe.

Senator Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) called these reductions "too great" although he said some economies might be made.

Kefauver proposed that a separate mutual security agency, which the house voted to set up when it approved the bill 260 to 101, be moved into the state department. The house would give the separate agency independent authority directly under the president.

"I don't see how we can divorce this program from the state department, which has over-all direction of foreign policy," Kefauver said. "I think the agency should be placed within the state department."

The senate foreign relations and armed services committees will go to work on the house bill Monday.

Taft, who is not a member of the groups, said he thinks substantial cuts can be made in the economic aid portion of the program.

He already had called for a cut of one-half in the $2,200,000,000 originally proposed for this phase but said that most of the original proposal of $6,300,000,000 in military aid probably should be authorized by congress.

"Perhaps it can be arranged so that 20 per cent of the military and economic funds can be made interchangeable," Taft said. "That would meet the argument that by cutting the economic total, congress may be hampering the construction of war plants abroad."

Administration leaders have made it clear they would rather see military than economic cuts in the bill, since the measure gives the defense department authority to transfer equipment to be built out of the proposed $56,000,000,000 domestic military budget.

The bill now allows only a five per cent interchange of military and economic funds.

As approved by the house, the measure authorizes these outlays, subject to later appropriations:

Europe: $5,028,000,000 in military aid and $985,000,000 in economic aid. This was a cut of $265,000,000 in military and $690,000,000 in economic aid.

Near east and Africa: $415,000,000 in military aid, (no reduction), and $175,000,000 in economic aid, an increase of $50,000,000 for rehabilitation of Jewish refugees.

Asia and the Pacific: $530,000,000 in military aid—a $25,000,000 cut: $237,500,000 in economic aid — a $25,000,000 cut, and $11,250,000 for Korean rehabilitation, a cut of $101,250,000.

American republics: $40,000,000 in military and $22,000,000 in economic and technical aid—no cuts.

Expansion of strategic materials development: $55,000,000 for the whole program instead of that amount for western Europe mainly.

Bill Introduced For New Canal

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Rep. Larcade (D.-La.) has introduced legislation that would authorize construction of a new ship canal from the Mississippi river at New Orleans to the Gulf of Mexico.

The project was estimated in 1948 to cost $67,000,000 and would provide a 70-mile route over land and water as an alternate shortcut. Presently ships take the 95 mile Mississippi river channel between New Orleans and the gulf.

The canal would connect with an inland sea, the intracoastal waterway from New Orleans to Mobile.

The channel would be 36 feet deep and 500 feet wide until it neared the gulf when it would widen to 60 feet and deepen to 38 feet.

Larcade's bill sent to the house public works committee yesterday would authorize immediate appropriation of $1,000,000 for planning.

He said today a favorable survey report from the army engineers has "been hung up in the budget bureau since 1948."

They Just Die

General MacArthur's famous statement that "old soldiers never die—they just fade away" might well be applied in reverse to newspapermen, with William Randolph Hearst, noted publisher, as an outstanding example of that fact.

"Old newspapermen never fade away—they just die."

Once thoroughly in the harness, newspapermen usually stay there until they die.

It has been said that once a newspaperman gets printer's ink into his blood, he can never leave newspaper work.

Rather, we think that once a newspaperman becomes atuned to the pulsing life-blood of the people he constantly serves he continually requires this association to carry him along the path of a satisfactory life.

Hearst, most spectacular publisher of the modern era in journalism and controversial chief of a vast newspaper and magazine empire, died August 14 at the age of 88.

Although reduced to near-invalidism in recent years, he still actively directed the editorial policies of the Hearst newspapers until almost the end. Thus he was able to realize a wish he expressed a score of years ago—to die a newspaperman.

Hearst was often severely criticized for his spectacular style of journalism but he carried on with his policy of telling the people what was happening and doing it in a style exciting enough to make it interesting reading.

There are countless examples of newspapermen who have been unwilling to fade away until they died—who wanted until the end to give their best services to the people. Among them was the late Col. Robert Ewing, founder of the Ewing newspapers.

A humbler example than the mighty William Randolph Hearst was an old newspaper reporter who wrote copy for the News-Star—World's progress edition some 15 years ago. This old man was in his 70s and had somehow lost out on the job elsewhere on which he had formerly been employed. He wrote daily and consistently on stories for the paper for about three months. Then he came in one day and announced he had finished his last story for the progress edition. He looked in his usual health and seemed pleased that he had done a job well.

The next morning he was found dead in his hotel room. He had died peacefully, having reached "30" in his own life at almost exactly the same time he reached it on his last story.

A Nitrogen Factory

The United States department of agriculture says that there may be a scarcity of nitrogen fertilizers next year. The scarcity won't be nearly as noticeable however, if more farmers here in Louisiana and other southern states will establish nitrogen factories on their own farms to extract some of the nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil. Fortunately, such a nitrogen factory is easy to put into operation and requires no steel or other strategic materials.

The nitrogen factory that we refer to is, of course, a crop of winter legumes. These plants grow during the winter. They extract nitrogen from the virtually limitless quantities in the air and store it in their roots. While they are growing through the winter, they protect the soil from erosion. When they are plowed under in the spring, the nitrogen stored in their roots is added to the soil, along with large quantities of organic plant food. There is no cheaper or more effective fertilizer. The soil is enriched and conditioned.

One of the biggest advantages of our comparatively mild southern climate is that southern farmers can make use of winter legumes to enrich their soil and increase yields per acre, whereas farmers in more severe climates cannot. A large acreage of winter legumes is grown in Louisiana each year, but the acreage could be much larger than it is. Agricultiurists say that there is hardly a farm that could not use more of this crop. None of us eats winter legumes but because of the protection they give the soil and the manner in which they increase production, they are one of the most important and profitable crops that a farmer can grow.

Gimmick In Controls Bill

Whenever price control measures have come before congress in recent years, a curious economic theory has reared its head. What it amounts to is taking virtually all the risk out of doing business.

Sometimes this notion has been shaped into a "guarantee profits" proposal. That was suggested back in 1946, and again this year. It would assure businessmen a prescribbed level or percentage of profits.

The arrangement occasionally has called for the extension of this principle to every line a manufacturer produces. In other words if he happens to make stoves, iceboxes and vacuum cleaners, the ceiling prices would be set to guarantee him a profit on all these items.

This plan, however, has never actually been cast into law. The opposition always has managed to muster sufficient strength to defeat it.

But an alternative device leaning in the same direction did find its way into the defense production act as renewed on July 31 of this year.

It is the so - called Capehart amendment. It was fashioned at three a. m. one morning a senate-house conference committee meeting on the legislation. The clause provides simply that anyone may obtain a price ceiling for his product that reflects all his added costs from the period before the Korean war to July 26, 1951.

Up until this provisions was inserted and approved, government policy had been to set ceilings at pre - Korean levels, plus all direct cost increases — those for labor and materials.

The Capehart amendment allows the manufacturer to toss in cost changes in overhead, advertising, selling, and the like.

In so doing, it has greatly weakened the price stabilization structure and immeasurably complicated the problem of judging the fairness of manufacturers' cost claims.

The business technique of cost accounting is so highly developed today that one firm, in an experiment, got six different cost results on its products by figuring its costs according to six different accounting systems. The range in figures was great. Furthermore, most companies do not keep records which show accurately how their indirect costs (selling, etc.) apply to the cost of their products.

For the government to check on cost data submitted under the Capehart amendment would be out of the question without a huge expansion of OPS personnel. So there is little left to do but accept the figures and grant the ceiling prices requested.

This will mean government protection of the highest cost producer. Except in the extremity of actual all - out war, when cost is inconsequential, we have never thus safeguarded the high - cost man.

America built its greatness on venturesome risk - taking. A willingness to brave the competitive struggle has been a hall mark of the U. S. entrepreneur. We in this country have never sought guarantees of success in any field. We have felt we should earn it.

The three a. m. Capehart amendment is an affront to America's spirit of enterprise. And it promises to impose a nearly intolerable burden upon the consumer, the man who is touted in our free economy as the great beneficiary of our unrivaled enterprise.

Warning In Advance

The other day a truck and car collided on a four - lane highway leading northwest from New York City into the Catskill mountain resort area. The truck overturned and blocked all lanes.

What followed is an eye - opener. For six and a half hours, traffic was stalled for a distance of 16 miles. Altogether, an estimated 15,000 automobiles were tied up. The wrecking crews reached the scene of the accident only with the greatest difficulty.

Civil defense authorities in our big cities with crowded highway exits ought to take note. Imagine the chaos if such a minor mishap had occurred as sequel to an atom bomb attack on New York.

General Election For Britain Is Predicted

Dartford, Eng., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A Labor member of parliament said tonight he believed Prime Minister Attlee would call a general election in Britain for Oct. 25.

The prediction by Norman Dodds, parliamentary private secretary to the minister of labor, coincided with most forecasts made by Conservative party spokesmen.

Addressing a Labor party rally in his home constituency here, Dodds said "Without disclosing any inner cabinet secrets I can tell you that, among the powers-that-be in the cabinet, they are divided almost equally between holding an election in October, 1951, or in June, 1952.

"My predicion is that it will be October, 1951."

ON BROADWAY

Everybody, it seems, has a word for the columnist. Which word is a variable, from near - deification to utter damnation.

Naturally, folks who are seized with the irresistible determination who uncover the typewriter or uncap the fountain pen, then sit down and communicate with a by - line, are in some form of other extremists, congenitally or momentarily.

They either want something tremendously, or they are swayed by powerful persuasions, or they are overwhelmed with the possibility of "talking back" to one they visualize as a mighty man, who can say whatever he wants to and scatter his statements to millions, while they, voiceless, have just as much right to shout, but no medium whereby they can reach the multitude.

So they tell me off.

From a typographical boner to an opinion on international economics, they take issue with me.

And some are so right!

The amount of intelligence that is scattered through our country is amazing. I have a wholesome respect for American brains.

But, of course, not all who raise three - cent rhubarbs, or even the airmail special delivery protesters, are sane and sensible.

I suppose each of us has his pet grouch and gripe, and type seems to aggravate it.

Contrarywise, many others shower praise on the printed word far beyond its possible true merit. Again they are impressed by type, overvaluing ideas which, if they heard them spoken, would scarcely generate panegyrics.

Then there are the cranks—the ones who brush off anything written, but who rush at the columnist with plans and solicitations thinking he is rich or mighty or soft and simple or all of these.

This week I had a registered letter from a woman in Florida. The opening sentence was:

"Wire me $12,000. A check will not be acceptable. And it would come too late. I must have the amount by Monday afternoon at two."

She proceeded to set forth the proposition, summed up (it was five single - spaced pages long) about like this:

She had an option until the day and precise hour quoted, to buy for the amount stated a house.

It had been her mother's; the writer had spent her childhood there, had married and moved away, but was now a widow and yearned to return to it.

She described the trees and the shrubbery and the garden in dizzying detail, the location, the view, the perfme of the magnolias.

She was not trying to sell me the property — no, she wanted to buy it and occupy it.

For the $12,000 (no mention of telegraphic transmission charges) she would give me all rights to the story of her life. What it entailed she did not attempt to even hint. Maybe she had run out of paper.

That story, she did say, was in three "wrappers" typewritten, on one side of the paper.

Professional writers spend lifetimes gathering facts and composing books out of their own experiences. And of these, one in perhaps 5,000 earns $12,000.

This woman could not even write a coherent letter, one into which she surely put what she thought was her best effort.

And she was not crazy. I get plenty of communications from psychos. No, this poor lady sincerely thought she had $12,000 worth of story. Though she had less than no ability at setting forth her ideas, she thought she had a valuable tale — because it was what had happened to her.

Amateurs so often think that way.

The kitchen maid who has been necked by the butcher boy is certain that her emotional adventure surpasses the tragedy of Juliet or the triumph of Cinderella.

As I think of it, most of the letters that have poured in on me through the many years were sparked by frustrations — inferiority complexes of suppressed individuals.

The squawks — "cop-fighting" against what they think is power; the extravagant praise — kow-towing to that same illusion; infantile projection of inane biographical matter — a wild reach for recognition, money and fame; an itch to get their names in print when sound judgment would tell them they are not of public interest; hopping fiercely on minor mistakes, a transference to the fundamental hero - plot in which the weak little runt belts the husky bully around and makes him holler uncle.

All that does not mean that I am contemptuous of my fellow-citizens. It is flattering to have proof that they at least read the stuff. I can assure you plenty will read this — and rush to call me names and demonstrate to me how wrong I can be.

Dixie Division Band Will March In N. Y. Tuesday

Fort Jackson, S. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Confederate-Gray clad Dixie division band, composed mainly of Mississippi and Alabama men, will march in New York Tuesday for the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars parade.

Maj. Gen. A. G. Paxton, commanding officer of the 31st, announced today that arrangements had been made for the band to attend.

The Dixie division band uses Confederate gray uniforms for public appearances.

New York Day By Day

New York—H. Allen ("Rhubarb") Smith, a scribber who delights in dredging up little nuggets and turning them and his friends upside down for laughs, recently challenged a batch of die-hard Manhattanites to define a word they habitually and thoughtlessly drop into copy. . . . To refer to New Yorkers as "Gothamites," Allen set forth, is to downgrade all concerned. . . . He's right in one too-brief historical reference from Robert Burton's (1577-1640) "Anatomy of Melancholy," which tersely defines Gotham as a Nottingham Village "proverbially rated for stupidity." . . . However, Webster's Geographical Dictionary saved the bluntly baffled colleagues whom Smith obviously had caught with egg on their faces: "Gotham still exists seven miles SW of Nottingham. The inhabitants obtained the name 'the wise men of Gotham' for their reputed simplicity, since according to tradition when King John visited the village to select a site for a palace, the people not wishing to support such a royal residence, feigned stupidity."

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

HEART OF THE PROBLEM

In all the discussion of the West Point scandal, the emphasis lies on the immediate, on the young men, who are often euphemistically called boys, on the officers on the parents. Many say, "Boys will be boys" which is biologically correct until boys become men with the obligations and responsibilities of men.

Others feel that football players have to do so much practice that they cannot keep up with their work unless they are "assisted." And nothing is being said about the cadets who have not cheated.

The real issue is the nature and purpose of a college, university or other school, and of such special schools as West Point and Annapolis. This issue has, more or less, been dodged by many educators as well as parents, since it has become increasingly popular for the young men and women to go to schools of higher education and special training whether they have an aptitude for scholarship or not.

The question then arises whether students attend to broaden their minds and spirits or to make friends or to mark time or to play what has come to be professional or semi - professional sports. When scholarships are given to men and women because of their excellence as students, the reward is in the field to which the universities have been devoted since the founding of Bologna in the eleventh century.

The athletic scholarship is a fee paid for special services rendered outside of scholarship. The object is to make money for the school, to attract box office receipts, to advertise the institution. It is strictly a business proposition and those to whom the fees are paid are professional performers — in whole or in part — depending upon the individual and the school.

Sometimes such paid performers are also capable of scholarship; often scholarship is not only foreign but offensive to them. In the latter instance, if they are good enough performers to be of commercial value, they are "assisted" to pass examinations so that they may comply with rules and regulations.

At such a school as West Point this raises three important issues:

1. Under the honor system, the individual who "assists," the individual who is "assisted," and anyone who knows about it is honor bound to report the fact. West Point is a free school, the tuition, board lodging, uniforms and other expenses being paid by the taxpayer. Also, the students are soldiers in the army, drawing pay. They are especially bound by rules and regulations in compliance with which they receive these benefits from the taxpayers.

2. These men are to be our generals of the future upon whom the survival of the nation depends. The United States makes a huge investment in each one of them, not only to be "educated," as you and I might have been at college, but to

THE OPS AND TEA PARTY

One of the noted instances in American history wherein conviction on principle was supported by courage in action is the Boston tea party.

Generally known as a rebellion against taxation without representation sufficient cause for rebellion in itself, the Boston tea party was more than that. It was also a rebellion against state monopoly, against domination by the government. So they threw the tea overboard.

The peril uppermost in the minds of patriot leaders in 1773 was that the tea act threatened the foundations of American political liberty. It was clear to them that a triumph of the East India Company over American merchants would in fact be a victory for the British government over colonial rights. "What the parliament could not fleece from us by taxes," said the New York merchants, "the crown will by monopoly."

As we look back 178 years to this position taken by American business men we find that they could see the fundamental issues involved and the dangers inherent in them even more clearly perhaps than we can see them today. Certainly they did not want absolute control and monopoly by the state. They knew that meant the loss of private enterprise and individual freedom.

In that respect, at least, they were much smarter than their British cousins some 172 years later when they accepted a Socialist government in 1946. When the labor government came into power in Great Britain in that year, it proceeded to get control and monopoly by nationalizing certain industries. It was the promise of the Socialists to the people that this would reduce the cost of operation and would aid the consumer by passing on to him in lower prices both the savings effected and the profits that had heretofore been kept by the private owners.

The actual results have been most disillusioning. When the state took over, wastefulness and bungling and inefficiency set in; instead of prices coming down, they went up. Profits disappeared all right, but they were not passed on to the consumer — there just weren't any. More than that — and this was the most disillusioning of all — the monopoly exerted by the government under nationalization forced the consumer to take whatever was offered, of whatever quality and at whatever price, because there was no alternative.

History tells us quite clearly that people lose their freedom and their rights under government control of their economy — and it makes no difference whether this control is obtained by nationalization or simply by placing prices and profits under control of government bureaus as we now have it in this country under the office of price stabilization.

There is no excuse whatsoever for the economic controls to which we are subjected at the present time. They may be necessary in time of total war — war forces many undesirable things upon us — but never in time of peace. They can no more cure inflation than an opiate can cure cancer. And whatever effect they have on holding prices down — and this is entirely disregarding the black market — is more than offset by the very damaging effect they have on the incentive to produce — and production is the foundation of our strength in this country.

Yet the OPS rules and regulations pile up in offices throughout the country until business and industry can hardly see over them — much less interpret them. They are strangling our economy.

As is so clearly stated in the Declaration of Independence, it sometimes requires drastic action to remedy a situation like this. If we had the courage of our ancestors, we would have a few OPS tea parties in the various harbors of this country and throw all the regulations overboard. Then if they could read, there would be some puzzled fish at the bottom of the sea.

In Washington With

BASCOM TIMMONS

Perhaps we should be thankful that we live in a country where, among other liberties, we can criticize the president, rightly or wrongly. And we can also say what we please about his wife, whether she deserves it or not.

A number of newspapermen felt that way on leaving the first press conference held by Argentine Ambassador Hipolito J. Paz, former foreign minister of his country. The ambassador answered questions in Spanish, and his translator's English was not too good, so the forty odd newspaper correspondents who gathered in the greystone mansion of a deceased American diplomat, now the Argentine chancery, had to listen carefully. What they heard was effulgent praise for President Peron and his wife, Evita, and repeated assurances that Argentina is forging ahead under their leadership.

Several of the reporters, who have covered the diplomatic beat here for years immediately were struck with a familiar note — the resemblance of the embassy set up to that of the German chancery in Hitler's day and the Soviet embassy in the few occasions when the press has been received there.

Members of the embassy staff grouped themselves around the ambassador as if to note his every inflection and watch every move he made. There was a feeling that at least one of them was there to check on Ambassador Paz and send a confidential report back to Buenos Aires. And the ambassador proceeded with a caution which gave the impression that he too, was conscious of the scrutiny of his own advisors.

What he had to say was of little moment until he began to deprecate the labor unrest in Argentina, which he balmed on "tiny terrorist groups" — a phrase of which Moscow also makes frequent use.

The translation became labored at that point, for the translator was also a member of the embassy staff, and the tenseness of the group around the ambassador was obvious.

"The ambassador says that these (terrorists) influence no one except women and children and other non - interested parties," he reported. Just why women and children are regarded as non interested parties was not made clear, but it was the sort of slip that only a spokesman for a totalitarian state could make.

Later the English speaking attache was asked whether women did not vote in Argentina. But of course they do vote, he said explaining his remark was intended to mean that the persons being influenced by the terrorists were those to whom the operation of the state was "of no concern." That confused things even more.

The Peron government is so popular in Argentina, the ambassador said, that it will win a sweeping victory at next year's elections One obtained the impression that he thought it hardly necessary to hold an election, but the Argentina constitution had to be observed. More than one of his auditors smiled inwardly, thinking what would happen if the American ambassador to the Argentine were to predict a sweeping victory for any body in the next election.

There was the usual fol - de - rol about promoting friendly relations between the two countries, but even that was phrased so as to give the impression that the United States would be expected to make the overtures, not Argentina.

When Ambassador Paz emphatically denied that there had been strikes, any "stoppages" on the Argentina railroads, many newspaper editors took delight in playing alongside a dispatch from Buenos Aires that 80 "saboteurs" had been arrested in connection with the railroad trouble — but no strikes, no stoppages.

One of the embassy attaches seems to think he resembles Peron and strikes all the attitudes common to pictures of the Argentina dictator. He does look a little like him, at that. Said one of the reporters:

"Remember that guy at the German embassy who thought he looked like Hitler? Wonder what ever became of him?"

Some hours after the conference a mimeographed transcript came from the embassy. The reporters who had attended read it in amazement. At the conference there had only been two laudatory references to President Peron and Evita. In the transcript there were six, even more effulgent than the originals. And the comment about women and children had been deleted.

Mother Of Triplets Is Showered With Gifts

Geneva, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A young widow, who gave birth to triplets, was showered with gifts today.

Mrs. Richard Haight, whose husband died April 12 of a brain tumor, gave birth to three boys last night.

A milk company promised the 28-year-old widow free milk for a year. A bank gave savings bonds for the children, and neighbors sent clothes and money.

The triplets were the first born in this western New York community since 1902.

The smallest boy weighed 3 pounds, 1½ ounces. The others weighed 4 pounds, 7 ounces and 4 pounds, 5 ounces.

Mrs. Haight has no other children.

REPUBLICANS HIT FOR CRITICIZING

Senator Morse Says GOP Wrong In Criticism Of Administration Policies

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Senator Morse (R.-Ore.) said today Republicans are making a great mistake in "highly biased and partisan" criticism of administration policies in the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Beating eight GOP colleagues to the gun, Morse issued a statement asserting that President Truman not only was justified in firing MacArthur but would have been "derelict in his duty" if he had not relieved the Pacific commander.

Eight colleagues, headed by Senator Bridges (R. - N. H.), have signed a report on the senate armed services and foreign relations committees inquiry into the ouster. The report condemns the methods used by the president in discharging MacArthur and criticize the administration's Far Eastern policies. The group withheld release of their report until tomorrow.

"It is a matter of deep regret to me that Republicans on the joint armed services and foreign relations committee are releasing their highly partisan and biased report on the MacArthur case," Morse said. "I am satisfied that time will prove that even as a bit of political strategy they are making a great mistake.

"The record of the MacArthur hearings satisfied me completely that the president was not only justified in recalling him but in view of MacArthur's conduct, it was the president's duty to recall him."

Morse charged that MacArthur had "sought to leave the false impression" with congress that the joint chiefs of staff agreed with his proposals for the bombing of Manchuria, naval blockade of Red China and use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa against the mainland.

"The record of the hearings shows that MacArthur was so out of sympathy with the military and foreign policy of his government in Asa that he and his superiors came to deal at arm's length with each other at a time when complete mutual confidence and teamwork cooperation was essential in the interest of national security," the Oregon senator declared.

"MacArthur's ultimatum to the Chinese Communist leaders to meet with him on the field of battle and negotiate a truce or be threatened with extension of the war to the mainland of China, which he knew at the time was contrary to the military and foreign policy of his government and of the UN was inexcusable and indefensible."

He said this alone "would have been adequate grounds for his recall because the record of the hearings shows that beyond doubt his ultimatum greatly embarrassed the president, who at that time was seeking to carry out negotiations within the UN for an agreement among our Allies on terms and conditions which should be offered as a basis of a truce in Korea."

Morse said that MacArthur, in speeches since his recall, "clearly convicted himself of having been so out of sympathy with the military and foreign policy of his government that any president of the United States, be he Democrat or Republican, would have been derelict in his duty had he not removed such a commander from the field."

Audie Murphy, 36th Div. Slated To Arrive In La.

Camp Polk, La., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The 36th division with its Capt. Audie Murphy, the army's most decorated soldier of World War II, arrives here tomorrow for two weeks summer encampment.

The 36th, a Texas division that fought at the bloody Rapido river crossing in Italy, Salerno and other vicious campaigns, replaces the 22nd armored division here. The 22nd just completed its two week training.

Agreement At Kaesong Is Predicted

Washington, Aug. 18. —(AP)— Top government officials spoke optimistically today of the chances for early agreement between United Nations and Communist negotiators at Kaesong on the critical truce line issue.

The new approach being taken by the subcommittee of the armistice negotiators accounts somewhat for the brightened prospects as Washington officials now see them. But Communist China's propaganda emphasizing the possibility of "adjustments" in truce line demands is an even more important source of optimism here.

The outlook for agreement on the truce line, however, does not extend yet to the whole question of working out details of an armistice. A new crisis is expected to arise over the question of armistice enforcement. Specifically the U. S.-U. N.-negotiators will demand that international inspection teams have access to all of North and South Korea. But the Communists apparently intend to oppose this.

apparently intend to oppose this.

Weeks ago when the agenda for the Kaesong sessions was being debated the Reds agreed to discuss inspection arrangements. They agreed with such readiness that many people jumped to the conclusion this would not be a sore point of debate.

However, reports to Washington from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters now indicate that the Reds almost certainly will oppose demands for what Americans consider an adequate inspection system. They are expected to advocate instead a very limited inspection, probably held to the area of the front lines and buffer zone.

This indicates another long dispute even if the question of establishing a dividing line between the belligerent forces should be speedily resolved.

As described by informed authorities here the present efforts of the negotiators to solve this problem are moving along a new tack. Formerly they were concerned with laying out the line that would be the center of a buffer zone and measuring from that a certain number of miles to the north for the Communist army's front line and to the south for the United Nations' forward position.

That approach proved fruitless, except that the long arguments which ensued apparently convinced the Communists that the United States would not accept a cease fire on the 38th parallel as the Reds had insisted.

Under the new approach, the aim to figure out what defensible line each army might hold in the vicinity of the 38th parallel. Then the space between those lines would automatically become the buffer zone.

The present battle line, though mostly in North Korea, actually cuts across the 38th parallel. It represents furthermore a kind of compromise base for an agreement as between the formal UN demand for a buffer zone somewhat deeper in North Korea than UN forces have ever gone and the Red insistence that UN troops must all pull back south of the 38th parallel.

The heart of the U. S. position on the buffer zone question is the contention that when the fighting ends the armies on both sides must be left in defensible positions, just in case hostilities should break out again. The new attempt to pick out military lines for the Communist troops and the UN forces which would give each side defensible positions is regarded here as a practical application of the whole defense idea.

protect, defend and safeguard the nation and the Constitution. They are men apart, whose word must be inviolate for the safety of the nation. Therefore, the word, honor, must have, for them, a special and emphatic meaning.

3. The standing of a West Point man is not only a matter of personal pride; it is a matter of record, upon which an officer's career may depend. Even now, 48 years after his graduation, the fact that General Douglas MacArthur stood first in his class is significant.

If cadets are "assisted" the record is inaccurate. That assistance, on the other hand, may result in better men being kept lower on the list because they do not play football. It means that the standing of these soldiers and gentlemen is false. If the West Point records are falsified, we do not know any longer what kind of officer material is coming out of that school; we have no measure to decide whether it is safe to entrust them with the responsibilities for which they receive special training at the taxpayers' expense.

That, it seems to me, is the heart of the problem. A full and serious congressional investigation needs to be made of the entire situation in a broad spirit, without regard to individuals.

West Point is either a school for military officers and gentlemen or it is a show place which Billy Rose might manage and save the taxpayer the cost. And these criteria could with advantage be applied to many prep schools, colleges, and universities. Perhaps some day, in their search for advertising methods, to raise funds, or to attract attention, schools will hire a corps of showgirls to put on an exhibition of slightly clothed pulchritude. But that is not education.

Expects New Appointment Of Cardinals

Vatican City, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII is expected to bolster the thin and aging ranks of the College of Cardinals soon with new and younger blood.

The death last month of Adam Stefan Cardinal Sapieha, last free prince of the Catholic Church behind the Iron Curtain, brought to 21 the number of vacancies in the college. Its full complement is 70.

Recurring reports of a consistory to name new cardinals were given support today by the French Vatican circles, which maintain that two French prelates have been notified that they will be made cardinals.

They are Archbishop Maurice Feltin of Paris and Bishop Francis Xavier Grente of Le Mans, who has the personal title of archbishop.

No official confirmation was available but reports of an approaching consistory, to be held perhaps about Christmas, are more numerous than at any time since the pope named 32 cardinals in the great consistory of 1946.

The average age of the 49 living cardinals is about 70. Fully 16 are more than 75 and only five are less than 60.

Eighteen of the cardinals are Italians and 31 are of other nationalities.

Vatican sources said announcement of the consistory, if it is to be held in December, probably would be made in November to give the future Cardinals time to prepare for their journey to Rome.

Among the new cardinals, it is expected, at least three will be from the United States. American prelates frequently mentioned as possible candidates for the red hat include Archbishops Richard James Cushing of Boston and Joseph Ritter of St. Louis.

Vatican sources also said the pontiff is contemplating a change in the vatican's 11 sacred congregations, how headed by himself and cardinals. The change, vatican sources say, would permit naming as heads of congregations some younger prelates, not necessarily cardinals, who would be able to contribute more energy to their administration.

CHRISCO BLANKS BATHERS WITH TWO-HITTER

SPAS TAKE LOSS IN 1ST OF SERIES BY 9 TO 0 COUNT

Greene, Van Winkle, Bivens Lead 11-Hit Attack; Play Again Today

Darvin Chrisco hurled his fifth shutout victory of the season here last night as he blanked the Hot Springs Bathers on two hits while the Monroe Sports coasted to a 9-0 triumph over the Spas in the opener of a three-game series. The clubs tangle here again this afternoon at 4 O'clock in the second scrap at Legion Memorial Stadium.

Chrisco was backed with an eleven-hit attack that was led by Bobby Greene, Jess Van Winkle, and Virgil Bivens as the Sports moved a little nearer toward clinching the Cotton States League pennant.

Greene collected three hits in five times at bat and batted in three runs. Bivens connected for a single and a triple, and Van Winkle got a double and a single.

Singles by Erv Rabka and Steve Korfonta beat Chrisco out of a possible no-hitter. He has hurled a goose-egg game at the Spas back on May 10. Last night Chrisco accounted for the first six outs in the game by the strikeout route, but he was able to whiff only three more for the remaining distance.

John Toomey absorbed the loss for the Bathers, working in six innings in which he allowed all runs and ten hits. Manager Rex Carr, hurling the seventh and eighth for the Bathers, had little trouble subduing the Sports. Six of the runs off Toomey were unearned.

The Sports teed off early for one run in the first inning when Carl Tucker doubled and came home on a single by Bobby Greene. They added four unearned runs in the second. With one out, Virgil Bivens singled and advanced on a Chrisco sacrifice. Tucker was safe on an overthrow at first by Kortz that permitted Bivens to score. Jess Van Winkle doubled Tucker home. A single by Bob Hamric scored Van Winkle. Johnny Jones walked, and Green punched a single into right field, scoring Hamric. George Andrews, ninth batter up in the frame, popped out to Joe Mattis at first base for the third out.

Monroe made it 7-0 with two runs in the fourth Hamric was safe on Kortz's low throw to first. Jones walked. Greene singled Hamric home, sending Jones to third. A balk called on Toomey enabled Jones to score.

Two more tallies were counted by the Sports in the sixth. Jones led with a single. Then after two were out, Jakes and Bivens walked, loading the bases. A single by Chrisco scored Jones and Jakes.

Sportspurts: one of the most unusual and emotional situations in baseball occured on Wednesday night following Monroe's 5-2 victory over Hot Springs there. As the crowd was preparing to file out of Jaycee Park, the public address announcer reminded the fans that this was Monroe's last appearance in the Spa this year and since he was such a "fine manager and gentleman" how about a hand for Monroe Skipper Al Mazur. Wave after wave of applause poured through the park as the fans gave Mazur an ovation, quite unusual for a visiting pilot... J. I. Roberts, Monroe vice president, was an interested on-looker at the Bather - Sport series and entertained the players after the first game with a steak dinner at a Hot Springs restaurant. ...When the Sports nabbed the finale of the Pine Bluff series, it was the Judges fifth loss in their previous 23 games. Bob Richards has had his charges fired up and coming roaring down the stretch. ...The split of the two games there gave the Mazurmen six out of ten games played in Taylor Field this year and they split ten games in Hot Springs ...With only six games remaining away from Legion Stadium the league leaders have played .563 ball on the road, having won 36 and dropped 28. However, two of their remaining ports of call, ElDorado and Natchez have proved the toughest, since they've lost six out of eight games in the south Arkansas city and five of eight in Natchez . . .A.B. Cross, 1950 Sport center fielder and present - day Oklahoma City shortstop, became the proud father of a baby girl last Sunday. The child was born in Newton, Tex., and Cross sent word to his Monroe friends of the blessed event ... Billy Muffett definitely refers to the Judges as "cousins." He's faced them seven times this year, has won all seven and never been relieved in any one of them. In that stretch, he's allowed them only 19 runs, of which all, but one, were earned and only 35 hits, an average of five per game in 60 innings of pitching. He's got a 2.70 earned run average against the Judges.

Eagles Win 24-9 Over Stealer 11

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles came from behind to take a 24 to 9 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in a national football league exhibition game tonight before 18,526 at Hershey Stadium.

Trailing 7-9 at the start of the second half, the Eagles stormed 89 yards for a touchdown.

Frank Ziegler's 23 and nine yard runs and a 30 yard pass from quarterback Adrian Burk to Bob Walston highlighted the march. Steve Van Buren went over to score and kicked the extra point.

The Eagles added a field goal and another touchdown in the fourth period.

The Steelers got off to a 9-0 lead in the opening period. Burk was trapped and chased behind his goal where Steeler Guard George Nicksick knocked him down for a safety. An interference with an attempted pass cost the Eagles 45 yards and a Lynn Chandnois pass to Val Jansante resulted in the Steelers' touchdown. Joe Geri converted.

Travs Only Team Showing Increase In Attendance

New Orleans, Aug. 18. —(AP)— Southern Association President Charles Hurth said today the class AA League's attendance through Aug. 13, showed a drop of 217,745 compared with the same period last year.

Hurth pointed out the Aug. 13 attendance position was an improvement over earlier checks. A 26 per cent drop was noted in May. Now the loss is about 14.5 per cent.

League leading Little Rock showed the only increase. Thus far the Travelers have gained 197,804 patrons over last year.

Atlanta was the biggest loser. Its attendance showed a 91,183 drop.

Harrell In Non-Title Scramble With Wright Tuesday

MEEKER BILLED TO BATTLE LAYE IN SEMI-WINDUP

Newcomer To Southern Circuit Hopes For Title Bout At Later Date

Henry Harrell, fresh from the first successful defense of his recently won world's light heavyweight mat title, has a new challenger in Rube Wright, light - heavy kingpin of the middle western states, but so far Rube is just dreaming of a title shot.

But Harrell will meet Wright in a non-title main event show at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night as the mid-westerner makes his debut at Kallio's Walnut street arena.

Charlie Laye, Harrell's victim in last week's title scramble here, will be back in a supporting role for the Tuesday program, meeting Roland Meeker, Shreveport, in the semi-final attraction.

Wright, in making his invasion of the southern circuit, informed Promoter Kallio he's after the world's title.

"I'm in no hurry," Wright declared. "I'll stick around and meet anything you've got to offer but nothing short of a complete runaround by the champion can keep me from the world's championship. In the meantime I'll wrestle anybody you can line up. I just want you to tell your fans that Harrell is going to have a tough time holding what he's got."

Harrell in giving Wright his early trial, will battle the sectional champ over the usual main event 90-minute time limit route, two falls to win.

Meeker, who has won handily his three matches here since returning from a long visit in eastern arenas, will be meeting a formidable foe in Laye. They'll battle over an hour time limit distance, also two falls to win, with their curtain-raser going on at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday.

Bill Barney, West Monroe, will referee both matches.

MONROE STOCK CARS RUN TODAY

Three Locals In Shreveport Meet; Scogin's Midget Will Race

Shreveport, La, Aug. 18—(Special) — Claude Crenshaw, Hurb Johns, and Cecil "Lucky" Hill will form the Monroe triumvrate in Sunday's stock car racing program at the Fair Grounds track here.

The Monrovians will again be pitted against the cream of the southwest's stock car daredevils. Over 22 drivers will see action in the eight-event program.

For the first time this year, Promoter Fred J. Wright will present not only the regular stock cars in his production, but also midget race cars and the increasingly popular "jalopies".

The first event on the thrill - packed Sunday afternoon program will be a special challenge handicap race between Bob Allison, nationally recognized midget car racer, and the three fastest stock cars on the track, according to the day's time trials. The midget is owned by Otto Scogin, Monroe.

Allison issued the challenge to the stock speedsters, and offered them a half-lap handicap.

Following the special event, the regulation slate of races will get underway with the regular stock cars alternating ten and 15 lap races with the jalopies.

The final race will be a 35-lap affair that will be open all cars competing in the earlier races, stocks, midgets and "jalopies".

Time trials for the big program of speedway thrills are set to get underway at 1 p.m. with the first race scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

The boxing will be part of the Mid-Winter Sports Carnival which will be climaxed by the Sugar Bowl football game.

BASS IN COMMAND AT WM. AND MARY

Line Coach Becomes Head Mentor; No Report On Investigation Findings

Richmond, Va., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The College of William and Mary late today elevated Marvin Bass to the position of head football coach and admitted that the school's athletic had "not been within the intended limitations" in recent years.

The appointment of Bass, 31-year-old line mentor, for a two-year term came at the conclusion of a two-day investigation by the board of visitors of alleged "irregularities" in the college's athletic department. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Bass succeeds R. N. (Rube) McCray, who resigned August 10 along with basketball mentor Barney Wilson as college officials probed reports of tampering with high school transcripts to enable athletes to enter the college. It also was alleged that athletes were given grades in physical education classes they did not attend.

Oscar L. Sehwmake, rector of the board, said after the day-long meeting that the board had completed hearing testimony. To virtually every question asked by reporters, however, Shewmake merely replied, "No comment."

Shewmake said the board would reconvene September 8 at 10 a.m. (CST) to reach its conclusions and make public its findings.

AMERICAN DERBY TO HALL OF FAME

Greentree 3-Year-Old Beats Out Abbe Sting In $79,525 Event

Chicago, Aug. 18. —(AP)— The Greentree stable's Hall of Fame today charged to a three quarters of a length victory in the $79,525 American Derby at Washington Park to become the leading money winning three year old of the year.

The Eastern Invader, ridden by Jockey Ted Atkinson, was never worse than third. Abbe Sting, at odds of 9 to 1, finished second, with Bernwood third and Ruhe fourth in a field of eight. Hall of Fame, carrying 122 pounds, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:01 1-5.

Hall of Fame became the fifth three-year-old to win both the Arlington Classic and the American Derby. Mate accomplished this double victory in 1931, Gusto in 1932, Cavalcade in 1934 and the Calumet farm's Ponder in 1949.

Hall of Fame's victory was worth $62,200 to Mrs. Charles Shipman Payne and her brother, John Hay "Jock" Whitney, owners of the Greentree stable. This sum brought Hall of Fame's earnings to $196,005, shoving the bay grey colt ahead of Battlefield, whose total is $149,300, including today's victory share in the Travers Stake at Saratoga.

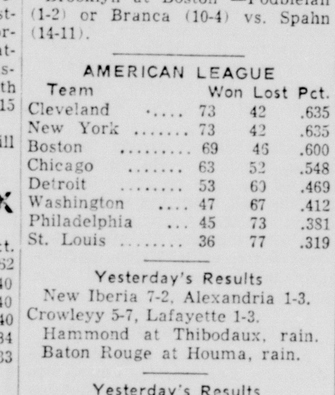
The crowd of 26,563 sent Hall of Fame to the post at odds of 7-5, with Rough 'N Tumble, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby second choice.

Hall of Fame returned $4.80, $3.60 and $2.80. Abbe Sting paid $6.80 to place and $4.20 to show, while Bernwood paid $3.60 to show.

Hal Price Headley's Lithe, 5-year-old daughter of Pharamond II, equaled the track record of 1:21 2-5 for seven furlongs in winning the 10th running of the $22,675 Clang Handicap, supporting attraction for the American Derby.

Lithe, which had Logan Batcheller up and Headley's pacesetting Pinebloom as a running mate, defeated Hasty House farm's Seaward by two lengths while the other half of the Hasty House entry, Wine List, finished third in a field of 10.

The Headley entry paid $9.80, $5, and $4.40. The Hasty House entry returned $5.60, and $6.80.



FOOT ITCH
ATHLETE'S FOOT

Don't Pay Unless Relieved
Or Get 50¢ Size At Druggist

At least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible, because it is both contagious and infectious, and may go to your hands or even the under arm or crotch of the legs.

DISEASE OFTEN MISUNDERSTOOD

The cause of the disease is not a germ as so many people think, but a vegetable growth that becomes lodged in and immediately beneath the outer tissues of the skin.

To obtain relief the medicine to be used should first gently remove the horny outer layer of skin and then kill the vegetable growth.

This growth is so hard to kill that a test shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to destroy it; however, laboratory tests also show that H. F. will kill it upon contact in 15 seconds.

DOUBLE ACTION NEEDED

Recently H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It gently removes the horny outer layer of the skin, killing the vegetable growth in and immediately under the skin upon contact. Both actions are necessary for prompt relief.

H. F. is a liquid that doesn't stain. You just paint the infected parts nightly before going to bed. Often the terrible itching is relieved at once.

ROE HURLS BUMS TO 5-3 WIN OVER BRAVES

ROBINSON AND GORDON HOMERS FEATURE BATTLE

Dodgers Take Early Lead To Win; Giants Blank Phillies, 2 To 0

Boston Aug. 18.—(AP)—Preacher Roe, skinny Dodger southpaw, gave up only six hits tonight in pitching front running Brooklyn to a 5-3 decision over the Boston Braves. Jackie Robinson poled his 14th homer of the season in the eighth to send the Brooks ahead 3-2 and two runs in the ninth clinched the victory. Sid Gordon banged his 25th homer of the year for the Braves in the second inning.

Gordon's homer was the only hit off the Preacher until the seventh when the Tribe, aided by a pair of errors, scored their second run.

The Dodgers, also helped by an error, went ahead 2-1 in the fourth against young Chet Nichols who was after his eighth victory.

After Andy Pafko popped out, Robbie went to third on a wild pitch. Gil Hodges walked and Roy Campanella lined to Roy Hartsfield.

The Boston second baseman threw to first in an attempt to double Hodges. Earl Torgeson let the ball get away and Robinson scored, Hodges going to third. Billy Cox' infield out scored Hodges.

The Braves tied it 2-2 in the seventh when Sam Jethroe singled to left and continued on to second as Pafko booted the ball.

Roe's pickoff attempt sailed into centerfield and Jethroe wheeled to third whence he scored as Torgeson was thrown out, Hodges to Roe covering first.

Robinson's homer put the Brooks ahead and then the National League leaders put th game out of Boston's reach in the ninth with a pair of runs on singles by Hodges, Campanella and Carl Furillo.

GIANTS BLANK PHILS

Philadelphia, Aug. 18 —(AP)—The second place New York Giants won their eighth straight game—their longest win streak of the season — as Larry Jansen shut out the Philadelphia Phills, 2 to 0, on four hits tonight for his 16th triumph in 25 decisions.

It was the seventh successive loss for Philadelphia.

Jansen bested Phil Ace Roberts in a pitcher's duel. It was Roberts' 10th defeat against 16 victories.

The Giants were unable to close the ninth-game gap between them and the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, however. Brooklyn defeated the Boston Braes, 5 to 3. the Boston Braves, 5 to 3.

CUBS ROUT BUCS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Ransom Jackson's first-inning grand slam home run today sparked the Chicago Cubs to an 11-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Ralph Kiner of the Pirates hit home run No. 33 with the bases empty off hurler Bob Kelly who won his fourth game of the season against one loss. Buc hurler Howie Pollet, chased in the third inning, was charged with his 10th defeat. He's won four.

BERNICE TAKES 1ST

Ruston, La., Aug. 18.—(Special)—The Bernice Lions defeated the Ruston Rebels, 8 to 2, last night in the opening game of the Big Eight League's semi-final playoffs. Minden and Farmerville were meeting in their own series opener tonight.

Lefty Tom Smith was in rare form for Bernice, while Sam Cox also pitched a great game for the Rebs but had his cause hurt by iostly errors.

Copeland was the hitting star of the game with three for five, and some sensational fielding was turned in by Parker, Post, Robinson, and Huey Williamson.

The teams resume play Tuesday night at Ruston with Tinker Hood due to hurl for the Rebs and either Pete Adkins or Henry Albritton working for Bernice.

The second Minden - Farmerville game is set for Monday night at Farmerville with Nick Everett, Farmerville, due to oppose Lynwood Outz or Hennig.

Bayou DeSiard Opens New 18-Hole Course Here Today

MEMBERS TO GET TEST RUN; FORMAL OPENING ON SEPT. 1

Country Layout Measures 6,250 Yards With Par 70 For Distance

The Bayou DeSiard Country Club holds an informal opening of its new 18-hole course today for its membership with a strong turnout of golfers expected to test the expansive layout which stacks up as one of the best in this section of the country.

Although club members will be getting in tria. runs, beginning today, the formal opening of the new course won't come off until Saturday, September 1, at the beginning of the club's third annual Cotton States Invitational Golf Tournament.

The course has been brought to its present excellence by the addition of nine holes to the original course and the expansion was designed by Perry Maxwell, nationally known golf course architect of Tulsa, Okla. Maxwell has designed and built many of the country's best known golf courses and is recognized as one of the leading architects in the business of golf course construction.

The new 18-hole layout measures 6,250 yards and par for the course in 35-35—70. The course is of real championship caliber when played from the long tees, yet it is a good country club test which the average player will enjoy.

Under the new setup, the old nine-hole course will be the back nine, and the new nine holes will be the front side.

A member of the Bayou DeSiard committee last night advised that the opening today is not to be considered as a formal opening, stressing that it is but a testing period during which the membership is asked to play the new links. The Cotton States Invitational will serve as the big blow-off for introduction of the classy course to the public.

Negro Major Leaguers Will Play Here Friday

The Memphis Red Sox and the New Orleans Eagles, deadlocked for second place in the Negro American League race, will appear at Legion Memorial Stadium here Friday night in an official league game.

The Eagles boast one of the circuit's leading hitters in Paul Harvey who is slugging away at a .427 clip.

Squirrel Season Opens October 5

The squirrel season in Louisiana this year will open October 5 and close December 21, according to a statement issued yesterday by Ernest S. Clements, commissioner of the department of Wild Life and Fisheries of Louisiana.

The release by Clements said:

"By authority of Louisiana revised statutes of 1950, title 56, section 6 (Act 127 of 1912, section 2), the season for hunting squirrels and chipmunks in the state of Louisiana opens at daylight, Friday, October 5, 1951, and closes at midnight, Friday, December 21, 1951.

"The daily bag limit shall be eight, and not more than eighty in the aggregate in any one season."

Fair Game Leads Way Home To Win Dade Park Handicap

Dade Park, Ky., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Fair Game, owned by J. J. Starling, Clearwater, Fla., won the $1,500 Dade Park Handicap today, finishing a length in front of Jacoboy. Gainsay was third.

The winner rewarded his backers among the crowd of 15,000 at an even-money price-$4 to win.

Fair Game, ridden by Jockey J. Dodson, carried 118 pounds and covered the mile and 40 yards in 1:41 1-5.

Fair Game paid $2.80 to place and $2.60 to show while Jacoboy returned $3.40 and $3, and Gainsay $5.

Jack Moses Bags An Ace At M'Guire Park Course

Jack Moses scored a hole-in-one while playing the McGuire Park Golf Club's course yesterday afternoon in West Monroe.

Moses got his ace on the No. 15 hole on a 165-yard tee shot with a five iron. He was playing in a foursome that included Hilton Heard, Lay Heard and James Shamblin.

Bastrop, Urania Hosts For First Playoff Games

The championship playoffs in the Northeast Louisiana League begin tomorrow with the Bastrop Barons, league leaders at the close of the schedule, and the second - place LaSalle Producers of Urania as hosts for the semi-final openers.

Rayville's Red Sox will invade Bastrop tomorrow night, while Mangham will be at Urania.

Urania goes to Mangham for their second game Wednesday night, and the second Bastrop-Rayville contest is billed for Thursday night at Rayville. Urania gets the third game of its set Friday night, while next Saturday night Bastrop will be back at home with Rayville.

The semi-finals will go until one team has won three games.

Jaycee Tourney Won By Sanders

Durham, N.C., Aug. 18. —(AP)—Doug Sanders, 18-year-old high school senior from Cedartown, Ga., today chipped and putted his way to the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce National Junior golf title. The 135 - pound Georgian trimmed Don Welch, Whitefish, Mont., 6 and 5, in the 36-hole finals.

Sanders, whose short swing was unable to give him the distance off the tee that Welch had, produced a short game and overall steadiness his western opponent lacked and that was the difference.

Usually playing woods to the green, Sanders made up for his lack of distance by generally putting the ball down the middle and coming up with a fine chip or putt at a vital moment. He missed few short putts, while Welch, particularly in the morning, had little luck on the greens.

BASCOM GETS DECISION

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Westbury Bascom, St. Louis, won a close but unanimous decision over Watson (Tiger) Jones, Los Angeles, last night in the ten-round main event of a boxing show at El Paso Coliseum.

MAXIM, MURPHY MEET FOR TITLE

Light-Heavy Champ In First Defense Of Crown Wednesday night

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Joey Maxim of Cleveland hauls his world light - heavyweight boxing crown out of cold storage at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night against Irish Bob Murphy, the red - haried buzz - saw from San Diego, Calif.

"If he don't run, I'll knock him out," Murphy predicted boldly today as he polished off training at his camp in Greenwood Lake, N. Y.

At Summit, N. J., the champion, down to what he calls his sharpest fighting trim, was a bit less emphatic, declaring: "I think I can beat him — I got to."

The 15 - round battle Maxim's first defense since he knocked out Freddie Mills of England to capture the championship on Jan. 21, 1950, will be telecast and broadcast over the CBS network at 8 p. m. (CST).

The battle pits two fighters of a completely different makeup. Maxim, built more like a heavyweight, is smart and fast but doesn't pack too heavy a punch. Murphy, on the other hand, is of the clubber school — always boring in and always punching.

"He's got to knock me cold to stop me from punching and only three guys have ever knocked me down," the California redhead said. "I've been stopped twice but they were on cuts.

"I only hope he'll stand still long enough to let me get my punches in. If he does it'll be a real fight."

Twenty - nine years old, Murphy started his ring career in the navy in 1940 and ran up a sensational string of amateur knockouts. As a pro, he has been knocked down only three times — By Clarence Henry, Johnny Gardea and Jimmy Coleman.

Jerry Witte, former St. Louis Brown's first baseman, is leading the Texas League in home runs and runs batted in.

Earl Stewart Commands Sioux City Open Tournament At Halwasy Mark

Mangrum One Stroke Behind In Second Place; Riegel Gets Hole-In-One

Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 18. —(AP)—Earl Stewart, Jr., a little fellow from Dallas with a wicked putter, raced into the lead today at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Sioux City Open Golf Tournament with a 133 total.

The 1941 National Intercollegiate champion fired a 66 to go with his first round 67. His torrid pace put him 11 under par for 36 holes on the 6,506-yard Elmwood course.

Stewart's sharp performance put him a stroke in front of veteran Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. Out with a one under par 34, Stewart blistered the back nine with an eagle and three birdies on the first four holes. He had two 20-foot putts and one for 15 during that hot stretch. He had tree trouble on 18 and took a 5 for a 32 second nine, five under par.

Mangrum, top money winner along the P.G.A. circuit shot another 33-34—67 for a one stroke lead over Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans (67-68) and Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., (68-67).

Stewart, Mangrum, Haas, Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., were tied for the first round lead.

Bolt slipped to a 69 for a fifth place tie at 136 with Ralph Lomeli, young Fesno, Calif., pro. Bolt, irritated by missing a short putt on the 18th green, cracked his putter over his knee. His caddy finished the smashing job for him.

Middlecoff, his putter working badly, faded to a 74 and a 141 figure.

Skee Riegel, the former National Amateur champion from Tulsa, Okla., thrilled a large gallery with a hole-in-one on the par 3, 162-yard fourth hole with a seven-iron shot. He finished with a 68 which made him 137 for a four-way tie for seventh.

The leaders:

Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, Tex., 67-66—133.

Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 67-67—134.

Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., 68-67—135.

Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans, 67-68—135.

TRIBE, YANKS CONTINUE NECK-AND-NECK RACE

INDIANS DEFEAT WHITE SOX, 7-0; N.Y. THUMPS A'S

Bob Lemon Beats Pale Hose With 3-Hitter; Raschi Has 4-Hitter

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Bob Lemon hurled his first shutout of the season today—a brilliant three-hitter—and Dale Mitchell accounted for four runs with two booming homers as the Cleveland Indians whipped the Chicago White Sox 7-0 today and kept pace with the New York Yankees atop the American League.

The Tribe bounced back from a double jolt yesterday with a 17-hit barrage off Ken Holcombe, who lasted only 1 one-third innings, and Harry Dorish. The Yankees kept pace with a 5-1 win over Philadelphia.

Mitchell signalled the start of the batting splurge by leading off the first inning with a homer into the right field stands.

He drew groans from the 22,263 Comiskey Park White Sox rooters in the eighth by parking Dorish's first ball among the right field customers again and Hegan and Lemon scored ahead of him.

Mitchell's two blasts boosted his homer total to eight for his best season production since coming to the majors. It was the first time he ever slammed two in one game.

BROWNS RUN WILD

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns scored the most runs in their club's history today to end a 20 to 9 defeat on the Detroit Tigers. They were helped along by five costly Detroit errors plus Hank Arft's three-run homer. The Tigers had five four-baggers themselves. Eleven of the St. Louis runs came in the seventh inning and tied the club's scoring record for a single inning.

YANKS DOWN A'S

New York, Aug. 18. —(AP)— The New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-1, today behind the neat four-hit pitching of Vic Raschi to maintain their lead with the Cleveland Indians for the American League leadership. The Indians kept pace by trouncing the Chicago White Sox, 7-0. Raschi had little trouble in posting his 17th triumph of the season against his 20th in 22 decisions over the A's in his career.

The big righthander yielded the first run of the game in the fourth when Dave Philley's single, a walk to Rookie Lou Limmer's two-out triple. After that, however, Raschi blanked the A's on two singles. Alex Kellner opened for the A's and shut out the Yanks on one hit until the fifth when the Bombers came to life and poured three runs across to take the upper hand.

A collision at home plate in the third inning cost the Athletics the services of Joe Tipton, first stringer catcher, for at least ten days.

His left ankle was severely sprained when Jerry Coleman, Yankee short stop, crashed into him while trying to score. Tipton was removed to Lenox Hill Hospital where X-rays determined that there were no broken bones.

BOSOX WIN SLUGFEST

Washington, Aug. 18. —(AP)— The Boston Red Sox staggered to a 10-9 victory over the Nats tonight in a wild game dealing Washington a seventh straight defeat while remaining four games behind Cleveland and New York, tied for the league lead.

Nine pitchers were used in the struggle, with Ellis Kinder, fourth Boston hurler, stifling a Washington rally in the ninth.

Ted Williams batted across five runs for the Red Sox with a triple, double and long fly. Dom DiMaggio delivered four of Boston's 12 hits. Eddie Yost led Washington's 15-hit attack with a home run, double and single.

DiMaggio also received two of the nine walks yielded by the Nats' pitchers for a perfect night.

Battlefield Cops Historic Travers

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—George D. Widener's Battlefield, rated by many the top three - year - old in the country, gained additional prestige as he captured the 82nd Travers Stakes today before 24,897 — greatest crowd in the history of the track.

The son of War Relic, under the guidance of Eddie Arcaro, reached the finish line at the end of a mile and a quarter of a "good" track with a margin of three-parts of a length to spare over Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Yildiz.

Greentree's unpredictable Big Stretch was third, trailing the runner-up by 4½ lengths, while Putnam Stable's Combat Boots finished three lengths farther away in last place.

Because of the one-sidedness of the race, Battlefield paid $2.40 and $2.20, shortest priced winner of the New York season. Yildiz paid $2.60. There was no show betting.

LITTLE LEAGUERS ARRIVE HOME FROM HOUSTON

Monroe's Little Leaguers arrived home from Houston early last night to be greeted by a large crowd at the Missouri Pacific station. Shown, left to right on a bus that carried them in a parade, are Fred Southerland, Bruce Lee, Jimmy Jordan, Wayne Hendricks, "Spec" Lewis, Jerry Womack, Francis Genusa and H. B. Bennett, Standing, Commissioner Frank Cline, Jack Hesketh, Dubba McKay, T. L. McKeithen, Lannie Johnson, James McKay, Buddy Blair and J. M. McKay. (Staff Photo by Marvin DuBos).

Tired But Happy Little Leaguers Get Big Welcome On Home Arrival

Big Crowd Greets Monroe's Classy Little Team At Train Station

Thirteen tired Little Leaguers, happy to be home again, piled off a Missouri Pacific train last night into the waiting arms of families and friends, and to the sound of martial music from a sound truck provided for the occasion. They were met at the station by a crowd of persons who gave the youngsters a royal welcome home.

A triumphal parade followed the arrival. Led by two policemen on motorcycles, with sirens going full blast, and the blaring music of the sound truck, the bus load of kids came down South Grand street and then DeSiard, followed by proud members of their families.

Shepherding the Little Leaguers home was Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation director and secretary of the Little League, and Coaches James McKay and T. L. McKeithen. The players who came home by rain were Micky Yerger, H. V. Bennett, Francis Genusa, "Spec" Lewis, Fred Southerland, Freddy Dollar, "Dubba" McKay, Ronnie Gallion, Wayne Hendricks, George Smith, Terry Reeves, Jimmy Jordan and Bruce Lee.

Shortstops Pat Hyland, who played in he bi-state tournament and was unable to make the trip because of illness and Lannie Johnson, who broke his ankle just before the final game, were already home when the train pulled in. Johnson, however, was on hand to welcome the other players and take part in the parade.

The Monroe Little Leaguers, after defeating everyone in the bi-state tournament and winning their first game in the Southwest heir firs tgame in the Southwest regionals at Houston, were finally beaten last Friday by the Austin, Tex., entry in the Little League tournament which will go on to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

The four clubs participating in the Southwest Regional tournament were the best from the several district tournaments held throughout the southwest from Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and New Nexico.

The boys were naturally disappointed at being unable to go into the World Series tournament, but were cheerful enough as they stepped off the train and listened to the congratulations of the more than 200 spectators who were there to greet them.

Business men of Monroe donated more than $750 to make the trip to Houston possible, and were well satisfied that the boys acquitted themselves so well.

'Bud' M'Fadin Of Texas Most Valuable All-Star

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Lewis (Bud) McFadin, a hulking guard from the University of Texas, has been chosen as the most valuable player of the All-Stars who lost a 33 - 0 verdict to the Cleveland Browns Friday night.

The results of a poll of newspapermen assigned to the game were announced today. McFadin will receive a silver trophy between the halves of the 1952 game. Charley Justice received a trophy Friday night for his role in the 1950 classic.

PHIL WHITE NEW LASALLE MENTOR

Olla Grid Machine Busy Preparing For Nine-Game Schedule

Olla, La., Aug. 18.—(Special)—Philip White, assistant coach at Oakdale High last year, is the new head football coach at LaSalle High School here, succeeding W. E. Meredith who resigned after one season as Tiger mentor.

White has already moved to Olla and started working with his grid prospect here last Monday morning with 35 boys reporting for the initial drills.

LaSalle has a nine-game schedule with two open dates, but Coach White announced his intentions to fill the open dates if possible.

The LaSalle schedule:

DUNLAP SOARING IN TEXAS BATTING

Shreveport Slugger Ties For Lead With Oklahoma City's Nieman

Dallas, Aug. 18. —(AP)— Grant Dunlap, Shreveport outfielder, has moved into a tie with Bob Nieman of Oklahoma City in the sizzling fight for the Texas League batting championship.

Dunlap added eight points to his average the past week while Nieman was dropping one, so the boys are deadlocked at .319 in latest figures.

Dunlap has the most hits with 137 but Nieman has been to bat fewer times, thus has the same batting average with his 125 hits.

There's still plenty of time and neither may win the championship, since there are seven eligibles for the batting title hitting .500 or above, but at the moment both boast a 10-point bulge over the field. Indications, though, are that whoever wins it, the average will be one of the lowest in the history of the league for a hitting champ.

Other individual leaders remained about the same.

Bob Balcena of San Antonio leads in runs with 87. John Temple of Tulsa, who set the pace in stolen bases with 25, also is the man with the most hits, showing 146.

Frank Kellert of Oklahoma City leads in doubles with 36, Jim Fridley of Dallas and Omer Tolson of San Antonio are tied for the lead in triples with 10 each and Jerry White of Houston tops the circuit in home runs with 33.

Russ Burns of Dallas and Jim Dyck of San Antonio are tied for the lead in runs batted in with 98 apiece.

In pitching it's still Bob Turley of San Antonio, who has a 19-4 record. But he is not the undisputed leader in wins. Al Papai of Houston also has won 19. However, Papai has lost eight games.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell of Houston has taken over the lead in strike - outs with 198.

Cards To Travel Without Marion About One Week

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinal Manager Marty Marion will be out of action about a week with virus pneumonitis and pleurisy, the club announced today.

Marion arrived here last night from Pittsburgh where he stayed in bed for several days. A complete physical checkup was given this morning.

Dr. I. C Middleman, the club's physician, said Marion's fever was down but that the manager would have to remain at home for about a week.

Pitcher George Munger had a cyst removed from the left side of his back yesterday.

Dr. Middleman said Munger would be able to rejoin the club in three or four days. Munger also left the Redbirds in Pittsburgh.

Pine Bluff's Boiko Maintains Pace As Cotton States' Top Batter

By J. P. Friend

Blytheville, Ark., August 18.—(Special)— Fred Boiko's latest hitting streak was snapped by young Ernie Simmons, Clarksdale sensation, August 13, but the Pine Bluff center fielder held on to his Cotton States League batting lead with a mark of .354.

The Judge star slipped into the lead with a perfect 4-4, August 7, and solified it with a dozen more safeties in the following eight games. The week's 16 - hit production gave him 163 for the season, enabling him to add that department to his other leads, runs, 110, and the swat title. Friend News Service records give him 460 times at bat in 124 games for his sensational record, the week ending August 14.

The runner - up post also has a new occupant since the records were last released. He is Bill Jones, Natchez first baseman. "Blastin' Bill" collected 17 hits in 29 tries during the last 10 games that netted 19 points and soared his mark to .351, six points ahead of teammate Jim Gilbert, who skidded to a respectable .345, a loss of five. Gilbert's card for the week shows only 10 out of 34 tries. Jones also took over in runs batted in with 95, a gain of nine, as well as total bases, 235, showing 26 helped by six doubles and a homer.

In fourth positions another Indian, George Ruzina, with .340 a drop of three points. George lost his hit lead to Boiko, despite a dozen safeties. He has 160 to his credit. Pel Austin, Hot Springs trails in No 5 slot with .337, four points ahead of Monroe's Bobby Greene who has .333. Bill (Fibber) McGhee, El Dorado skipper, comes next with .339, followed by Carl Tumlinson, Greenwood, .315; John Paul Jones, Monroe, .304; Ben (Rosey) Cantrell, Pine Bluff, 304; Glenn Trugillo, Greenwood, and Bob Richards, Pine Bluff boss with .300.

Billy Muffett, Monroe added two victories during the week and is just one away from the coveted 20 - game circle with 19-8.(Muffett made it No. 20 Friday night at Pine Bluff). Vachel Perkins, Pine Bluff, picked up a couple and has 18-9. Bill Black, Pine Bluff, has 17 triumphs and 10 losses, while Jerry Gardner, El Dorado has 16-9, and Don Ferguson, Natchez, 16-11. Fifteen - game winners are Claude White, Monroe, and Ira Moxley, Greenwood, each with identical 15-8 records.

J-H Bengals Face Ten-Game Slate

Jonesboro, La., Aug. 18.—(Special)—The Jonesboro-Hodge High School Tigers today completed their first week of training for the fall football campaign with Coach Jack Jaggers, not too pleased with his offensive setup, seeking to strengthen his blocking and ball handling department. Defensive work is looking fairly impressive.

The Bengals will be facing a ten-game schedule this year, five games at home and an equal number on the road. They'll usher in the football season for this section September 1 against the Natchitoches High Red Devils at Natchitoches.

The Jonesboro-Hodge slate:
Sept. 1—Natchitoches, there.
Sept. 7—Oak Grove, here.
Sept. 14—Springhill, here.
Sept. 21—Minden, here.
Sept. 28—Bastrop, there.

"Although the sum of $600 has not been found, it is alleged that Miller may have secured a hiding place for it," asserted Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Sheriff Grant further pointed out that his deputies had conducted a search of Miller's quarters.

nation of anyone," Colonel Barrett said in Taipeh when he learned of the Red charges.

In Washington, the state department strongly supported him, saying such false Red allegations "are designed to contribute to the current and virulent 'hate America' campaign being conducted by the Peiping regime."

This was the view also taken in Taipeh and Hong Kong.

"Frameup" was the uniform reaction from Taipeh, stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

Hong Kong observers said the deaths of Riva and Yamaguichi were the first known executions of foreigners in the Reds' continuing domestic blood purge. They expressed belief that this merging of the home-front purge and the anti-foreigner campaign foretokened further executions of non-Chinese.

Besides the two men executed, the Red radio listed a life sentence for Monsignor Tarciscio Martina, 64, bishop of Yihhsien diocese in Hopeh province.

Others sentenced were named as: Henri Vetch, 52, French bookstore operator, ten years; Quirino Victor Gerli, 56, an Italian formerly in the Chinese maritime customs service, six years; Walter toms service ,six years ; alter Genthner, 39, a German trader, five years; Abd Ma Hsin-Ching, Chinese businessman, nine years.

COL. COMPTON

recieved telegraphic confirmation of official takeoff times at the Muroc base.

It was almost a dead heat for second between Col. Emmett (Ed) Davis, 32, of Compton, Calif., and Major Gilbert A. Pederson, 31, of Arcadia, Calif.

Both flew F-86 thunderjets, combination fighter - bombers which made the long flight non-stop.

Eight planes were in the race—pitting jet bombers against fighters for the first time—but one of them landed at nearby Selfridge air force base because it was running dangerously low on fuel and didn't figure in the order of finish.

Col. Davis' unofficial elapsed time was 3 hours, 33 minutes and 47.6 seconds. Major Pederson's was 3:34:32:4.

Following on the basis of elapsed time were:

Lt. Col. George B. Thabault, 36, of Wincoski, Vt., in 3:35:11.2; Capt. Bernard A. Watts, of Langley air base, Va., 3:39:33; Capt. Edward R. Johnson, 29, Reynolds, Ill., 3:43:35, and Major Leo M. Dykes, Jr., 30, St. Petersburg, Fla., 3:46:04.

It was Capt. Thomas V. Gibson, 35, of Glendale, Calif., who landed at Selfridge.

Col. Compton said he had only a one minute supply of fuel when he touched down.

"You didn't see me circle the field before I landed," the smiling flier told reporters as he stepped from his sleek fighter.

Compton said he flew at up to 45,000 feet, but began to cut his altitude after he passed over Chicago. This, he said, enabled him to complete the remaining 200 miles or so at the speed of sound—756 MPH at sea level.

He made about four minute refueling stops at Denver and Omaha.

in the general area of the 38th parallel. The space between the two lines then would become the buffer zone.)

Muffled words and occasional laughter drifting through the hot, muggy air from the Kaesong conference room indicated that the four-man armistice subcommittee had met again in a spirit of friendly informality.

There was no official report on the second session of the buffer zone delegates, whose deliberations are closely guarded secrets. The meeting lasted three hours and 28 minutes.

A third session was scheduled for 11 a. m., today (8 p. m., EST Saturday)—again at Kaesong, 15 miles northwest of this UN base camp.

In Munsan, the UM. command released a statement re-defining the Allied position on a buffer zone. It was a summary of points raised by Vice-Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief of the main five-member UN armistice delegation, at one of the fulldress truce talks.

Joy firmly rejected the Red demand for a military dividing line along parallel 38—the old political boundary—and added:

"International law specifically defines an armistice as a temporary suspension of hostilities, and just as specifically points out that hostilities may be resumed by either side if proper prior notification is given.

"Thus it can be seen that it would definitely be perhaps disastrous, for either commander to expose his forces along a political demarcation line rather than to place them in a sound militarily defensible position where they can protect themselves in the unfortunate event hostilities should be resumed."

Joy demanded a cease - fire "based on military realities"—along the present battlefront. Most of the frontline is in North Korea.

The Peiping radio quoted North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung as warning:

"If the American aggressors venture to break up the armistice talks at Kaesong and extend the war, they will not only be annihilated on the ground but will also be dealt heavy blows in the air."

The broadcast — official voice of Red China —said Kim made the threat in a speech at Pyongyang, the Korean Communist capital, last Wednesday — sixth anniversary of the liberation of Korea from Japan.

It said Kim "expressed thanks to Generalissimo Stalin, liberator of Korean people, as well as to the Soviet army and people."

The broadcast said the Soviet ambassador (not named) spoke on "intimate friendship between the Korean and Soviet peoples, and the consistent stand of the Soviet Union in opposition to foreign intervention in Korea and in favor of a peaceful settlement of the Korean war."

Ni Chih-Liang, Chinese Red ambassador to Korea, was quoted as declaring the Chinese and Korean Reds "fighting shoulder to shoulder have proved that American imperialists can certainly be defeated completely."

HOSPITAL

foreseen shortage of material or government priority might force completion to a longer period of time.

As for a site to build on, that has not yet been determined. The hospital board president recently said the city owned a piece of property near the new West Monroe High School which he considers ideal. He said the property was prominently situated where access to public utilities—sewer, water and electric power— would be convenient.

The plot is about one block's distance from the new school and is large enough to expand the hospital building in the future, Judge Heard said. He indicated that more ardent negotiations for the plot may be initiated if the bond issue was approved.

W. C. "Bill" Feazel, prominent oil man who resides in West Monroe, Friday confirmed reports that he would donate $5,000 toward the new hospital. Feazel said his donation would possibly be used to help purchase a site or equip some portion of the institution.

Informed of Mr. Feazel's offer, members of the board expressed gratitude for his generosity.

The $650,000 bonded indebtedness for the hospital project will not be repaid in the form of city taxes as would West Monroe's water, street and fire department programs. Because the hospital bonds would finance a ward five project, they would be repaid by property owners through additional state taxes, from which home owners are exempt unless thier assessment exceeds $2,000. The state will pay their increased millage under the homestead exemption law.

Industrial and rental property does not come under the benefits of the homestead exemption law. Just homes.

As we have pointed out in previous articles of this series, 98 per cent of the property owners of West Monroe have an assessment of less than $2,000. The percentage probably runs higher in that portion of ward five outside the city limits. In short, the hospital bonds will be repaid by people with assessments that exceed $2,000 and the state. People with home assessments below $2,000 will pay nothing to retire the hospital bonds.

If approved, the bonds would increase state tax millage by approximately three mills.

For further clarification of how much (if any) additional tax will be added to individual taxes if the hospital bonds are approved, we offer two examples:

1. A home owner whose assessment is less than $2,000—He pays nothing. Millage will be increased but the state pays the increase through virtue of homestead exemption (as explained above).

2. A property owner whose assessment is $3,000—To begin with, the first $2,000 of his assessment on his home is exempted under homestead exemption. However, he must pay an additional 3 mill tax on the remaining $1,000 which will amount to $3 annually for 20 years. When the bonds are retired 20 years from the date of issue, a property owner with a $3,000 assessment will have paid a total of approximately $60.

Note: To find how much the hospital bonds will increase his taxes a property owner may subtract $2 000 from his total assessment and multiply by difference by .003. That will give him an approximate.

Tomorrow's News-Star will publish a report on proposals of the drainage program which will be brought to a bond issue vote on September 18.

Iranian "neurosis"—fear of British influence in the country if Britons remain even as oil field managers under Iranian supervision.

Although the Iranian team strongly criticized several points of his plan, Stokes said, they did not reject it outright in the informal, unrecorded discussion.

Stokes said he had made minor changes in his offer, but none in principle.

Saying that he was "always optimistic," he told reporters "I hope the talks will be concluded next week," and added:

"I am not a great believer in bargaining. I believe in putting your best offer forward and sticking to it."

The details of the Iranian counter-proposals were not disclosed. Both sides agreed to hold up the release until tomorrow.

Stokes said he himself had not yet read it, as it was handed to him in the Iranian language.

Meanwhile the senate, after considering the terms for a year, voted 25 to one today to accept a $25,000,000 United States export-import bank loan to buy agricultural machinery and highway building equipment. Mossadegh originally was against the loan, but switched his views because of a financial stringency arising from the shutdown on oil revenues. The senate also approved an internal bond issue of $62,000,000.

artillery barrage. It was the first notable push into the Red buildup area of the former "Iron Triangle" since the Kaesong truce talks began nearly six weeks ago.

There was no word early Sunday on progress of the drive.

The air force reported the Communists sent 54 Russian - type Mig-15 jets into the two air battles. Fifty - seven F-86 Sabre jets of the U. S. fifth air force met them.

One swept-wing Red jet was damaged in the first swirling battle which was joined when 30 Migs, gaining altitude behind the safety of the Yalu, jumped 29 Sabre jets south of the river.

Later in the afternoon 24 Migs challenged 28 Sabre jets in a ten-minute battle. It ranged from an altitude of 15,000 to 35,000 feet.

These were evidently the largest jet air battles, in the number of planes involved, since July 21 when 15 U. S. marine Panther jets met 18 Migs. No losses were reported in that scrap. A smaller action was reported July 29.

Nine Migs were reported shot down within four days earlier in July, but the number of planes involved was not reported.
scored by 1st Lt. Charles F. Loyd of Merion, Ky., who reported the Mig fled back across the Yalu in flames.

JES' RAMBLIN'

and from an humble beginning he advanced until now he ranks as president and managing director of Hotel Lexington. When he came back for a visit here about ten years ago he was given a reception in a local hotel and many were pleased to renew his acquaintance.

Judging from the sample of summer weather that we received it is probable that gas from the south will be needed when it is turned on for the first time this winter. The Northeastern Gas Transmission Company announces that delivery of natural gas to Massachusetts and Connecticut is only a matter of weeks now. This will be the first natural gas ever made available in the New England states.

When visitors return from New York they are ever inclined to discuss what they saw in this mecca for American tourists. Of course it is an old story, but it is ever new.

Perhaps the most dazzling sight in all New York is Times Square at night, and natives as well as tourists take delight in the spectacle. One of the newest of the city's shows of wattage and voltage is north of Times Square, atop the striking new Mutual Life Building, Broadway near 55th street. Visitors may like to know the meaning of the flashing lights. The time signal is self - explanatory. As for the star crowning the building, when it is a steady green, tomorrow will be fair. When it is orange, rain is predicted. White means snow. When the orange lights on the mast go up, warm weather is predicted. Descending lights mean descending temperature.

One of the Manhattan sights on the agenda of many tourists is Greenwich Village, so called "Bohemia" right in New York. The Village has its own picturesqueness, its interesting shops, artists' studios, and churches built in the long ago. But to the casual visitor, Greenwich Village may be disappointing. The bulk of its population is prosperous, ambitious young business people and Irish and Italian immigrants.

In the Village are the Whitney Museum of Art, gaslit MacDougal alley, New York University, the ultra modern new School for Social Research, Rhinelander Gardens, complete with New Orleans style ironwork, and it will stress for the observer that the Village has retained its character and appeal when all else in Manhattan has gone modern.

Every year the Statue of Liberty and Rockefeller Center outdo all else in the way of places of interest in New York. The appeal of Lady Liberty is obvious enough, as both statue and symbol. Rockefeller Center is something else again; a group of 15 modern buildings in the heart of New York—again a symbol of progress and improvement.

Dear Jes Ramblin':

One of the most outstanding characters that I have ever known, passed on July 29, having lived a full life of 61 years.

Gary Hattaway, dairyman for many years in this vicinity, will be missed by all. One could have never known Gary without loving him. Because he loved people, and enjoyed doing good for them, he could well answer to the name of "delivery boy" or "purchasing agent," as he went his merry way. He was never in a hurry, for he said that life was not made in a day. If he ever had a worry in the world, no one knew it. He smiled and had good cheer for everyone he met. I have known him to have as many as 12 grocery lists, laundry bills, drug bills, etc., for many up and down the highway as he made his stops. He was never too busy to stop and pay light bills, gas bills, and make purchases of various kinds for everyone. He delivered produce for the less fortunate farmers of Calhoun vicinity who had no means of transportation disposing of the goods, and never taking one cent of pay in return for this kindness.

Beside dairying, growing flowers was his hobby. As a lover of flowers, he said you could see God's handywork in a flower, and that man was like a flower, bloomed and admired and then withered away, with just a loving memory. I think this best described the life of Gary Hattaway.

Always ready to lend a helping hand in any calling, I have known of families that were furnished milk for as many as two years, when their financial condition made it impossible to buy milk for their children, but that did not stop him from leaving this milk. No bills were made of these deliveries, and no statements ever sent, just out of the goodness of his heart the babies were furnished milk.

Certainly he lived well and nobly in an important sphere of life. Many will miss his kindly smile and eagerness to serve.

A long time friend.

top penalty. Italy abolished capital punishment for ordinary crimes in 1944 and for political crimes in 1948.

Both Icardi and Lodolce have denied charges of the U. S. defense department that they got rid of Holohan, their leader on an O. S. S. arms - dropping mission in partisan territory of north Italy behind the German lines, with the help of two Italian partisans.

Holohan was poisoned, shot and dumped into the icy waters of Lake Orta. The department said Lodolce fired the fatal shots in a plot motivated, in part at least, by Holohan's reservations about arming Communist bands among the guerrilla fighters.

Both military and civil courts of the United States lack jurisdiction because of legal quirks: (1) Icardi and Lodolce have been discharged honorably from military service (2) the killing occurred on foreign soil.

But the United States seems to be leaving the way open for Italy if she wishes to bring them to trial, as she is doing with the two Italians. Former partisans Guiseppe Mannini and Gualtiero Tozzini will go on trial soon for murder. Police say they confessed and implicated the Americans. They have been in jail nearly a year.

HURRICANE LASHES

ami stated, "inevitably means floods in the mountain valleys outside of Kingston."

"It is impossible to have so torrential a rain without floods in a mountainous country," storm forecasters here said.

Casualty and damage reports at present are confined to Kingston. The old city of Port Royal, onetime pirate's lair at the entrance to Kingston's harbor, was wiped out. It was partly destroyed in earthquakes in 1692 and again in 1907.

The storm's center passed just south of the city. The tearing winds whirling near the center swept the city with blasts of 115-miles an hour or more, the Kingston weather bureau reported to Miami storm warning headquarters.

"Weather office wrecked, all communications dislocated," said the report. It added that 17 inches of rain fell, and the barometric pressure dropped to 28.74 inches.

The storm swirled past the Cayman Islands toward the Gulf of Mexico at a forward speed of 15 miles an hour. Grand Cayman Island, 30 miles north of the hurricane's eye, was hammered by winds of 92 miles an hour.

The British colonial office at London officially reported the death toll and destruction around Kingston. Communications with the rest of the island were ripped down by the raging winds.

An airliner of Avianca, Inc., landed briefly at Kingston's Palisades airport and reported the hangar and other installations flattened.

"City of Kingston also pretty badly banged up," said the pilot, Capt. G. W. Brocksom.

Several ships were reported sunk at Kingston, a city of 120,000 persons.

At 5 p.m., the hurricane was reported centered just south of miles west of Jamaica and 420 miles due south of Key West, Fla. It had slowed its forward pace and was traveling at about 15 miles an hour toward the Yucatan channel between Cuba and Mexico.

Linda Darnell of the movies was on the island, but a mountain range protected her from the worst of the blow. She was on location at Ocho Rios, on the north coast, across the island from Hard- hit Kingston.

"Linda may be windblown and soggy, but she ought to be safe," said Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami weather bureau.

With the actress is her daughter, Lola, 4, and about 23 other motion picture personnel.

Kingston was knocked out of communications with the outside world for 18 hours. As the storm thundered westward, the Cayman islands fell silent. Requests for special weather reports from there were unanswered after 10 a.m.

Western CCA and the north coast of the Yucatan peninsula appeared next on the itinerary for the violent storm.

An emergency alert was sounded in Havana by Pres. Carlos Prio Socarras. The alert was precautionary for the Cuban capital, but it included the threatened western tip of the island.

Once in the Gulf of Mexico—and it appeared certain tonight the storm was bound for the gulf—a huge coastline will lie under the hurricane's threat, stretching from Mexico all the way to Florida.

The first eyewitness account of damage to Kingston, Jamaica's capital city of 120,000, came from Capt. Wilford W. Salter, pilot of a Pan American Airways cargo plane. He circled the city at 2,000 feet beginning at 12:13 p.m. (EST), and reported:

"Extensive damage at Kingston. Waterfront has a great deal of damage.

"Shipping is scattered out in the bay and several ships are overturned. The airport is extensively damaged and airport facilities practically demolished."

Captain Salter was scheduled to land but reported "The runway looks all right but much water and no way to tell if there are holes. No facilities operating at the airport."

He continued on to Barranquilla, Colombia, where he was due at 3:20 p.m. (EST). He carried a general cargo, mostly medical supplies being routinely imported by Colombia.

A Pan American Airways plane, carrying radio equipment for restoring communications, and a group of newsmen, was scheduled to take off from Miami for Kingston at 2 a. m. Sunday morning.

The plane originally was due to leave this afternoon, but the flight was postponed to insure that it would be able to land during daylight hours.

FIRE ALARMS

West Monroe firemen answered a call at 8:03 p.m. at 402 South Riverfront street when a kerosene stove was reported on fire. No damage was reported.

The home, which was owned by Ernest Boyd, Jr., is occupied by Walter Arren.

Youth Killed By Baseball

Athens, La., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A 12-year-old Haynesville youth was killed when struck near the heart by a ball during a baseball game here about four p.m. today.

Drew Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Drew Thomas, Haynesville plumber, died of accidental injuries, according to Dr. E. A. Campbell, Claiborne parish coroner.

Dr. Campbell said that the ball struck young Thomas below the heart.

He died within a few minutes after the accident.

Charlie Drew Thomas is a former football letterman at Centenary College. He won a varsity letter in 1935 and 1936.

Tests In Beekman Show 42 Barrels

Completion of tests on the new Beekman well, 10 miles north of Bastrop, in Morehouse parish and located in section 6, township 22 north, range 6 east, was announced Saturday by Duncan S. Cook, manager of the Monroe conservation office.

Mr. Cook stated tests showed a production of 42 barrels daily on a 12-64" choke. Casing pressure was fixed at 1,372 pounds and tubing pressure at 860 pounds. Production was estimated at 40 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was given as 6900 to 1.

It was decided to put the well into production to see how the water percentage will turn out. Water and oil separate immediately on entering the pool.

CAMPAIGN RAGES AT BOYS STATE

Youths Use Posters, Brass Bands To Support Candidates Up For Office

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Brass bands, poster-toting party members and teenage candidates trying to orate above the din invaded dormitories of boys Pelican state here tonight.

They're winding up a campaign for support in tomorrow's election of state officers.

Political banners of the make-believe nationalist and federalist parties were stretched across halls as the campaign rumbled to its climax on the campus of Louisiana State University.

Pelican state is an annual assembly of outstanding Louisiana youths — 426 this year— rounded up by the American Legion to study the mechanics of politics and government.

The two candidates for governor, both 16 ,are Clyde Fant, Jr., federalist, son of Mayor Clyde Fant of Shreveport, and Bob Martin, Jr., of Welsh, the nationalist candidate. Both have been victorious in local Pelican state elections. Fant earlier in the week was named a city mayor—and received his father's congratulations — a parish party chairman, and a senate floor leader. Young Martin is a parish party chairman, registrar of voters and was nationalist party chairman until he resigned to accept the nomination as governor.

At home, Fant is a Byrd High School student, president of the national forensic league, a vice president of the debate club. Martin, of Welch High School, is president of the junior class, president of the Quill and Scroll society and editor of the school paper.

Both broadcast over station WJBO here today. Fant promised, if elected governor, to surround himself "with capable officials who will place principle and honesty above self."

Martin, in his speech, pointed out Pelican state is important at this time because "the moral fiber and devotion to democratic principles doubtful by some." He expressed appreciation to the legion for the "invaluable experience" at Pelican state.

Other candidates in tomorrow's election are:

Nationalists — lieutenant governor, Pete Harbuck of New Orleans; secretary of state, Phil Fischer of New Orleans; attorney general, Art Haack of Shreveport; superintendent of education, Al Voorhies of New Iberia; agriculture secretary, Manson Saltzman of Gueydan; treasurer, A. J. Scardino of New Orleans; register of state lands, Percy Sharp III of Shreveport and auditor, Clay Faucheux of Luling.

Federalists — lieutenant governor, Ernest Pettaway of Alexandria; secretary of state, James McDade of Shreveport; attorney general, T. C. Williams of Franklin; superintendent of education, B. C. Cade of Abbeville; agriculture secretary, Bill Pesnell of Ruston; treasurer, Ronnie Gomex of Baton Rouge; register of state lands, Harris Henry of Houma, and auditor, Keith Lyons of Sulphur.

Neighbors are people who drop in when you're sick and enjoy telling you how sick they used to be.

Denies Union Was Cause Of Disharmony

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A CIO spokesman denied today that his organization had created disharmony in the United Labor policy committee. He added that it would be "a severe blow" to the nation if the AFL carried out its threat to scuttle the ULPC.

The two big union groups formed the committee last December to provide a measure of unity among organized workers during the national defense emergency. They stood together through a fight with government mobilization agencies last spring, when union leaders walked out temporarily in a bid for a stronger voice in the agencies.

In an editorial in the weekly "CIO News," Editor Henry C. Fleisher, official spokesman for the organization, said today the death of the ULPC "will bring deep regrets in states and cities throughout the country."

It was the CIO's first official comment on the situation since the AFL executive council, meeting in Montreal last week, decided to end the era of cooperation between the two federations. The action of the council, made up of President William Green, Secretary-Treasurer George Meany, and 13 vice presidents, will be submitted to the AFL convention in San Francisco next month, but there wasn't much doubt that whatever the council recommended would be pushed through the convention.

The CIO News said that it would be difficult "to assess the reported decision to scuttle the joint action program of American labor" until the AFL's convention acted. The editorial continued:

"In scores of localities, local labor groups have followed the lead of the ULPC in forging a workable degree of unity on home-state and home-town issues. The spirit of united action has benefited every union and every worker.

"The absence of national leadership of a kind which the ULPC has been able to give during the past nine months, could be a severe blow not only to the welfare of American labor, but to the entire country as it moves through the present difficult period of national emergency and international crisis."

AFL complaints against the CIO, as reported by the daily newspaper, the News said, "seemed to have little foundation in fact."

The News denied that it had resisted the AFL's overtures to merge the organizations outright, saying that the subject had not been mentioned at any ULPC meeting.

The News said preferred positions in the mobilization setup had gone to AFL, rather than CIO leaders, and therefore that criticism was baseless.

Statistics show that a lot of the time a checkered career leads to a striped suit.

Arab Countries Plan Session

Alexandria, Egypt, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Seven Arab countries will confer here next week to map a common policy on three burning Middle East issues. The announcement came tonight from the Arab League's secretary general, Abdel Rahmah Azzam Pasha. The probable date is Aug. 23.

Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Yemen and Jordan will take up these questions:

1—Egyptian restrictions on Suez Canal shipping (which are stopping oil and other traffic for Israel). The question now is before the UN security council in New York. The council is expected to render its decision, before the Arab meeting here, on a western power resolution demanding Egypt lift the canal barriers. Egypt has indicated she will ignore the council action, and other Arab countries are supporting Egypt.

2—British - Egyptian negotiations, now deadlocked, over Egypt's demand for removal of British troops from the canal sides.

3—Arab policy toward a peace conference with Israel, called for September in Paris by the U. N. Palestine Conciliation commission.

Arab League informants said Azzam Pasha will talk Sunday with the Turkish charge d'affaires in Cairo on the Turkish attitude toward the Suez issue. Arab sources here have termed Turkey's position "unfriendly" to the Arab viewpoint. Turkey depends on canal shipping for oil deliveries.

Egyptians Prize Money Turn Down

Folkestone, Eng., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Three Egyptian army officers who starred in the London Daily Mail's channel swim Thursday are spurning $4,200 in prizes from that newspaper. They charge the paper has slandered King Farouk I. They expect greater prizes from the king.

It was at the prize-giving dinner last night that British-Egyptian relations splashed into the picture.

Mareen Hassan Hamad, who won the race from France with a time of 12 hours, 12 minutes, was to receive the equivalent of $2,800. His two teammates, who finished among the first five, were to get smaller amounts.

But their manager, Brig. Gen. Mohammed Sabri Bey, arose in their stead and denounced the Daily Mail, saying it practically devoted two of its pages to the "exclusive purpose of slandering our king."

"No other paper has done more to promote ill-feeling between our two peoples," Sabri said. "My swimmers requested me this evening to say on their behalf—because of language difficulties—they are declining their prize money in protest against the ceaseless attacks on their king."

The managing director of the Daily Mail, Stuart McClean, expressed regret that the Egyptians had raised politics at a purely sporting event and the dinner continued.

The Daily Mail and other London newspapers have given regular reports on Farouk's current honeymoon tour of Europe, especially his gambling activities. But recent issues do not show any large amount of space devoted to Farouk. The Egyptians did not identify passages to which they took exception.

Holdup Man Tries For Money, Kissed Instead

Portland, Ore., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A would-be holdup man surrendered to the motherly kiss planted on his brow by a woman grocery store proprietor last night and fled empty handed.

Mrs. Mabel Brill told police a youth about 21 entered her store, brandished a toy pistol and demanded money. She said she told him "business was not good" and got out the record books to show him a loss of $16 for the month.

Mrs. Brill said she told him to take the few dollars in the cash drawer, but he refused. Then she asked him about his mother and when he made no reply she walked up and kissed him on the forehead.

He fled in a stolen car, found abandoned later.

Thieves in an Ohio town stole 14 hogs from a farm. And we hope the porkers squeal on them.

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record.

The millionth Dynaflow Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation — and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflow* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

ANNOUNCES
CARPET PRICES
EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY
You will be pleased as we are that our everyday prices for broadloom carpeting are now substantially lower than they've been in a long time. It is always the policy of Montgomery Ward to bring price- advantages to our customers as quickly as possible. Now—lower costs to us from the carpet mills result in these immediate reductions on our entire line of wool and wool-blend carpetings. Now you can select that new rug you've been wanting—or decide on smart wall-to-wall carpeting with the satisfaction of spending many dollars less than you'd expected to pay.

Cotton Program Challenge Is Accepted By Gov. Long

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 18.—(Special)—Governor Earl Long and Commissioner of Agriculture W. E. Anderson announced to a group of cotton grower representatives in a meeting at Alexandria today acceptance of the challenge of Governor Fielding Wright and Commissioner of Agriculture Si Corley of Mississippi to have Louisiana cotton producers top Mississippi's percentage of cotton crop going into the cotton loan program.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussing ways and means of orderly marketing this year's huge cotton crop.

Those in attendance at the meeting unanimously agreed that the demand for cotton is still high and that there is no danger of ending the marketing season with an excessive carry - over. The major problem is to prevent the dumping on the market of too large a part of the crop during the harvest season.

Cooperation in informing farmers about the cotton loan program and in making the program work smoothly was pledged by representatives of the following organizations in attendance at the meeting: Louisiana Bankers Association, Louisiana and Mississippi Ginners Association, Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, Production Credit Association and State Federal Agricultural Agencies.

Mr. Malcolm Dougherty, president of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federaiton, said at the meeting he believed cotton farmers should consider placing one out of every two bales in the loan as a means of enabling an orderly flow of this year's huge crop into normal market channels.

Mr. Dougherty also pointed out that the cost of producing this year's crop has been the highest on record.

It was the concensus of opinion of the group that the farmers will profit by the orderly marketing of this agricultural crop.

Estimates of the U. S. department of agriculture indicate that the carry-over of cotton on August 1, 1951 was only two million bales. This is the smallest carry-over in 25 years. Estimate of this year's crop is approximately 17 million bales and the consumption estimate for this marketing year is 16 million bales, making the carry-over on August 1, 1952 approximately 3 million bales. Since 1920 the carry-over has dropped below 3 million bales only 8 times.

Plans were made to (1) speed up the grading and classing of cotton (2) encouraging banks and others to become lending agencies under the program (3) getting additional persons to assist farmers in filling out loan documents and (4) to encourage lending agencies to make advance loans on cotton pending completion of the commodity credit corporation loan.

Fleeing Suspect Shot To Death

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A fleeing suspect was shot to death today by detectives investigating the four-day-old slaying of two young children.

The shooting occurred within a few doors of the home where the two children — James Edward Poole, 4, and his brother, Fred, 3, were fatally beaten in their beds last Wednesday.

The dead man was identified as John Fletcher, a Negro, about 35, police said he had escaped Sept. 9, 1950, from a Maryland mental hospital at Crownsville. Using the name of Walter Connor, he has been employed as caretaker of the Good Samaritan Community Church.

A television set found in the slain man's room behind the church was identified, police said, as one stolen from the Poole home at the time the children were killed. The identification was made by Clarence Poole, father of the victims. Poole is a Negro, his wife a Filipino.

Headquarters detectives said Fletcher was shot by Probationary Detective Carl Rudbeck Jr.

5 Buildings Destroyed In Charlottetown By Fire

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Fire destroyed five buildings in the heart of Charlottetown today, causing damage tentatively estimated at $300,000.

The blaze raged for 2½ hours before firemen and a downpour of rain brought it under control. The fire started when a light bulb exploded, igniting waste in a greasepit behind a garage.

Commander Is Charged In Killing

Amman, Jordan, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The prosecution charged today that Col. Abdullah El Tel, the Arab legion commander who swept the Jews out of old Jerusalem, was the chief conspirator in the July 20 assassination of King Abdullah.

The charge was made at the opening of the trial of ten persons accused of plotting and abetting the assassination of one of the most colorful figures in the middle east at the mosque of Omar in old Jerusalem.

Col. El Tel and Mousa Ahmed El Ayoubi are being tried in absentia. Col. El Tel, who commanded Jordan's forces in the fierce fighting inside Jerusalem in 1948 and became military governor and then civil commissioner in the old city, broke with King Abdullah early last year and fled to Egypt.

Three of the defendants are cousins of Haj El Husseini, bearded former Mufti of Jerusalem who also is in exile in Egypt.

The actual slayer, a 21-year-old Moslem tailor named Mustapha Shukry Ashsho, was shot down by Abdullah's guards. He was said to have been a member of a pro-Mufti terroristic band called the sacred struggle organization.

The eight captive defendants, looking pale and nervous, were brought under heavy guard into a small courtroom at the Antelby military camp, two miles west of Amman. Gen. Abdel Kader El Geundy presided over the special three-man military court.

Police Jail Two Negroes Here

Two Negro men were being held in the Monroe city jail on bond last night after being arrested earlier for fighting and disturbing the peace. One was also charged with drawing and displaying a dangerous weapon.

Police booked Goldman Donaldson, 59, 615½ Mangam's Alley, and Herbert Sulles, 40, 3709 Pippen street, Booker T addition, for fighting at Jim Bennett's place on North Sixth street. Donaldson was also charged with drawing and using a whiskey bottle in the fight.

The two were taken to Charity hospital for emergency treatment before being taken to jail.

Donaldson was placed on a bond of $250 while Sulles' bond was set at $50.

Minden Girl Dies From Injuries

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 18. —(AP)— Little Sammie Nell Jones, nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jones of Minden, La., died early this morning at a local hospital from injuries received in a collision near here last night.

Her father remained in a critical condition, the result of the same crash, while her ten year old sister, Bonnie Lois Jones, was reported to be "doing nicely."

The family group had been returning from McComb, Miss., to their home in Minden, where Mrs. Jones was waiting, when their car skidded into a large furniture van and crashed into a bridge abutment.

Chest and skull injuries, received when he was pinned in the wreckage of the demolished car, have brought Jones close to the point of death, hospital authorities announced this afternoon. He is unaware that his small daughter passed away at 4:30 a. m. from internal injuries.

Funeral services will be held for the young wreck victim at Minden with interment to be in the family cemetery at Magnolia, Ark.

Besides her parents, she is survived by eight sisters.

REDS IN INDIA SPLIT ON ISSUE

Five-Man Politurbo Deadlocked On Big Indian Policy Question

New Delhi, Aug. 18. —(AP)—India's Communist party has split on a big policy question.

Should the party lay down arms in an attempt to soften Prime Minister Nehru's attitude toward it, or continue an underground battle with the help of their new Red Chinese neighbors?

The five-man politurbo is deadlocked on the issue. Usually reliable sources say the proposal for giving up guerrilla tactics and presenting a respectable front is based on hopes of inducing Nehru to:

Relax a ban on the party in three states; release 1,600 Communists jailed without trial in other states.

With general elections scheduled for January, some sections of the party insist the Communists must make peace with the government at any cost to gain full privileges and get on the ballot. This view is pushed by Y. D. Sharma, chairman of the New Delhi election committee of the party and the left-wingers go-between with the central government.

An extremist group demands that members keep up the underground fight and use every weapon, including whatever assistance might be smuggled across the Communist - held Tibetian frontier.

Sharma told a reporter today supporters of the proposal to make peace with the government "feel kindly toward the prime minister as a result of certain parts of his foreign policy—such as his stand that Communist China should be included in the Japanese treaty conference."

"Nehru's reactionary policies in India do not blind us to the fact his foreign policies are sometimes very enlightened," Sharma said.

The rivalry in the politurbo —all five members are now underground — pits two leading antagonists.

S. A. Dange advocates moderate methods. Rajeshwar Rao boosts the "China way" of forming a people's liberation army.

Rao is a South Indian Red leader who masterminded an armed peasant uprising in Hyderabad state in 1948, following India's "police action" against Hyderabad state forces.

The Communists once held great areas of Hyderabad and still are making attacks, despite a lookout by special militia and police units.

Although the party has been making a comeback recently in some areas, the stern attitude of the Nehru government has kept its strength far below the peak membership of 90,000 reported at the last national convention in Calcutta in 1948.

Sharma estimates the present membership is about 60,000.

DOROTHY DIX

Child Of Working Mother Should Give Added Help With Housework

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a daughter who will be 14 in August. I work nine hours a day. The only work she does is breakfast and lunch dishes which she never puts away. She thinks I ask too much of her as her chums don't do any housework. She takes piano lessons which require an hour of practice a day, though she doesn't always do that much. She doesn't even take care of her own personal needs, such as teeth, underwear, etc. I think she is old enough to take care of these things, as well as keep her room tidy. Would you help me iron out this situation?

FRANCES

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Setting down an arbitrary list of duties for a 14-year-old is not easy, but I think the minimum requirements would be to do, and put away, the breakfast and lunch dishes, keep her own room and clothing in order and have dinner started for you in the evening. These things should be done cheerfully, thoroughly and as a matter of routine; she should not have to be reminded of them every morning.

APPEAL TO HER VANITY

As for her personal neglect, an appeal to her vanity should help correct that. I know 11 and 12-year-old girls who do beautiful jobs of hair-setting and manicuring; they know the importance of grooming at even that tender age. Your daughter, too, should have this impressed upon her. If she won't listen to you in these matters, and many daughters do resist advice from their mothers, try getting a friend, relative, or even a favored teacher to talk to her. Of course, the influence of chums who have no home responsibilities is bad, and can only be counteracted with pep talks from you or by the restriction of privileges, such as dates, movies and evenings out with the girls. All children, no matter how sound the family's financial status, should have specific home duties, and the mother who fails to assign them is failing down badly on her job.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a married woman and my husband loves me very much but I am so plain looking all our friends talk about me. When I go out with my husband I come home and cry all night.

MRS. E. C.

ANSWER: There is no need for any woman to consider herself "plain," and you must have a sorry bunch of friends if they criticize you so. I'm afraid you have built up a complex about your looks and just imagine your friends are critical. You must have looked pretty nice to your husband or he never would have married you.

Your first step in improvement is to stop this fretting. That will put lines in your face, and pull down the corners of your mouth in a manner that will most assuredly be unattractive. A friendly smile is the surest antidote to plain looks. Next, go to a good beauty salon. Get a new hairdo, a glamorous make-up and a bright manicure. Above all, practice perfect grooming! That is the one thing that has turned many a Plain Jane into a glamour girl.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am very much in love with a fine young man who has all the qualities I admire. He's in the Navy, and will be meeting all types of girls while in service. We plan to be married in three or four years, when he returns home. Do you think if our love is strong we can wait that long and still have the same feelings about each other?

A. B.

ANSWER: Thousands of servicemen leave their sweethearts for overseas duty and return with, if anything, added devotion. There's no reason to fret over the many things that can happen during your separation. If you truly love each other, you won't change. Of course he'll meet many girls around the world, and you'll meet many boys at home, but your love will remain with each other.

DOROTHY DIX tells how to be popular in leaflet D-13, "The Way to a Boy's Heart." To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper, P. O. Box 98, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

SOCIETY

UPPER RIGHT—Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Jr., whose marriage Friday evening was a brilliant event. The bride is the former Jean Gentry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Ace Gentry, of West Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Fred Huenefeld, Sr.

CENTER—Miss Marva Lee Lafferty, whose engagement to Huey Pierce Gregory is formally announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lafferty, of Columbia. Mr. Gregory's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Gregory, also of Columbia.

LOWER LEFT—Mrs. John Lorenzo Haile, the former Fanny Lou Ferguson, whose marriage was celebrated Saturday at the First Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bryan McClendon, of Calhoun. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Mary Haile, of Jonesboro.

LOWER RIGHT—Miss Olivee Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark, whose marriage to Mr. Johnny Austin Wink, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wink, will be solemnized Sunday, August 26.

Jean Gentry Becomes Bride Of Fred William Huenefeld, Jr.

Reception In Home Of Bride's Parents Follows Brilliant Church Ceremony

In a double-ring ceremony marked by artistry and simplicity, Miss Jean Gentry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Ace Gentry, of West Monroe, was joined in marriage to Fred William Huenefeld, Jr., son of Fred Huenefeld of Millhaven Plantation, and the late Mrs. Huenfeld. The First Baptist Church of West Monroe was the scene of the service which was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of Friday, August 17.

Dr. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Monroe officiated at the ceremony. The wedding, which was of interest throughout this section of the state, was attended by a concourse of relatives and friends.

The bridal couple exchanged nuptial vows before the altar which was decorated with an arch entwined with smilax. Tall standards overflowed with lavender chrysanthemums and huckleberry. Smilax encircled columns and banked the altar. Strands of laurel connected the candelabra in which tall, white tapers burned. Down both aisles white and lavender ribbons were placed on pews ,and lavender flowers tied with white ribbons marked the places within the ribboned section.

Special Music

Mr. Jack Smith, close friend of both families, rendered vocal numbers, "Oh, Perfect Love," and "Oh, Promise Me." During the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer," Miss Betty Ann Kittrell, cousin of the bridegroom, accompanied the soloist and played the processional from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's "Recessional." Preceding the ceremony while the guests assembled, she played favorite songs of the bride.

The candles were lighted by Miss Tommie Sue Eaves and Mr. Donald Huenefeld, cousin of the bridegroom from Gregory, Ark. Miss Eaves was attired in a green ballerina length organdy dress with matching corsage.

Pastel shades were employed in the bridesmaids' frocks, which were of nylon net and lace in ballerina length. The strapless bodices were joined to full skirts and the lace jackets had long fitted sleeves. The attendants wore linen opera pumps in hues corresponding to their dresses.

The bridesmaids carried baskets of miniature mums and huckleberry leaves. The flowers matched the pastel shades of their frocks, and the handles were covered with rainbow ribbon which blended all the pastel tones. Their headpieces were bandeaux of rainbow ribbon and a mum on one side.

Attendants Gowns

Mrs. Warren Dixon Millican of Baton Rouge, the matron of honor, wore orchid. She was distinguished by the deep purple ribbon on her basket of blossoms and her purple headpiece. Miss Sylvia Gentry, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her dress and shoes were of melon color. The other attendants were Miss Ann Armstrong of DeRidder in pale blue; Mrs. Wayne Jones of DeRidder in yellow; Miss Beverly Martin in pink; Miss Jo Ann Ransom in aqua; Miss Dixie Ferguson of Greenville, Miss., in champagne, and Miss Patricia Kerlin of Homer in light green.

The flower girls, Jan and Janelle Gentry, wore dresses of lavender which duplicated the design of the bridesmaids' gowns, and they wore matching shoes. They carried white satin baskets filled with rose petals, which they scattered down the path of the bride.

The Bride's Gown

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in the traditional white satin and lace. The fitted bodice of chantilly lace had long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The sleeves were edged in petit point lace, which also bordered the bodice. A panel of chantilly lace formed the front of the full skirt, which fell into a cathedral-length train. The bride's veil of illusion, borrowed from a close friend, Mrs. Womack LeJeune, cascaded from a fitted cap on which were tube roses. Of special interest was the high neckline on which the bride wore her only piece of jewelry, a cameo, a gift of the groom. For luck she wore in her shoe a sixpence brought from Nassau by Mrs. Wallace Gladney of Baton Rouge.

The bridal bouquet was centered about a chantilly lace fan, a family heirloom. At its base gardenias were artistically arranged with sprays of tuberoses and lilies of the valley while white satin streamers cascaded from the fan.

Serving the bridegroom as his best man was Mr. Herschel Gentry, Jr., brother of the bride. The groomsmen were Mr. Monty Montcalm; Mr. Gene Peoples of Houston; Mr. Herman Taylor of Natchitoches; Mr. Ed Adams of Tallulah; Mr. Graham Hughes; Mr. Joe MacDonald, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Hank Easterling. The bride's cousins, Mr. William Grigsby of Lake Charles and Mr. Wayne Gentry served as ushers.

The bride's mother was lovely in a toast dress of net and lace with which she wore long pink gloves and matching shoes. Her corsage was a purple orchid and she wore deep purple flowers around her hair. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. C. H. Gentry, was becomingly attired in black crepe and a corsage of carnations and tuberoses.

Wedding Reception

Following the ceremony was a reception in the home of the bride. Greeting the guests were Mrs. Courtney Oliver and Mrs. A. D. Tisdale. The guests registered on the front lawn which was lighted by hurricane lamps. Miss Tommie Sue Eaves and Mrs. George Lester presided. The receiving line was formed in the drawing room.

Throughout the house were beautiful flowers attractively arranged by Mrs. John Lewis. The two mantels bore unusually pretty floral designs. Tall standards of lavender mums were placed at vantage points.

The wedding gifts were displayed in artistic arrangements by Mrs. Ben Marshall.

A lavender organdy cloth covered the bride's table and gardenias cascaded down each corner. The central decor was the five-tiered cake embossed in white and lavender. Mrs. Harry Frazer, Jr., and Mrs. Parker Colvin presided. Fruit punch served from a crystal bowl rested on a table overlaid with white cutwork cloth. The bowl was flanked with gardenias and tuberoses. Mrs. Clay Albright and Mrs. Few Easterling assisted in serving.

On the terrace guests were entertained by Mrs. Charles Bennett who played piano selections appropriate to the occasion. Guests also enjoyed conversation on the loggia and patio where Japanese lanterns were suspended from the trees.

Those who assisted in the courtesies were: Mrs. Courtney Oliver, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Parker Colvin, Mrs. George Lester, Mrs. Clark Butler, Mrs. Clark Ransom, Mrs. Bert Gambrell, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, Mrs. Ed Stinson, Miss Vonnette Austin, Miss Marna Hynum, Mrs. Harry Frazer, Jr., Miss Tommie Sue Eaves, Miss Libby Butler, Mrs. Joe MacDonald, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. Haze Gentry, Mrs. Few Easterling, Mrs. Morrison Grigsby of Lake Charles, Mrs. Alvis Gentry, Mrs. Bill McDowell, Miss Carolyn Bagwell, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mrs. Thomas Keller, Mrs. Dan Nevils, Mrs. V. H. Reitzell, Miss Betty Ann Kittrell and Mrs. Fred Bennett.

After the receiving line dispersed the bride and groom drank a toast from a cup tied with white satin ribbons. The bridesmaids and groomsmen joined them in the toast to their happiness.

For their trip through the Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains and to historical places in Virginia and Washington, D. C., the bride changed into a light grey Weathervane suit. Her hat and gloves were of peacock blue, worn with black velvet accessories. She chose to wear the orchid corsage which her mother had worn during the wedding.

Miss Virginia Hower Wed To Joe Shirley Drane In Laurel, Miss. Service

The marriage of Miss Virginia Hower and Mr. Joe Shirley Drane was solemnized on August 1 in Laurel, Miss., in the home of Dr. Roy Kleiser, the officiating clergyman.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Hower of Winnsboro and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. J. W. Drane of Lorman, Miss., and the late Mr. Drane.

Attending the bridal couple were: Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wall, Jr., of West Monroe, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Picnics Offer Variety Of Creative Cookery, Says Mrs. Mildred Swift

There is no limit to the menu possibilities for picnics. Add clever touches to old standbys or add a new distinctive dish to your picnic fare, suggests Mildred Swift, associate demonstration agent.

Prepare as much as possible at home so when you reach your picnic destination you'll have time to relax and enjoy the outdoors, she adds.

Good things to prepare at home that can be mixed or cooked in a jiffy at the picnic are hush puppies ... pancake batter ... biscuit batter — for wrapping round sticks to make sealed wells for yummy fillings. The family can choose their own fillings such as ham salad, jellies, cream cheese and olives, peanut butter and banana or their own favorite sandwich fillings that you've brought along in covered jars.

Before "a picknicking you go," cut hot dogs along the side and fill with cheese, wrap around with bacon, hold together with toothpicks . . .Form hamburgers, brown them slightly and wrap in aluminum foil, you can top them with either a cheese or onion slice. If you are serving corn on the cob — wrap the ear in aluminum foil to which a small amount of water has been added then all you have to do at the picnic is place over the fire and cook in the aluminum foil. (If you can't get foil, wrap in waxed paper — remove paper before cooking at the picnic.) Cold fried chicken is another picnic favorite.

Old standbys for picnics are potato salad garnished with deviled eggs. Baked beans (don't forget the ketchup) ... potato chips ... dill pickles, olives, mustard and relishes of all kinds ... steaks ... cold cuts ... clams . fish ... cookies .. cakes . watermelon .. homemade ice cream.

Keep lemonade, iced tea or milk cool — coffee hot — in thermos bottles ... Keep soft drinks cold in your improvised ice box. Able addition to a back yard barbecue is ... Frosted Coffee Hawaiian, 2 cups strong cold coffee, 1 cup chilled pineapple juice, 1 pint soft coffee ice cream.

Combine above ingredients, beat thoroughly until mixture is smooth and foamy. Pour into tall glasses —yield, four to five servings.

Gray Ladies of the A. R. C. Find Variety of Things To Help Convalescents

Every Monday afternoon finds the Amrican Red Cross Gray Ladies at Mrs. Wilson's Convalescent Home at 201 Pine street. The committee in charge is directed by Mrs. C. D. McAdams, chairman, and Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, co-chairman.

Others on the committee are: Mrs. T. J. Embanato, Mrs. E. Breitfeller, Mrs. William Mintz, Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, Mrs. F. P. Mulhearn, Mrs. John Potts and Mrs. Jack Rogers.

During the hot summer days a cooling beverage is served. The guests having birthdays enjoy a celebration each month with a beautifully decorated cake with "Happy Birthday" on it. The confection is given by Mrs. Thelma Bond. Words cannot describe the happiness which these entertainments bring the guests.

Some of the Gray Ladies' duties are writing letters for those who are too ill to write their own, bringing magazines for the guests to read, visiting and chatting with each one, taking them on rides and to the doctors.

Three of the ladies are making quilts and are quite interested in securing quilt patches. So the Gray Ladies are asking persons who have materials that may be utized in this way to get in touch with them. They will be happy to go for them.

Miss Sue Turner Marries Mr. James R. Burdine

Temple Baptist Church In Ruston Is Setting For Ceremony And Reception

Enlisting the interest of a wide circle of friends in this section of the state was the wedding of Miss Sue Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Turner, of Ruston, and James R. Burdine, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burdine of Minden. The ceremony was performed Friday, August 10 at 6 o'clock in the evening at the Temple Baptist Church in Ruston. Dr. J. C. Murphy, pastor, officiated.

Decorations were entirely in white and green, featuring smilax, white gladioli and feverfew. The beauty of the scene was enhanced by cathedral tapers whose soft glow created a pretty effect.

Ushers Keener Howard of Lake Providence and Douglas Murphy, of Arcadia, showed guests to their seats while Miss Ann Norris played a pre - nuptial organ concert. Miss Norris also accompanied Miss Joyce Tisdale of Wisner who sang, "How I Love Thee" and "Through the Years."

To the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party approached the altar; first the groomsman, then the bridesmaid and maid of honor followed by the lovely bride and her father. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man.

The bride's gown was a sheer summer organdy over white taffeta. The fitted bodice was finished with a softly crushed fold of self material at the neckline, which extended to form the dainty cap sleeves. The full gathered skirt ended in an embroidered scalloped hemline of ballerina length. Her veil of illusion fell from a small calot of linen lace daisies centered with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour with a cascade of satin ribbon looping the flowers.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Jane Stocks of Tallulah who was gowned in pastel green organdy over green taffeta. Miss Mary Jane Farrow of Columbia served as bridesmaid and wore an identical model of lavender organdy over lavender taffeta. Both attendants carried colonial bouquets of rainbow asters and wore matching headdresses.

Pat Daily of Winnsboro served the groom as best man, and W. T. Turner, Jr., of Edgewood, Md., served as groomsman.

Mrs. Turner wore for her daughter's wedding, white organdy over pink taffeta with a shoulder corsage of pink glamellias. Mrs. Burdine was wearing blue linen with a corsage of white glamellias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room where baskets of white gladioli and feverfew were the decorative theme. The bride's table was centered with the bride's bouquet flanked by lighted tapers in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Jacob Pearce served the mint punch and Mrs. Keener Howard of Lake Providence served the wedding cake, which was a lovely double-wedding ring confection centered with pale pink rosebuds and placed on a mirrored plaque based with a starched lace ruff.

Mrs. Howard was assisted by her young daughter, Linda, who was lovely in a floor length model of yellow organdy. Miss Georgia McBride presided at the bride's book which was placed on a small table with the bridesmaid's bouquets at each side. Others assisting in the reception courtesies were Miss Ann Grambling, Miss Ann Barker and Miss Janice Monroe, all wearing pastel summer sheers with aster corsages.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burdine and Mr. Charles Burdine of Minden; Miss Lorice Turner, Miss Joan Turner and Miss Peggy Jones of Linville; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Turner, Miss Pat Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Camp, Miss Betty Jo Camp, West Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Burdine and Miss Janet Burdine of Lisbon; Mrs. B. W. Yeates and Miss Martha Ann Yeates of Homer; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford King, Mer Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Keener Howard, Linda, Penny, Richard and Robbie Howard, Lake Providence; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hill and Miss Ione Hill, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stapleton, New York, N. Y.

Parish Teacher Workshop Ready For 4-Day Program

"Better Living Through Understanding and Guidance" will serve as a directive for the Ouachita Parish Teachers Work conference which is scheduled September 4-7.

The complete program for the workshop has been prepared, announced Mrs. Lewis C. Slater, general chairman.

It is based on subjects and problems submitted by teachers in the parish school system in answer to questionnaires issued in the spring by the steering committee.

Final stages of the progam were pefected by Supt. Mack Avants and Mrs. Chrissie Williams, supervisor, before the plan was submitted to Dr. George Deer of Louisiana State University who will serve as coordinator of the project.

A group of consultants headed by Dr. E. J. Kircher of Ohio State University will assist the various study groups. Consultants have been secured with a view toward reaching each field of work in which teachers may need assistance.

Miss Wilhelmina Hill, social study specialist, of the United States office of education, is expected to make a big contribution to the conference program.

Reading specialists include Miss Helen Rafferty of Silver Burdette Publishers and Miss Johnnie Kell of Ginn and Company.

In the field of fine arts several recognized leaders have been secured for the September meeting. They include Miss Clyde Clark, art consultant from Binney and Smith, and Mrs. Irma S. Willard, state supervisor of art.

H. S. Bankston of the state department of education will emphasize mental health, and Miss Caro Lane, nationally known specialist, will speak on problems of exceptional children.

Miss Dorothy Gordon, assistant professor of education at L. S. U., is to participate in the workshop program. From the state department of education will come Miss Mable Collette, state primary supervisor; Miss Gladys Peck, state supervisor of business education; Thomas Landry, state supervisor of elementary education, and Mrs. H. S. Colvin, state guidance supervisor.

Representatives from three state colleges are scheduled to serve in an advisory capacity at the conference. They comprise: Miss Blanche Trezevant, professor of English, Florida State University; Lewis C. Slater, president of Northeast Louisiana State College; Burton Risinger, dean of business administration, and Dr. P. K. Smith, head of the mathematics department, both of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

Conference meetings are planned to appeal to various sectional groups such as: primary, intermediate, high school and upper elementary and principals.

The program also includes two social features, a tea at the home of President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater anad a barbecue on the banks of Bayou DeSiard at Northeast Louisiana State.

Plans for the four - day meeting were developed by a steering committee. For better organization, principals and teachers are serving as chairmen of special grades, subjects and groups, Mrs. Slater explained.

The steering committee and their special duties comprise: Mrs. Slater, chairman; Mrs. Florence Manning, vice - chairman; Mrs. Helen LeFevre, secretary; Miss Gertrude Gregory, materials; Miss Betty Oxford, publicity; Mrs. Katie Mae Zoll, hospitality; Mrs. L. R. Poindexter, appraisal; F. L. Stricklin, housing; Miss Agnes Shaw, special services. Also on the general committee are Dr. George Deer, Mack Avants and Mrs. Chrissie H. Williams.

Library Book 'Musts'

Titles Offer Good Balance

In building a collection of books for a public library numerous factors must be considered. People expect to find the latest and most popular titles there, and a portion of the library's budget must be spent to fill this demand, according to Miss Frances Flanders, librarian, Ouachita Parish Public Library. The librarian must also keep in mind the necessity of balancing the collection and purchasing the book which adds to a field of knowledge in which the library is weak, she explained.

Sometimes a volume of this type will remain on the shelves for several weeks before it is needed, but eventually it is necessary.

Since the first of January 1,588 titles have been added to the library. There are now 33,006 books in the local library collection. Of this number 20,218 are in Monroe. 5,198 are in West Monroe, 5,569 are in the Bookmobile collection and 2,021 are in the Carver Branch. Although more than half of the collection is housed in the Monroe branch, special requests from the other branches are filled from this source. If the book is not available at one of these places, the request is sent to the Louisiana State Library in Baton Rouge.

"We are very fortunate to have a strong state library at the center of our library system," Miss Flanders asserted. In parishes where there is no library the citizens may write directly to the State Library for books and information. In parishes which have libraries all requests must come through the parish library in order to avoid duplication of effort.

In the first seven months of 1951 the Ouachita Parish Public Library has loaned 153,978 books. Of this total, 412 were borrowed from the state library for the use of local people. The Louisiana State Library only loans adult non-fiction. "Many people do not understand why we cannot borrow fiction from them, but it is not their policy to lend it," Miss Flanders explained.

Another service which the Louisiana State Library gives to the people of Ouachita Parish through its Parish Library is the use of 16mm sound films. The State Library owns 78 films and the local library has a catalog of their holdings. In the first seven months of this year 28 films were borrowed from the State Library for the use of residents of Ouachita Parish. These 28 films were seen by a total of 1381 people. The films are available for home, club or church use, and the collection contains films on travel, industry, other countries and peoples, government and history. One of the nice features of this service is that movies may be booked for months in advance. Several of the clubs that are planning to use films in their programs have films engaged for all of next year.

Many people take advantage of the reference service available over the telephone from any of the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Are you planning to buy any sort of expensive household appliance, such as a refrigerator or washing machine? Your public library has a file of the "Consumer's Research Bulletin" and "Consumer Reports" which give a great deal of valuable information in regard to the best purchase in a particular field. If you want information of any type, call your Parish Library. If it is brief information, you will receive the answer at once. If it involves research, you will be called as soon as the information is located.

Business men are deluged by requests to contribute to all sorts of organizations and activities. If you have any doubt about the nature of such an organization the Libeary has a list of "Subversive organizations and Publications" prepared by the un-American Affairs Committee of the U.S. Congress.

How much do you actually know about Louisiana, its history, geography, etc.? The public library has a good collection of Louisiana material which makes most interesting reading. If you have some spare time, why not become an authority on your own state? Whether you are curious about the old or the new, the practical or the unusual, you are likely to find the information you want by consulting your Ouachita Parish Public Library.

St. Louis Cathedral Is Scene Of deJaive-Gremillion Rites

Reception At Camp Leroy Johnson Officers' Club Follows Wedding Of Louisiana Couple

Historical St. Louis Cathedral of New Orleans was the setting for the marriage of Terry Lynn Gremillion deJaive and Robert Albert Peyroux which was celebrated July 27.

he bride is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Turci de Jaive and the late Louis Rosney Gremillion of Marksville. She is also the niece of Mrs. Thomas Serwich, a former resident of Monroe. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peyroux, Jr., of New Orleans.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Father Robert Gordon Raine, an old friend of the bridegroom's family. He was assisted at mass by the bridegroom's brother, Earl Peyroux.

Given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Mr. Ettore Turci of New Orleans, the bride was exquisite in pale blue nylon tulle over taffeta. The dress featured a portrait neckline culminating in a deep V. It was encircled by four rows of fine knife pleating which continued down the front of the dress over the voluminous skirt. The short, full veil was of matching blue illusion, held in place by a band of flowerlets.

The bridal bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Her rosary had a pectoral cross which had been worn by the late Bishop Blenk of New Orleans and inscribed and given by him to Mrs. Patrick Gordon, an old friend of the family, who loaned it to the bride.

The maid of honor, Miss Freida Sliman, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Judy Roquevert, wore yellow organdy over matching taffeta. The strapless bodice was bordered with three tucks. This effect was repeated in the bouffant skirt. A sash of yellow taffeta encircled the waist, and the jacket was simply made in bolero style with cap sleeves. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Ann Ferguson and Miss Dorothy Iley, wore similarly styled gowns of white organdy over white taffeta, with sashes of yellow taffeta. All four carried yellow roses and stephanotis.

Mr. Emile Evans served the bridegroom as best man. The groomsmen and ushers were Messrs. Joseph Huttner, John Nelson, Albert Guidry, Leo Ward, Thomas G. Serwich and Dr. Allyn F. Munger.

The reception was held after the ceremony at the Officers' Club at Camp LeRoy Johnson. Receiving with the bridal couple was the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John A. Peyroux, who wore ashes of roses lace and chiffon eith toast - colored accessories; the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ettore Turci, in navy blue with navy blue accessories, and the bride's mother, Mrs. Virginia Turci de Jaive, in aqua blue with black velvet accessories.

Mr. And Mrs. Henry P. Preddy Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Host Of Friends Extend Wishes To Honorees In Marshall B. Preddy Home

A three-tiered wedding cake embossed in gold and white and surmounted with the gold figures "50" centered the serving table at the open house held Sunday, August 12, for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gipson Preddy, who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary August 14.

The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall B. Preddy in West Monroe, who shared host honors with another son and daughter-in-law of the honored couple Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Preddy of Shreveport.

The cake was encircled by gilded yellow zinnias and baby chrysanthemums and tall yellow tapers stood on either side. At the base of each candle holder was attached a gold ball centered by a gilded yellow zinnia. The table was overlaid with an ecru cloth. Punch was served from a crystal bowl placed on a side table and surrounded by tiny zinnias, chrysanthemums and fern.

An arrangement of gilded yellow dahlias and fern formed a pretty note on the buffet and large yellow chrysanthemums were employed in decorations in the living room where the honored couple welcomed a large number of friends who called during the evening.

Gold bells hung from the center of the archway between the living and dining rooms.

Mrs. H. G. Preddy wore a brown sheer and a yellow aster corsage. A similar corsage was won by Mrs. Joe Preddy, who was in a green and salmon printed sheer.

Corsages of yellow and lavender asters and chrysanthemums were worn by the tea girls, Miss Shirley Preddy, Miss Kathryn Norwood, Miss Estelle Hoffman and Miss Aquilla Jones, and by Mrs. Paul Cook and Mrs. W. G. Jasper, who also assisted the hostesses.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women... smooths out lines and wrinkles... firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

AUGUST BRIDE

Mrs. Aaron C. Shaw, the former Betty Freeman, daughter of Mrs. Mary Freeman and the late Fred A. Freeman, whose marriage to Sergeant Shaw, of Townsville, S. C., was solemnized August 16 at Barksdale Field Chapel, Shreveport.

Fanny Lou Ferguson Becomes Bride Of John Lorenzo Haile

Couple Exchange Their Wedding Vows Saturday At First Methodist Church

Among the pretty August wedding was that of Fanny Lou Ferguson and John Lorenzo Haile which was solemnized Saturday, August 18, at 4:30 in the afternoon at the First Methodist Church.

Dr. A. M. Serex, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony marked by impressive simplicity.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Wade Bryan McClendon of Calhoun and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs Mary Haile of Jonesboro.

Pink asters were employed in the decorative notes. They overflowed from large floor baskets to give pretty accent to the center and ends of the altar. Candelabra entwined with glistening greenery and holding pink cathedral tapers were placed behind the altar.

Little Ellen Ferguson lighted the candles before the ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Joann McClendon, who was wearing a dusty pink lace gown and matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of pale blue pom pon asters.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Mr. George Allen Haile of Jonesboro. The ushers were Mr. Harold C. Haile, another brother of the groom from Jonesboro, and Mr. William J. Humble of Monroe, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a semi-formal wedding dress of periwinkle blue lace with a petite cape in matching lace and pale pink nylon gloves, elbow length. Her small blue hat and blue shoes completed the ensemble. She carried a white Bible surmounted with small pink amaryllis lilies.

For her going away costume she wore a beige silk faille tailleur with matching accessories. After a short trip to the Ozarks, the couple will be at home in Jonesboro where the bridegroom is principal of the Jonesboro-Hodge Elementary School.

Mrs. Haile is a graduate of Northwestern State College. Mr. Haile received the bachelor's degree from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and the master's degree from Louisiana State University.

Virginia Dale Smith Marries Glen Melvin Haynes Of Lisbon

Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows In Impressive Service At Spearsville

The wedding of Virginia Dale Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith, of Spearsville, and Glenn Melvin Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Haynes, of Lisbon, was solemnized Wednesday, August 18, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The couple exchanged their vows at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barron in Spearsville.

Before the ceremony, Mr. Ben Carroll, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Barron at the piano, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." She also played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bride entered the living room.

The Rev. James E. Mason, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lisbon, read the double-ring service before the mantel which was decorated with an arrangement of white carnations and feather fern. It was flanked by three-branched candelabra holding lighted tapers which added to the effectiveness of the scene. On either side of the mantel stood tall standards filled with white gladioli, and covering the fireplace was a white trellis interwoven with ivy and huckleberry, dotted with white althea blossoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her sister's cameo pendant on a white ribbon. Her bouquet of white tube roses was centered by an orchid, with ribbon looped flowers falling in cascade form.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Helen Ruth Goss of El Dorado, Ark. wore a soft green organza dress over white satin with a white velvet sash. Her hat was white lace straw and she wore a pink carnation on a white velvet band at her throat.

Mr. Donald Keith Haynes served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of navy crepe. Mrs. Haynes, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black and white sheer and both used carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's table, covered with a handsome handmade crocheted cloth, was centered with a crystal bowl of pink rosebuds. At opposite ends of the table were the tiered wedding cake bearing a miniature bride and groom, and the punch bowl encircled with ivy, fern and bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Joe C. Barron and Mrs. Joe Haynes served the confection and punch. Miss Eunice Cole was in charge of the bride's book.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a black and white figured two-piece dress with white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Georgia Pinkston Heads 5th District Legion Auxiliary

Shreveport Department Convention Installs Lake Providence Woman

Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, Lake Providence, was installed as fifth district president of the American Legion Auxiliary at the department convention in Shreveport. Mrs. Lillian Andrews, southern vice-president, was installing officer.

Mrs. Pinkston, member of Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, has been active in auxiliary work for several years. She has served the local unit in the past as sergeant-at-arms, publicity chairman (winning the department trophy for '51), parliamentarian, junior activities chairman, membership chairman, secretary and president. Last year she was department chairman of community service, and in October 1950 attended the National Auxiliary convention in Los Angeles, as delegate from the fifth district.

The new district president has been in the teaching profession for many years, being a high school teacher prior to her appointment as visiting teacher in East Carroll parish three years ago. She is a secretary of the fifth district Visiting Teachers organization and is active in various civic and religious organizations in Lake Providence.

In addition to her responsibility as a wife and mother of two children, Mrs. Pinkston finds time to write a column, "This and That," for the Lake Providence weekly newspaper.

Luncheon For Jean Sproles Given By Mrs. Tisdale, Mrs. Nunnally

A large crystal bowl of tube-roses and pink carnations formed the centerpiece at a luncheon planned in honor of Miss Jean Sproles, a bride-elect of Delhi. The festive affair was held Saturday at Bayou DeSiard Country Club, where Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale and her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Nunnaly, Jr., proved gracious hostesses.

Miss Sproles, the niece of Mrs. Tisdale, is well known to Monroyans. Saturday's event was one of many luncheons and teas given for the bride-elect whose wedding to Dr. Doyle Hamilton of New Orleans will be celebrated August 30 at the First Baptist Church in Delhi.

The luncheon table held added attractions in the form of bridal bouquet place cards and favors for each guest. These were individual china ash trays filled with salted nuts. Compotes containing mints also were placed on the table.

Attending the enjoyable affair were: Miss Sproles, her mother, Mrs H. F. Sproles of Delhi, Mrs. Edwin Myrick and Mrs. A. B. Smith of Rayville, aunts of the honoree, Miss Janet Washburn, Mrs. Amy Lou Smith, Miss Beverly Smith, Miss Zona Mae Morris, Miss Betty Jo Keasler, Mrs. C. B. Cutler and Mrs. Madie McCacharn, all of Delhi.

Delta Delta Delta Entertains 200 Guests At Beautiful Tea

Haydn Cutler Home Proves Perfect Setting For Festive Occasion

The beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Haydn Cutler, symbolic of southern hospitality, was the scene of a tea given Tuesday by the Delta Delta Delta Sorority Alliance for national sorority women of this area and girls who are preparing to enter college this fall.

Good fellowship reigned as members of the organization welcomed about two hundred guests between the hours of four and six o'clock in the afternoon.

It was the first occasion in several years for the Monroe Alliance of the sorority to play hostess to alumni of sororities affiliated with the Panhellenic Council and potential members.

Receiving was Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Jr., who played the hostess role during the absence of Mrs. Cutler who was out of town. She was attractively gowned in deep plum colored chiffon. Also welcoming the guests were Mrs. Paul Ransom, president of Delta Delta Delta Alliance; Mrs. Ray Junod, recommendations chairman for the organization; Miss Martha Roddy, treasurer; Miss Sue Dickard, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert L. Wood, "Trident" correspondent.

Mrs. Ransom was wearing an aqua lace dress, Mrs. Junod was in gray crepe, Miss Roddy chose a sky blue lace strapless dress, Mrs. Wood was in navy trimmed in white, and Miss Sue Dickard wore floral silk. All wore double yellow hibiscus, one of the sorority's colors of silver, gold and blue.

Each Delta Delta Delta guest received a clever identification in the form of a yellow crescent with a silver star in the design of the sorority pin. As they mingled during the festive occasion Mrs. Walter Schubert, who was wearing white crepe with a deep green organdy stole.

Melba Liner, pianist, played lovely background music.

The color theme also was reflected in beautiful floral decorations in the spacious rooms which lent themselves to such a social affair. The mantel in the living room was particularly attractive, with English ivy and tuberoses entertwined among the three tall crystal holders bearing candles. Another artistic design of tuberoses and green calladium served as a table decor, while a smaller table held lilies and greenery.

In the dining room refreshments were served from a long table overlaid with a linen cloth embroidered in Italian cutwork and edged with handmade lace. The centerpiece was striking in beauty and originality. A large silver bowl held fluffy marigold, tuberoses, ageratum and clusters of green grapes. At one end was a silver bowl from which punch containing frozen grapes was served. Silver trays held individual cakes with the Greek sorority letters in blue. Compotes contained mints which developed the color theme.

Alternating in serving punch were Mrs. S. E. Huey, who wore a black lace dress, and Mrs. Scott Hamilton, who chose a brown nylon net over matching taffeta. Assisting in extending dining room courtesies were: Mrs. Harry Lemert, Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, Mrs. Timothy Allen, III, Mrs. William Husted, Mrs. Roy Cole and Mrs. Melville S. Dixon.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, August. 18. — One of the principal conversational topics in Hollywood, these past few weeks, has been the Sinatra - Gardner goings-on. Listening in to one argument anent the possible effect of the headlines on the careers of the love-birds, I was struck by a point advanced by the man who sees no damage in the scandal. Said he:

"Don't think the studios haven't checked public reaction; the letters received from fans show that about ninety per cent of them sympathize with Frankie and Ava."

I'm impressed — not by the percentage of approval expressed in those fan letters but by the fallacy involved in accepting those letters as a dependable indication of "public opinion."

The people who write fan letters to stars are people who still go regularly to movies; in short, they are dyed-in-the-wool movie fans. By the admission of the motion picture industry, itself, they constitute less than twenty per cent of the adult population of America. The other eighty per cent of our adult population have either turned away from pictures entirely, or attend so seldom that they can no longer be classed as "fans." They are not apt to be writing letters to studios about Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner.

Now consider the position of the motion picture industry. For several years it has taken a disastrous financial beating. Its leaders have stated, time and again, that there is no hope for motion picture business unless the millions of lost patrons can be lured back into the theaters. To accomplish that purpose they have decided (again I'm citing their own statements) that two things are necessary—better pictures, and better public relations. And they have admitted, frequently and publicly, that scandals involving stars, which tend to give newspaper readers the impression that Hollywood is a hotbed of misconduct, have done much to undermine good public relations.

So what? So Hollywood is making better pictures, surprisingly better pictures! But it's not doing much else to improve public relations, and it never will do much else until it considers such an affair as the Sinatra - Gardner scandal from the standpoint of its possible effect on the eighty per cent who must be regained, rather than on the twenty per cent who are already confirmed movie fans and star worshipers.

If I were a movie bigshot and wanted a fair idea of the damage done by such headlines as those Frankie and Ava have stirred up I would start by polling, believe it or not, the churches, for in their congregations are to be found, not 20 per cent, but nearly 75 per cent, of the entire population of America.

Preview Nights: The best offering on this week's skimpy and very undistinguished list of pictures previewed in Columbia's "The Lady and the Bandit," a costumed adventure yarn which stars Louis Hayward and features Patricia Medina, Suzanne Dalbert and Tom Tully. The hero of the tale is an 18th century English highwayman, based on the legendary Dick Turpin. Like most cinematic robbers (if they happen to be portrayed by stars), this one is the Robin Hood type, whose illegal deeds go hand-in-hand with a just grievance against the upper strata of society and a living heart. The story doesn't make a lot of sense, but it does make pretty fair entertainment, especially when the scenery is garnished with ladies as eye-filling as Patricia Medina, Suzanne Dalbert and Malu Gratica. . . . Warner Brothers' "Tomorrow is Another Day," co-starring Ruth Roman and Steve Cochran, is aptly titled, since, in showing it, the producers frankly stated that they don't like the present ending and plan to shoot another one. If the new climax matches the quality of the rest of the picture, all should be well. The story is exciting, and the direction and acting are excellent, Ruth Roman, in particular, coming through with a very impressive performance. . . . The disappointment of the week is Paramount's "Darling, How Could You!", a picture almost as inane as its title. The stars (able enough to deserve a better fate) are Joan Fontaine, John Lund, Mona Freeman and Peter Hanson. They make a noble effort, but fail completely, to off-set the faults of a ridiculous story.

Richard Basehart and Gene Evans, working together in 20th Century-Fox's "Fixed Bayonets," have been lunching together every day, and Basehart, from the start of their association, has made a great point of urging Evans to watch his diet. "Stay slim and you'll be able to play a greater variety of roles," he's argued, "Avoid over weight and you'll look a lot more appealing in your scenes." Finally Evans began to chafe under the constant admonitions. "Why all this interest in my physique?" he beefed. "Look at your script," grinned Basehart. "In the last sequence I have to carry you up a steep hill"

SHIP'S RADIO DIRECTED REDS

Chinese Red Liberty Ship Suspected At Singapore

Singapore, Aug. 18. —(AP)—Singapore police today sealed the radio of a Chinese Communist ship suspected of broadcasting instructions to jungle terrorists.

The Red captain and crew of the 4380-ton Hai Hsuan made no resistance when the police boarding party made its early morning raid.

The vessel has laid at anchor in Singapore roads for 19 months—ever since its present captain and crew mutinied and took over the ship from its nationalist skipper Jan. 24, 1950.

The American consul general tried to get a court order forbidding the vessel to sail but was turned down by British authorities. The U. S. government claimed the Hai Hsuan was a former Liberty ship and $400,000 was still owed by her original Nationalist Chinese purchasers.

The ship's radio is described as one of the most powerful in southeast Asia. Singapore newspapers have long pointed out that it may have been used to transmit instructions from Communist China to Red terrorists in Malaya.

The radio transmitter and receiving apparatus are American made. So far as it known they were aboard the ship when she was sold to the Chinese Nationalists.

Capt. Yong Soon-ee and his crew of about 50 seem well-financed apparently through remittances from Red China. They can come ashore whenever they feel like it. Singaporeans refer to the Hai Hsuan as "the ship that is here forever."

Although the U. S. failed to get its hands on the vessel, it succeeded last June in having the American-owned cargo of 8,500 tons of salt removed and transshipped to Japan.

MORE WORKERS EMPLOYED HERE

Both Non-Farm And Manufacturing Lines Put More Men To Work

There is an estimated increase of 150 workers in non-farm employment in Ouachita parish, with an increase of 50 in manufacturing industries and 100 in non-manufacturing industries.

Female employment increased 50 workers, with gains of 25 each in manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries. There is a total of 4,585 females employed in this parish.

Unemployment is estimated to be 1,400 of which 600 are females and 400 are veterans.

Employment is estimated to increase 100 in the next two months.

Total non-farm employment in the Monroe labor market area (Ouachita parish) increased from an estimated 19,925 in June to 20,175 in July. This increase was due principally to increased activities in contract construction and to general conditions in the area. Estimated employment in July, 1950 was 19,500. Female employment increased 50 in July over June, with a decrease of 45 in the same period of 1950.

Manufacturing industries showed an increase of 30 in apparel and related industries, 10 each in lumber and timber products and chemicals and allied products. Food and kindred products show a very small decrease, which was offset in other manufacturing industries. Female employment increased 25 over June with the increase being in apparel and related industries.

Non - manufacturing industires showed an increase of 200 workers. Contract construction shows an increase of 100 workers due to the initiation of construction in a manufacturing concern and several school buildings. An increase of 25 was noted in other public utilities, who are performing repair and clean-up services during the summer months. Retail trade shows an increase of 35 due principally to summer clearance sales. Service industries show an increase of 15 due to increased activity in the laundry industry. Female employment increased 25, with the increases being in retail trade and service industries.

Estimated employment in July was 200 higher than January, 1951. Female employment in July is 115 higher than in January, 1951.

Information is obtained regularly from a representative sample of employers in all the major industries to prepare the employment estimates.

Self-employed, domestic and unpaid family workers are not included in these estimates.

Chinese Underworld Ruler Dies In Semi-Retirement

Hong Kong, Aug. 18.—(AP)— Fabled Tu Yueh-Sen, who at crucial times ruled Shanghai through his control of the underworld died today in respectable semi - retirement in Hong Kong. He was 63.

In 1927 during the early days of struggle for power between Generalissimo Chiang Kai - shek and the Communists, Tu and his gangs took over control of Shanghai, later turning the city over to Chiang.

When the Japanese captured Shanghai, Tu moved in again. He controlled the city of 5,000,000 when the Nationalists came back in 1945.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Six-Handed Game Is Different

"We were playing six - handed Canasta," relates a San Francisco correspondent, "and I had the chance to take the up-card and make the initial meld. This would be a very poor play at four-handed Canasta, so I didn't meld. Later on, I was told that the two games are quite different and that I should have melded. Is that correct?"

It is quite correct. You don't take a small pile in four-handed Canasta because you don't want to deplete your hand. In six-handed Canasta you don't worry about a depleted hand. There are two partners to take care of you. Somebody will make a canasta and meld out before long. The winning strategy in this game is to meld as much as you can at every opportunity.

Q—When you come to the last few cards of the stock pile, are you allowed to count them to see who gets the last turn?

A—Yes. You may count the cards at your turn to play. Likewise, you may count them if it is your partner's turn and if he has asked you for permission to meld out. Whenever a player counts the stock in this way he must announce the number of cards.

Q—A player goes through the motion of making a discard, changes his mind, and discards another card. One of the opponents claims that the original card must be discarded. He says it is an exposed card, and that he can name it. What is the rule?

A—It depends on whether or not the player's partner saw that original discard. If he did, the card is exposed. If the partner didn't see it, no harm has been done. Certainly the opponent doesn't lose anything by seeing one of the player's cards. As a practical matter, it often happens that a player waves a card in the air in such a way that an opponent can see it but so that his partner cannot see it.

I am naturally assuming that the player's partner would speak up like a little man if he had really seen the card. If the card has actually been seen by the player's partner, it must be put face up on the table. At his next turn, the offender may meld that exposed card; otherwise he must discard it.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Job Openings In La. Named

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 18.—Calls for engineers, draftsmen and tool designers are included in a list of current job openings in Louisiana released today by Marven E. Thames, administrator of the state division of employment security.

Mechanical and process engineers and tool designers are needed in the New Orleans area, position for an industrial engineer is open in Minden.

Positions for mechanical draftsmen are also open at Minden, the division's job inventory showed, with a number of openings for oil and gas draftsmen available at Baton Rouge.

A continuity writer and radio announcer are needed at Lake Charles, while a pharmacist can be placed at Houma, a sign painter at Leesville, and a concrete paver operator at New Iberia.

Other openings over the state include positions for stenographers and clerk-typists at New Orleans; electrical linemen, Caterpillar repairman, concreting foreman and motor patrol operator at New Iberia; and engineering equipment and radio repairmen at Leesville.

In agricultural employment, Thames reported farm openings available for sugarcane and cotton harvesters in areas around Bastrop, Shreveport and Tallulah.

Persons interested in securing further information on any of these openings are urged to contact their nearest local employment security office.

Coast-To-Coast Telecasts Of Peace Meet Are Planned

By Wayne Oliver

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)— Inauguration of coast-to-coast television was advanced today to Seutember 4 at the request of the state department to permit telecasts of the Japanese peace conference in San Francisco.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. previously had set September 30 for the cross country TV hookup over its new $40,000,000 microwave radio relay system.

The surprise announcement of the earlier TV starting came less than three hours after ceremonies opening the 3,000-mile communications superhighway between New York and San Francisco to telephone use.

A. T. and T. said details for telecasts of the San Francisco conference will be worked out with the state department and television net work officials who are cooperating in the project.

The American Broadcasting Co. immediately announced it would make use of the link to telecast President Truman's address at 9:30 p.m., E. S. T. on September 4, opening the peace conference.

Thus the peace conference replaced the World Series as the first major event scheduled for telecasting on a coast-to-coast basis.

Wayne Coy, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, said, in talking over the new system, "This is truly a historic occasion in the development of American communications."

Cleo F. Craig, president of A. T. and T., said it was hoped the new link "will never be needed by Americans except in peaceful pursuits, and in helping to strengthen our country's security." But he added that "we are glad it has been completed and placed in service ahead of the needs of any great new national emergency."

It will supplement the company's present facilities for telephone and television channels, and not replace any of them.

And although the coast-to-coast TV connection will be by microwave, thousands of miles of underground coaxial cable will remain in use in the video network facilities of the company.

SOUTH KOREA WANTS U. S. TO PAY $100 MILLION OF 'HELP'

Washington, Aug. 18. —(AP)—South Korea has handed the United States a bill, and asked prompt payment of $100,000,000 for goods and services supplied to American fighting forces.

Ambassador You Chan Yang told reporters yesterday he appealed for the money during a call on Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He added that the state department favors the payment.

Under agreement with nations fighting in Korea, Dr. Yang said bills for foodstuffs, material and labor furnished their troops were to have been presented after the war ended. But he explained that his government needs the money now to help fight inflation.

Our Children

CONTENTMENT

Caroline stood watching her mother rolling pie crust. She had been very silent for a while and her mother wondered what she was thinking about when she said, "Mother, why can't we have all the nice things other people have?"

"Like what?"

"Oh, you know. A fur coat for you like Mrs. Phillips has and a pony and cart for me like Jimmie's."

Mother laughed. "What would I do with a coat like that? It wouldn't suit me at all. Listen, Caroline, to what I tell you now. Everybody has his own things, the things that belong to him and he pays for them. Daddy and I have you and Mike. Mrs. Phillips has her lovely coat. We would not trade. Jimmie has his pony and cart. He must have them. Would you trade your good legs for his pony?

"Everything like coats, jewels, property of any kind, must be paid for some way or other. Nobody gets anything for nothing. You pay your bill when you make your choice. You will never get anything without giving up something.

"But there is something you can have that will make you very happy and instead of making you poorer will make you richer. That's contentment. Just count all the things you have, starting with good eyes, good ears, useful hands and legs, a lovely daddy and a mother who wants to be lovely. Like what you have. That's contentment. It will make you happy."

"But everybody has those things—"

"Everybody? Jimmie?"

"Well, I guess you're right. Is the little pie for me?"

"Yes for you and one for Mike. Does any girl you know have a brother like Mike?"

Caroline laughed and ran off singing.

It is wonderful to be content with the good we have, to count it over and let each glowing facet charm our spirits. Health, a clear mind, hands that do our bidding, friends who sustain our spirits, the shining day and the magic of the night—what a wealth of riches, what sweet content.

Out of our contentment rises the strong spirit that moves the body in ways that prosper it, the mind in ways that lead to "green pastures." Discontent paralyzes body and mind and destroys the spirit. It burdens while contentment puts wings on the spirit. The home where contentment swells is very close to heaven.

Parents should guard their children against fear. Fear of the dark and other fears make life a misery for small children. Dr. Patri tells how to overcome fears in children in his leaflet P-1. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Order Stopping Bingo Is Denied

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Newspaper reports that Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, had ordered bingo halted and other forms of gambling at Catholic church benefits within his jurisdiction were termed "maccurate" by a chancery spokesman today.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. M. Burke termed the stories "garbled and inaccurate." He declined to say what would be an accurate account of the reported order or to confirm or deny that an order had been issued.

The Daily News said Cardinal Stritch, in a special communication to pastors, ordered gambling halted and the sale of liquor, beer or wine prohibited at church affairs.

The Sun Times said the order stated that special permission hereafter must be obtained from the chancery office before games of chance are to be played.

Anti-Truman Southerners May Rally Around Russell

By Jack Bell

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)— Senator Russell (D.-Ga.) said today he isn't a presidential candidate, but there are strong signs he may be the man around whom anti-Truman southerners rally in 1952.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, one of the spark plugs of the anti-Truman movement in the south, has said Russell can have Georgia's 28-vote support in next year's convention if he wants it.

Russell told a reporter all he knows about that is what he read in the papers, adding:

"But I'm not a candidate for president, if that's what it means."

However, some of the Georgia senator's friends said they have little doubt Russell's name will be put before the convention as the choice of the south if President Truman allows his name to be voted upon.

Mr. Truman told a White House news conference yesterday there are plenty of men ambitious for the Democratic nomination if he doesn't run again. But he said it wouldn't be seemly to name them.

The president apparently was not speaking about Russell, who polled 263 convention votes in 1948 in the south's unsuccessful stop-Truman move. This was a little over one-third of the 618 then needed to nominate.

As he did then, Russell represents the south's protest against President Truman's civil rights program. Senator Long (D.-La.) said he personally doesn't know a better man for the south to pres ent again.

Whether Russell permits his name to be offered evidently rests primarily on Mr. Truman's actions. However, if the southerners thought there was a chance Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would become available for the Democratic nomination, they would rally quickly to his banner.

The president's assertion that a lot of Democrats are gazing longingly at his job left some party members cold. They contended Mr. Truman isn't giving any other Democrat much of a chance to get his chin above water.

Although he hasn't said anything about his intentions, the president hasn't discouraged the pilgrimage of the faithful to the White House to pledge support of state delegations for his renomination.

This makes it difficult for any possible candidate even to get favorite son backing and tends to put the president in a position to name the nominee if he doesn't run himself.

Meanwhile, Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) won a demand for time on three radio networks to answer President Truman's Tuesday "hatemonger" charges.

McCarthy, speaking before the marine corps league at Lincoln, Neb., said he will be heard over CBS from 6:15 to 6:30 p.m. next Friday, and over NBC from 10:45 to 11 p.m.

He said he had agreed to go on Mutual's "Reporters' Roundup," a Thursday night feature.

Lightning Bug Catcher Wins Championship

Baltimore, Aug. 18.—(AP)— Thirteen - year-old Morgan Mallory Buchner, Jr., is the world's champion lightning bug catcher again, for the fourth year in a row.

His bag of 32,585 this summer won him the $10 prize offered Baltimore youngsters by Dr. William D. McElroy, John Hopkins University biochemist. Doctor McElroy is trying to find out exactly what makes a lightning bug light up.

Morgan Mallory didn't catch the 32,585 all by himself. He had an organization. His sister, Mary Louisiana, and six other youngsters helped him comb the lawns and shrubbery of the high toned Guilford residential area near the university.

The summer's work netted them $81.50 in addition to the $10 first prize because Doctor McElroy pays 25 cents a hundred for the bugs.

Morgan Mallory wasn't exactly the undisputed champion. Jimmy Tracy, won the $5 second prize and Doctor McElroy dubbed him the best individual lightning bug catcher. He didn't have as big an organization as Morgan Mallory—just his brother and two chums.

"We started late," Jimmy said at the awarding of the prizes last night.

17 More Cadets Leave Academy

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)— Seventeen more of the 90 accused West Point cadets reportedly resigned today from the U.S. military academy.

They were expected to leave tomorrow or soon after.

Little girls like to look their best on the first day back to school. Here are autumn plaids in cotton fashions that have a wrinkle-free finish. For the nursery school crowd, there's a red plaid (left) with minute collar and cuffs and tiny tucks on either side of the bodice. Gay green plaids (center) for big and little sister are jumpers styled overall fashion with separate white cotton blouses. Separates (right) are done in blue plaid with scalloped jacket and white blouse.

LITTLE LEAGUE PARK

Monroe, La.
August 17, 1951.

To the Editor:

Being a very much interested spectator in the games of the Little League All-Stars of Monroe in their games at Natchez, Miss. and now going on at Houston brings to my mind a little incident that occurred this spring when efforts were made to secure them a park in which to play their games.

Efforts were made on the part of the coaches, directors and others interested to secure them a park in which could be built according to Little League specifications. This was done in order that the kids be given the opportunity to play before their parents the most of whom worked and could not attend the afternoon games. I understand this plot as selected by various people was denied because it contained a few flowers and some green grass. To my way of thinking these children are far more important to the community, for some day and in the very near future they will assume the roles of leaders and take over the reins of Monroe. I think the training and development of youth activities should not be interferred with because of a few flowers and grass.

No one knows of the names of those flowers or the species of the grass, but I venture most of the sports loving people can tell you the names of most of the Little Leaguers who in their first year of play in the Little League have let the entire south know Monroe is an up and coming community.

To give you some idea of how widespread this Little League is I refer you to a write-up in the sports section of the Newsweek magazine in the August 20 issue.

If there are others who feel as I do I sincerely believe now is the time to speak up for the kids. The efforts they have shown on their part I believe they are enetitled to a Little League Park and all the trimmings that go with it.

Very truly yours,
Tom L. Wentworth.

Walter Reed Features Delco-Heat Gas Fired Conditionair Heat Units

New Type Appliances Said To Include Revolutionary Features

Delco-Heat Gas Fired Condition air, low in first cost and extremely economical to operate, is now being shown at Watler Reed Refrigeration, 209 Louisville avenue.

The smooth flowing lines of the vertically designed heat transfer unit allow unrestricted flow of hot combustion gases along every inch of heating surface. These hot gases scrubbing against inner walls of the furnace unit allow more heat to be delivered to the home . . . with less heat lost up the chimney. The Circle-Air radiator above transfer unit retards this movement for greater fuel economy. The possibility of combustion gas leaks is eliminated by the continuous seam welding of the heat transfer unit.

The large capacity centrifugal type blower with the scientifically arranged blades for the greatest possible air movement is powered by an efficient and dependable Delco Appliance Rigidframe Motor. Both blower and motor are rubber mounted for quiet vibrationless operation. Air is drawn through the filter into the furnace and circulated to the living quarters of the home.

The Delco-Heat Gas-fired Conditionair is controlled automatically by a small, accurate room thermostat working in coordination with sensitive master and limit controls mounted on the furnace itself. These controls stop and start the burner as heat is needed. Delco-Heat Coordinated Controls, designed and built by Delco Appliance to work with the Delco-Heat Conditionair assure even healthful warmth in the home.

There are dozens of types of heating systems and methods of heat distribution. The one best suited to your home in type and capacity is a decision best made with the help of heating experts. Your Delco-Heat dealer, Walter Reed Refrigeration, is factory trained for guaranteed installation. Call on Walter Reed Refrigeration for helpful, unbiased advice.

Coleman Gas Furnaces Now Shown At Massey's Service Center Here

Completely Automatic Models Said To Be A 'Modern Miracle'

The Coleman gas floor furnace, the modern miracle of low cost automatic home heating, is displayed at Massey's Service Store, 801 Jackson.

It is completely automatic—just light the Coleman gas floor furnace in the fall and turn it off in the spring. With the thermostatic control, the Coleman automatically keeps a constant flow of clean, fresh, healthfully heated warm air coming into your home without work or worry.

An exclusive feature is Coleman's patented streamlined bottom. It employs the air flow principle used in airplane construction. It speeds up the flow of warm air out of the furnace and into the home as much as 35 per cent more than the ordinary type of furnace. This gives better spread of air flow over the hot surface of the heating unit so that the heated air carries more warmth into the home for extra comfort.

A removable inner casing separates cold air section. Insulated with live air—they prevent overheating and congestion of cold air passages and insure free, continuous flow of cool air into furnace and an always-cool outer casing. This means you get a continuous flow of freshly warmed air into your home for more comfort.

Ben Parnell, co-owner of Massey's Service Center, explained that Coleman floor furnaces are also ideal for heating apartments, stores, shops, offices, tourist cottages. The use of Coleman floor furnaces is not restricted to home heating. They are widely used in commercial buildings, too, where they give healthful warmth and winter comfort with automatic operation, all at remarkably low fuel costs.

Coleman Floor Furnaces range from 25,000 BTU to 70,000 per hour heat output. For most small, four or five room homes, one furnace is often ample to do a complete job. Larger homes or homes where circulation throughout the house is poor, may require multiple installations of two or three furnaces. A multiple installation permits full comfort throughout the home by area heating. Each furnace operates independently of the others so you may use one or all at the same time for as long or as little as you wish. One furnace may be turned low for a little warmth; or they may all be used at full capacity when occasion requires. You can have "tailor-made heating" with Coleman furnaces—you can always have all the comfort you want when and as you want it.

For a free estimate on installing a Coleman Floor Furnace in your home, business or store call Massey's Service Center.

REPORT PLOT TO KILL YUGOSLAV DICTATOR TITO

Trieste, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Italian newspaper "Giornale De Trieste" said today that an attempt to assassinate Marshal Tito was made on Aug. 2.

The attempt failed, the newspaper said, and the plotter was grabbed by police and tried. His name was given as Vlado Radosevich, a Croatian peasant.

He was sentenced to death, the paper said, but this later was commuted to 20 years' imprisonment at hard labor.

Poor In Math, But What A Bridge Player

By Oswald Jacoby

We haven't heard from Generous George in quite a long time, but he's still around giving unearned tricks to his opponents. His favorite stunt is "forgetting" to count the trumps, and he has convinced all the kibitzers that he'd be a pretty fair player if he could only count.

In today's hand, West opened the with the ace and then continued with the king of diamonds, thus showing that he had only two cards in the suit. Generous George, playing the South hand, ruffed the second diamond with the two of hearts.

Hoping for the best, George next led the four of hearts to dummy's ace and returned a low trump. East's jack was a welcome sight. George covered with the queen of hearts, and West won with the king.

West's only chance was to ruff declarer down, so he led the queen of diamonds, and George ruffed with the five of hearts. At this stage George had only one trump left — the ten. West had the nine of trumps and dummy still had the six of trumps. Somehow or other George forgot to draw West's last trump. The heat sometimes gets him that way.

Instead, George led out the ace, king, and queen of spades. This gave West a chance to ruff with his forgotten nine of hearts. While West was thinking, George discarded a club from dummy.

The trouble was that if West ruffed he would have to lose a trick no matter what he led back. Thus, if he returned a club, South would have two natural club tricks and could ruff his last club in dummy. And if West returned the ten of diamonds, South would ruff, cash his last good spade, and then win the last two tricks in dummy with a trump and a good diamond.

West couldn't save himself by refusing to ruff. George could just lead another top spade to discard another club from dummy. If West still held off, George would cash the ace of clubs and ruff a club in dummy, after which the ten of hearts would supply his tenth trick.

In short, the contract couldn't be defeated. Now, just for the fun of it, try to make the contract after drawing the last trump. Your good memory will cost you the contract.

CARD Sense

Q — The bidding has been:

South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 3 Diamonds; East, Pass.

South, 2 Spades; West, Pass; North, 3 N. T.; East, Pass.

South, ?

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-3, Hearts A-10-5, Diamonds K-7-5-2, Club 3. What do you do?

A — Bid five diamonds. This bid shows extra high - card strength as well as your distributional strength. If there is a slam, your partner should need no further encouragement. In any case, your bidding shows the nature of your hand and leaves the rest up to your partner.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered: You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-J-7-3, Hearts K-Q-5, Diamonds K-4, Clubs K-9-2. What do you do?

39TH DIVISION GETS NEW HEAD

Redding To Take Command, Fleming Is Retiring

Camp Polk, La., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The 39th division, Louisiana-Arkansas National Guard unit, has a new commander today — Brig. Gen. Joseph A. Redding of Shreveport, La.

He assumed command yesterday on the retirement of Maj. Gen. Raymond Fleming of New Orleans who has reached the age of 62.

Fleming announced his retirement yesterday as the division prepared to pass in review at the conclusion of its summer training here. Though retiring as division commander because of his age, he will continue as chief of the National Guard bureau in Washington.

Brig. Gen. Raymond Hufft, Louisiana adjutant general announced that General Redding, assistant commanding general of the division, would assume command.

Hufft was honored at the review with presentation of the Louisiana distinguished service medal. The award was made by Theo Cangelosi, Baton Rouge attorney representing Gov. Earl Long.

The Eisenhower trophy was awarded by Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas to Chief Warrant Officer John E. Hurler, director of the 106th army band of Little Rock. The unit has won the trophy three years straight.

With a noticeable break in his voice and tears in his eyes, Fleming announced his retirement. He recalled that he served with the division in World War I and reorganized it after World War II.

Hurricane Hits Jamaica

Miami, Fla., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The hurricane in the Caribbean sea was believed to be raking Jamaica, biggest of the British West Indies Islands, with 122-miles-an-hour winds tonight.

British overseas airways in Miami said it lost contact with the island when the airport and radio tower at Kingston, capital city of the island, were evacuated.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, because an important hobby is a good sign of intelligence. Nearly all great men collected significant things in their writing before they were five years old. Ralph Waldo Emerson's father wrote anxiously to a friend, "Ralph is now 3 years old but does not read very well." Maybe you've known such boys!

Answer to Qustion No. 2

2. Yes, and I fear that he always will. The belief is based partly on his larger muscles, although women have greater vitality and live longer. Man also has a deeper voice and, since fear of a sudden loud noise is inherited, he uses it to scare the wits out of woman. The loud voice sounds to man like intelligence, although it may be only an echo from his empty head. Man thinks he is superior, and most women find that the easiest way to manage him is to let him continue to think so.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Most experts believe that no harm results if it is done very early and without letting the child notice it. But, if done by scolding or tying the left hand, they feel that nervousness and frustration tend to set up stuttering. One psychologist changed right-handed rats to left-handers, and vice-versa. He could not tell whether this caused them to stutter because he had only learned rat langauge about as well as the average college student learns Latin.

Serve a puffy omelet with a tomato sauce for a hot - weather supper. To make the omelet separate the yoks from the whites, then beat both and fold together—whites into yolks. Don't turn the omelet when the bottom is cooked, just cover the skillet until the top is firm.

Nothing's better than a chef's salad for a warm weather luncheon. All you do to make it is to add thin slivers of chicken, tongue or luncheon meat, and Swiss cheese to a bowl of salad greens. Use lettuce, endive, essarole, chicory and watercress for the greens if they are available.

NAUTICAL CAMPERS

Pausing briefly from their many activities above are five north Louisiana boys enjoying a season at Camp Namequoit, the nautical camp for boys at Orleans on Cape Cod, Mass. Grouped around their Confederate flag are, left to right, Conrad McEachern of Vivian, La., Craig Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Morgan of Forsythe Avenue, Jimmy Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leon. Dennis of 516 Sherrouse Avenue, Delmas Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Jackson, Sr., of 404 Sherrouse, and Lawrence Willey, north Louisiana representative of the camp, also from Monroe. The group above will return south from New England after eight weeks of trips and educational tours which were offered in connection with regular camp activities. With fourteen other southerners, they plan to spend a day in Washington seeing the nation's capitol on their return August 21.

Pineapple upsidedown cake is easy to make now that there are so many good white cake mixes on the market. Just melt six tablespoons of butter in an eight-inch square pan, then sprinkle with two - thirds cup of brown sugar and arrange a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple (well drained) over the sugar. Add the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Be sure to let the upsidedown cake stand for about 5 minutes before turning it out on your serving plate.

Study this Quality Chart and let the FACTS show you where the VALUE is Wouldn't you say that a good way to judge the value of a low-priced car is to compare it with a high-priced car?

Plymouth welcomes such comparison. Of 20 quality features found in the highest-priced cars, Plymouth has 19, the next low-priced car has 10, and the third has only 5.

Moreover, Plymouth has features that you can't get even in some of the most expensive cars—new Oriflow Shock Absorbers, Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes, Safety-Rim Wheels, and many other engineering advantages.

Your Plymouth dealer will give you full particulars about the Quality Chart shown here. But don't just compare features on paper. Compare the low-priced cars on the road!

Take Plymouth's new "Safety-Flow Ride." Your Plymouth dealer will be glad to arrange a demonstration now.

Rev. R. J. Campbell tells the story of a child sailing on the ocean. He kept asking his mother when he should see the sea. She would point to the water all around the ship and say, "That is the sea, my child." But the little fellow could not understand. To him it was only the water. So the daisies, the brooks, the sunsets, to us are only nature, until Christ has so revealed God to us that we see our Father in them.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Aug. 19, 1951.
The Golden Text is: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. . . . Shew me thy ways, O Lord: teach me thy paths" (Ps. 25:1, 4).
Among the citations which compris the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God" (Isa. 61:10).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of life as immortality brought to light" (p. 335).
Listen to a 15-minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over radio station KNOE and at 10:00 a.m. over radio station KLIC. Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Some years ago, when I was writing editorials for The Congregationalist, the paper begun on Boston's Beacon Hill over a hundred-and-twenty-five years ago that has never missed a single weekly issue, I wrote an editorial on the question, "Is Mr. Ford Too Rich?"
The Mr. Ford of the editorial was the famous Henry, but the reference was personal only as Mr. Ford typified the inventor, who had made a great and almost revolutionary contribution to socity and amassed a great fortune.
Into that editorial I put all that I had learned in nine years of academic study of economics and sociology. Yet I had the humiliation of discovering that, so far as I knew, not a single individual from the Atlantic to the Pacific had read it.
Less important things that I had written had occasioned plenty of comment and controversy, and an occasional article, written chiefly to fill space, I had found rather widely copied and quoted. But later I found that the "Mr. Ford" editorial had not gone altogether unread, or missed its mark.
Its mark was not Mr. Ford, but you and I. Its point was this: Without that great organization we call "society," Mr. Ford's invention would have been as useless as if it had been concocted in the depths of some far-off desert. So, though he realized it, or not, Mr. Ford owed more to society, than society owed to him.
And you and I owe more to society than society owes to us. It is not only that we are members one of another, but we are units in a vast and complicated organization upon which we depend for the very life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, that we choose to regard as our heritage.
Last week I suggested the problems and confusions with which we are confronted under the pressures, possible perils, and changed conditions, in which our liberties have been restricted. What is our Christian duty in relation to the tense issues of today? And how are Christian leaders meeting these issues, so marked with bitter controversies, conflicts, accusations and smearings?
Frankly, I think that Christian leadership is failing!
Differences of interests, differences of judgments and aims, differences about actions and policies, are inevitable. But it is not inevitable that men should differ with hatred and scorn.
The very tenseness of the situation and issues of today makes all the more necessary the attainment and practice of the virtues that the Christian way enjoins—patience, forbearing, elementa honesty in speech and acts.
If we are to pay our debt to society, we must begin by heeding the wise injunction of St. Paul. "Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others."

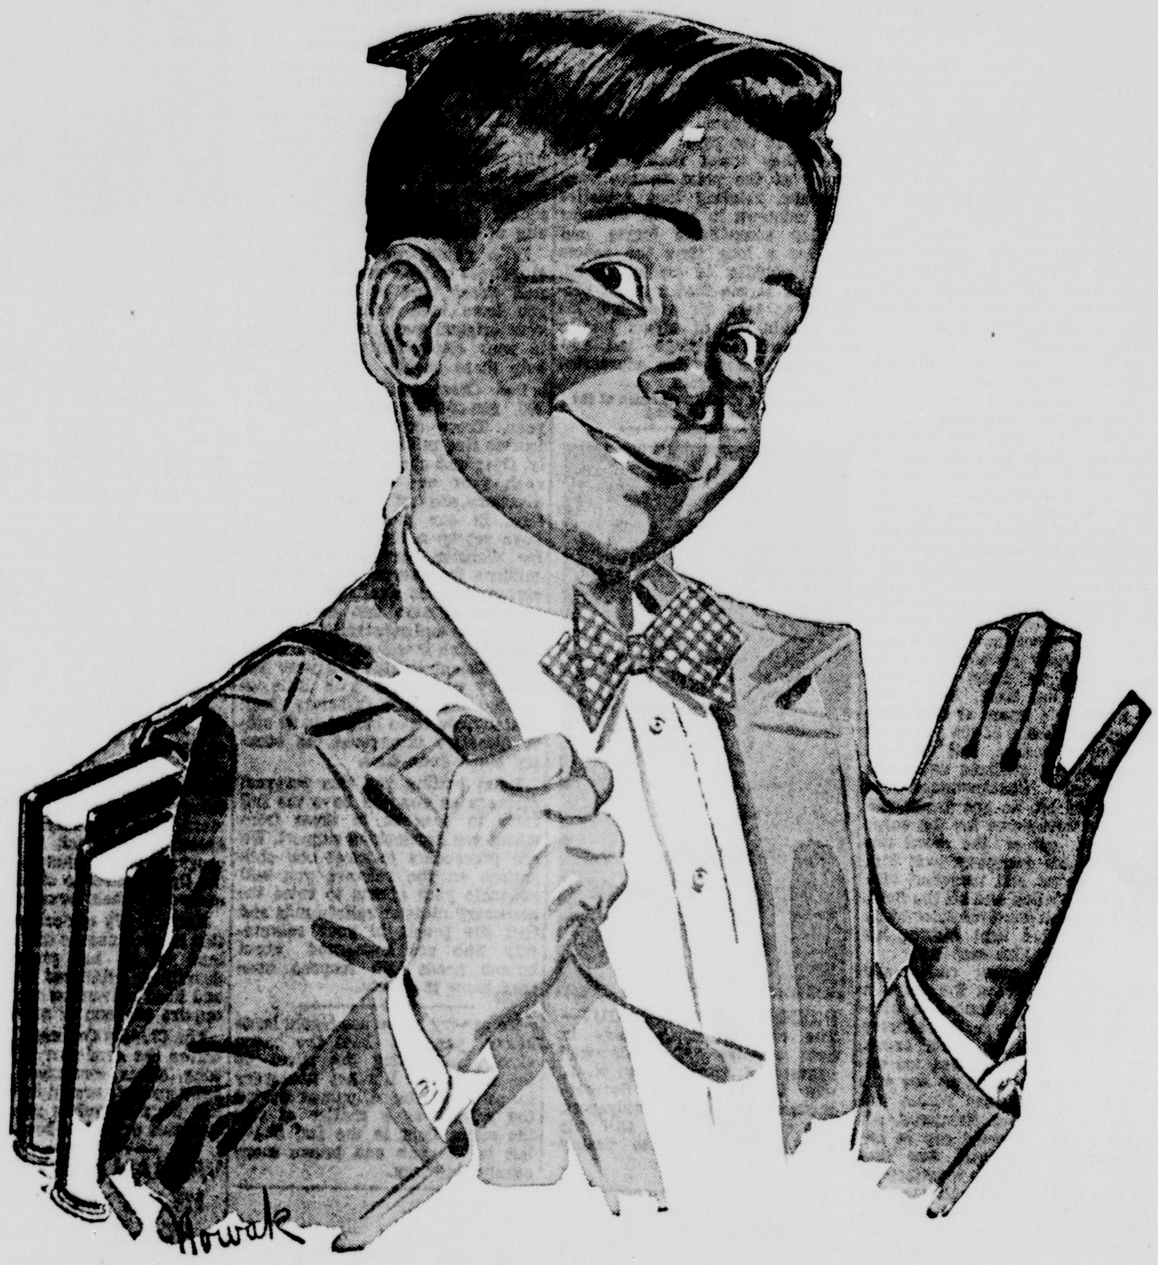
Your Child.....

Every Child.....

Needs Religious Training!



He's Off To School.....

This little boy is stepping out into the great wide world outside of him. He is off to school. Most of the early knowledge was acquired within the family circle and from intimate friends. Now he will begin to learn what the great world outside has to teach.

It is the beginning of a long and difficult trail for him. He will encounter the good and the bad, the false and the true. There will be the thrill of new experiences and the hard grind of the daily struggle for achievement.

It is a momentous day in the life of this child. And much depends on what he has learned from his home enviroment. His Ideals and mental attitude and his reactions to people and things will reflect the spirit and character of the home.

This is the reason why the home is so important in human life, and is the bulwark of the State and civilization. That is why every parent should feel a sacred obligation to teach his children truth and justice and righteousness. And that is why every home needs God and religion and the spiritual influence of the Church.

PREPARES FOR DELIVERIES

F. C. Childers, Sr., is shown loading his car with 36 cases of Kilchlor Dust which he later delivered to dealers in Natchitoches. Mr. Childers, who resides at 406 Splane Drive in West Monroe, also makes demonstrations of the insecticide at peoples' homes and in their flower gardens. He delivers his product to dealers in this district four and five days a week. (Staff photo by Marvin DuBos)

Local Man Manufactures Ant And Roach Poison

F. C. Childers Of West Monroe Now Markets Insecticides To Combat Common Pests In Homes And Flower Gardens

Years of experimenting with insecticides as a hobby has turned into a profitable business for F. C. Childers, Sr., of 406 Splane Drive in West Monroe.

The 61 - year - old experimenter began marketing "Kilchlor Dust" little over a year ago and is now selling his insecticide throughout the state.

In addition to the powdered insecticide, Mr. Childers has placed a new household spray — CIC68 — on the market to combat all types of bugs.

Begins Experiments

Mr. Childers, who was born in Calhoun, for a number of years was a contractor. Several years ago, he developed a heart condition and was forced to retire from the building business.

During his recovery, he asserted that he read various articles on ants and insects and began experimenting with several types of powder on his wife's roses and flowers.

A son living in Miami, shipped his father a package of ant and roach powders similar to Kilchlor Dust, which was highly successful in Florida and consequently, he found the product satisfactory here.

After Mrs. Childers passed away, Mr. Childers began devoting more time to his experiments as a hobby. Later he contacted the president of the company which manufactured the ant and roach killer in Florida.

Through the Florida company, Mr. Childers was given their formula, since they were unable to market the produce outside the state of Florida.

He continued experimenting with the product and several months later he registered it with the U. S. patent office.

Sales Grow

In July of 1950, Mr. Childers began marketing Kilchlor Dust to a few groceries around the Twin Cities and through Ritchie Grocery Co.

Since then his production and sales have tripled. He has had to add to his plant considerably and now covers a large portion of the state.

Mr. Childers says there are now 250 stores handling Kilchlor Dust and his new household spray.

He pointed out that next year, he plans to come out with another poison, which he will announce later .

Mr. Childers explains, "I enjoy experimenting with insecticides and specialize in these for the benefit of homes, flowers and gardens."

"When we built our home in West Monroe," Mr. Childers said, "the ants were about to take it and they were terrible on my wife's roses."

It was through our efforts to combat insects, that I became interested in them.

Mr. Childers says there are various kinds of ants and the different types must be treated accordingly.

Safety Belt

Less than a year ago, Mr. Childers son was killed while working on a power line.

In order to prevent similar accidents, he has made a belt which he says will insure linesmen's safety. He explained that he has sent the belt to the U. S. patent office and expects to have it registered within a few weeks.

Mr. Childers converted his garage into a plant for manufacturing his insecticides. He has also added a room 18 by 22 feet in order to facilitate his demand. This fall, he says, he plans to add an additional unit which will be approximately 22 by 54 feet.

The one - time contractor when asked about the building business explains, "I'm so busy with my insecticides I hardly have time to think about my former occupations."

A half cup of drained crushed pineapple that is left over may be utilized in a frosting for bought cup cakes. Cream three tablespoons of butter or margarine with a dash of salt and a half cup of sifted confectioners' sugar. Then add alternately two-and-one-half cups more of the sugar and the half cup of pineapple. Sifting the confectioners' sugar helps to make the frosting smooth.

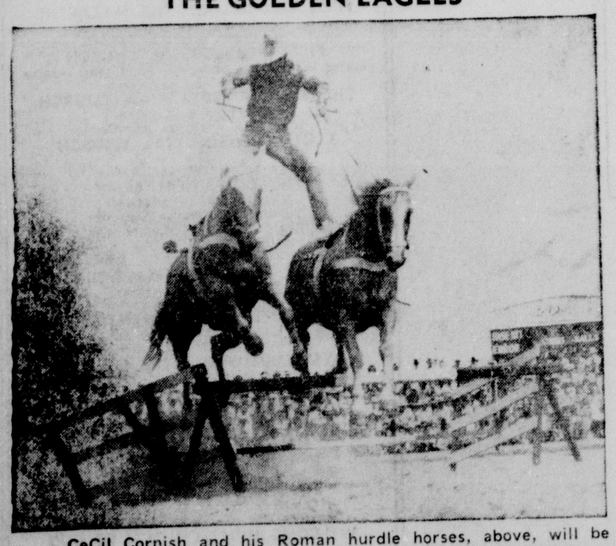
THE GOLDEN EAGLES



CeCil Cornish and his Roman hurdle horses, above, will be among the speciality acts to appear in the seventh annual championship rodeo at Gentry Arena September 5 through the 9. Cornish, who is recognized as one of rodeo's most daring performers, rides into the arena on two beautifully matched Palomino steeds, with one foot on the back of each horse and races furiously around the arena, but never loses his footing, cuts the figure eights, performs other stunts and then the most dangerous feat of all--standing on the horses' backs, Cornish has the golden Palominos jump the hurdles.

'All Right' Taken Literally Under Honor Code System

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of six articles about West Point by Westbrook Pegler being used apart from his regular column. These columns were originally written in January, 1929 and deal with football affairs as related to Military Academy life.)

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

There was a sharp bang on the door, and it flew open. A cadet peered in, and hesitated, inquiringly.

"All right," said Mr. Sprague, and the cadet withdrew.

"That's one of the cadet officers. They check up all the time. He probably saw I had a civilian visitor. If you answer 'all right' that means you give your word of honor that the visit is authorized. Here's the full meaning of 'all right' in the corps. It means just about everything around here."

He passed over a little book, "Bugle Notes," open at a page headed "honor."

It read: "The basic principles of the honor system are: No lying, no cheating, no half-truths. No intentional dishonesty is excusable, and under no circumstances will it be condoned.

"Every one is bound to report any breach of honor which comes to his attention.

"Quibbling, evasive statements or technicalities in order to shield guilt or defeat the ends of justice will not be tolerated.

"An 'all right' involves the purpose of a visit as well as the place. No cadet may report 'all right' when he is going anywhere for an unauthorized purpose."

"But," I asked, "doesn't that tend to crush all the natural mischief out of men and reduce you people, who are supposed to be prearing for adventurous business, to the faultless piety of so many military monks?"

"Hell, no," said Mr. Sprague. "You can always take a chance on being caught. There are no sentries in the corridors during study hour at night. You can slip out of your room to visit someone else, but if the tactical officer comes along inspecting or a cadet officer happens to be in the hall and calls 'all right?', even if he's three floors away, you have to say 'no.' It's just another way of paying off a lost gamble."

It seems, though, that the boys are human enough to err even in matters of honor now and again.

It is a point of honor, for instance, that no cadet shall take a drink at any time. But during the Army-Yale game at New Haven last season one of the yearlings or third classmen, fell in with some drinking civilians under the grandstand. unaccustomed to drinking at all, he got drunk and when the time came for the corps to march out of the bowl two friends of his company took him by the elbows and marched him into the formation and off the field, supporting him from the sides while the man behind kept kicking his heels to make him step out.

Whether the other cadets did this merely to spare the corps a public scandal or intended to withhold the facts from the officers was a question that never arose. The cadet's condition was too obvious to be concealed on the trip back to the academy. Within two weeks he had been dismissed. All that his counsel could say in extenuation at the trial was that none of the football reporters at the rim of the bowl had seen, or seen fit to mention the incident, from which he argued that the boy had done no damage to the reputation of the corps.

In the fall of 1927 a first class man showed up after a football game with a slight edge on. As I understand it, he was only slightly stimulated. Nevertheless, he was tired and he too would have been dismissed except that his entire class got together and signed an unconditional pledge, which was sent to the commandant with a delicate intimation that this was offered, not in a bargaining spirit, but merely in the hope that their classmate of three years would be given some penalty short of the limit.

The court made a great concession. Every minute of the man's recreation time for the remainder of the year was spent in brisk solo parade across the area, the punishment ground, where the customary sentence calls for only 5 minutes of walking two days a week.

The lenity seems to have been well advised, for this cadet is now a second lieutenant commanding troops.

Only a few weeks ago, on the day of the Stanford-Army game at the Yankee Stadium in New York, a breath inspection was held, unknown to most of the cadets, to determine whether any of the young men should be placed under suspicion of drinking. I was told that a suspected man would be put under surveillance on the return to the academy, then taken to the hospital, where his stomach would be pumped. So honor sometimes operates with the assistance of coercion and science.

They were not always thus at West Point, for historical writings stress the time when George Washington ordered a fete, celebrating the birth of the Dauphin of France, at which the garrison officers and their ladies drank a series of 13 toasts and the 10,000 troops received an extra ration of rum. Moreover, the one character in all the history of the military academy whose personality and works are most lovingly remembered, was Benny Havens, who ran a grog shop on the reservation.

Edgar Allan Poe, in his brief and wretched career as a cadet, wrote of Mr. Havens that he was the sole congenial soul in the entire God forsaken place, but it was another poet, a medical lieutenant of the eighth infantry named O'Brien, who wrote the lyric of the West Point anthem, "Benny Havens, O," which is sung by the old brass hats of the army at reunions of their classes.

Doctor O'Brien had gone to the point to visit an old friend, Riley A. Arnold, a first classman, and their evenings were passed at Benny Havens. Under the spell of Mr. Havens' personality, his hospitality and miscellaneous influences, whose mention might cause heartaches, the medical officer set his lyric to "The Wearin' of the Green," and others were improvised by other wistful souls as time went by until there were 37. All these are now embalmed in the pages of Farley's "West Point in the Sixties," which cadets today may borrow from the post library for a comparison of their times with a time they will never know.

Benny Havens was ejected from the point in 1832 for spiking his cider a little too strongly, but he set up his rum jugs in a groggery outside the reservation and was host to returning members of the old classes, if not to the contemporary cadets, until he was buried in Highland Union Cemetery, overlooking the Hudson river, in 1897.

"Bugle Notes" relates that steamers bearing troops home from the Civil War, in passing West Point, gave off roaring blasts of "Benny Havens, O" as the veterans lined the rails.

Yet they insist that life was harder at the point in the very old days, relating that Athletics were unknown in any of the now familiar competitive forms and that for a long time the cadets were forbidden to smoke at all. It seems to me that a cadet permitted to take his ease and his ale at his inn of nights had a compensating privilege, but perhaps that's merely the expression of a depraved taste.

OLIVER URGES RED CROSS AID

States That Less Than Half Quota For Flood Sufferers Is Raised

McVea Oliver, chairman of the Ouachita parish chapter of the Red Cross, stated Saturday that a total of only $864 has been received by the chapter in the drive to raise $1,900 for flood sufferers of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois.

In this connection and stressing the urgency of the completion of the drive, Mr. Oliver presented an open letter from Red Cross President E. Roland Harriman, to all chapter heads, which is as follows:

At the special meeting of the board of governors yesterday, an up-to-date report was given them about the widespread flood throughout Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois. Now that the waters have subsided, it is possible for the first time to evaluate the devastation created by this extraordinary disaster. It is far greater than any previous experience had led us to anticipate.The percentage of major damage to property is much higher than usual. In fact, the destruction is more like that of a tornado than a flood. We now estimate 27,000 families will need more help than ever before in putting them back on their feet. This is the equivalent to assisting in the rehabilitation of a city of 100,000 inhabitants.

As a result, we now estimate $10,000,000 will be needed to do the Red Cross part of the job and you have been asked to double your original quota in your appeal to your community for funds to help these people.

Red Cross assists in at least 300 run-of-the - mine disasters a year. These cost an average of four to five million dollars annually. Over and above these, we know each year one or more serious disasters are apt to strike. Therefore, in our present budget we have set up a figure of $4,000,000 for disaster service with seven millions in reserve, or a total of eleven millions available. We are now but 43 days into our current fiscal year and substantially all the funds which it was expected would be sufficient for the full year are already committed with little or nothing for future disasters. Incidentaliy, we have helped in 24 other disasters throughout the country since June first.

I am writing you this personal message so you will have the full story to pass on to those from whom you are seeking support. We are proceeding to meet our obligations on the reliance you will redouble your efforts to raise the necessary disaster relief funds and that the people in your community who are concerned about human needs will respond once they know the facts.

CHINA REDS EASE UP ON EXECUTIONS

Hong Kong, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Chinese Communists have eased off somewhat on their purge executions and are bearing down heavy now on a forced labor program, Shanghai newspapers reaching here today indicated.

The official "liberation daily" reported that on Aug. 10 the Reds arrested and sentenced to hard labor 1,000 purported "counter revolutionaries."

The new policy of working instead of killing "counter revolutionaries" is described by the Communists as "leniency." Observers speculate, however, that the new program is a desperate device by the Communists to obtain the vast manpower their country needs.

Red China's agricultural production is declining as discontent with land reform has produced more guerrillas. Railroad development and flood prevention programs also require millions of men.

The Chinese Communists, months before the armistice talks in Kaesong, Korea, announced a drive to build up their armed forces. There has been no public announcement that this drive has been called off.

WOMAN LIVES AFTER HEART BEAT STOPS FOR 29 MINUTES

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A 60-year-old woman was revived at a Greensboro hospital yesterday 29 minutes after her heart stopped beating, her physicians said.

The attending physician and another surgeon started massaging the woman's heart a minute and a half after it stopped beating and continued for 27½ minutes until the organ started functioning again.

Names of the patient and the doctors all were withheld. The woman's doctor reported that she was in fairly good condition last night, with blood pressure and circulation about normal.

The woman was being prepared for a hernia operation when her heart stopped beating. She had suffered a heart attack some time ago.

The two doctors cut into the patient's chest, exposing the heart, and then began the massaging operation. They also injected stimulants directly into the organ.

TWO BRUNETTES GET PLENTY OF OFFERS

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Elisabeth Alves and Sybil Reedy don't have an apartment mate yet but they've had a lot of applications—from men aged 20 to 84.

The young women advertised last week for someone to share their apartment and through an oversight neglected to mention they were interested only in women.

Their phone has been ringing ever since, and they've been getting a lot of letters too.

"If we find two clean-cut, decent men out of all this we wouldn't mind sharing the apartment with them," Elisabeth said, "if they are willing to make it permanent."

The 84-year-old man wanted a quiet place to stay.

Other male callers included a husband who wanted to get away from his wife and a fellow who wanted to write a novel.

Elisabeth is a nurse and Sybel an office worker. Both are attractive young brunettes.

Holdup Made Near F. B. I. Director

La Jolla, Calif., Aug. 18.—(AP)—An armed robber held up a wealthy Texan here today within a few feet of J. Edgar Hoover. The FBI chief was asleep.

Herman D. Cornell, 64, of Fort Worth, reported that the robber took $800.

Cornell's hotel cottage, where the hold-up took place at 4:30 a. m., was next to the one occupied by the FBI chief.

Police said Cornell reported the robber missed $100,000 worth of jewels by 24 hours. They were taken by Mrs. Cornell when she left for Fort Worth yesterday.

Mrs. Cornell, police recalled, was robbed last May at Beverly Hills hotel and reported $15,000 worth of jewels stolen.

BILL TO TRANSFER SHIPS IS DELAYED

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A bill to authorize transfer of 24 destroyer escort ships to six foreign nations has been held up in the senate, at least until it has disposed of new foreign aid bill now pending in the house.

The measure, which the house has approved, would okay the transfer of eight escort vessels to France, two to Denmark, one to Great Britain, three to Peru, two to Uruguay, and eight to Brazil. Some have already been turned over under lease arrangements.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), the Republican leader, yesterday protested the bill as a give-away. Senator Hunt (D.-Wyo.), stifloor manager, agreed to postpone action.

WORLD YOUTH SESSION ENDS

Young People From 64 Free Nations Map Peace Plans

Ithica, N. Y., Aug. 18. —(AP)—Delegates to the World Assembly of Youth packed up today and handed over to their council the job of turning hopes into reality.

The 500 delegates from 64 free nations ended their first triennial conference last night on the Cornell University campus.

For 12 days they had weighed methods to help the youth of their countries live in peace and freedom.

Today, their council was to force an action program from the WAY promoting freedom of movement for young people to preventing juvenile prostitution.

The council, comprising four representatives from each member nation, governs WAY between meetings of the full assembly.

As they adjourned last night the young people praised the U. for its hospitality, and forecast a bright future for the assembly.

Edmond Caleb of British Guiana voicing a theme threaded through conference discussions, said:

"The world is our neighbor and we must cure rather than destroy. . . .

"Peace is something positive—translated in terms of proper dwellings, decent wages and respect for the individual."

Speaking for Africa, Gontran Maka of French Guinea told the host delegation:

"We are proud, we are happy that here we are treated with justice. Africa is happy to see that we are treated as free men, like the youth of all other continents."

Francis Potter of Amherst, Mass., speaking for the host group, "a new pride in our traditions and at the same time, a very real humility."

The conference began August 1.

Prices Record 2 Per Cent Drop

Washington, Aug. 18. —(AP)—wholesale prices, as measured by the bureau of labor statistics declined 0.2 per cent in the week ending August 14 after a slight rise the preceding week.

The new defense production law took effect August 2, providing for wage and price controls which are now in operation.

The BLS reported today that as August 14 its index was at 17[illegible] per cent of the 1926 average. That was 13.1 per cent above the pre-Korea average.

The biggest declines for the week were in farm products and foods with falling prices for hogs, medium grade steers, commercial grade beef, sugar, and fresh and processed fruits.

Among other commodities with lower prices were print cloth, burlap, cottonseed meal, castor oil and several of the inedible fats and oils.

All other commodities outside of the farm products and foods classification were up 0.1 per cent with highest boosts for anthracite and cattle feed.

The daily index of prices of spot markets and organized exchanges declined 0.5 per cent over the week, reaching a point 7 per cent below the pre-freeze level of January 25. The daily index has declined for the 16th consecutive week.

NOW SHOWING AT THE JOY

Lawyer Joseph Cotten is posing a ticklish question to sleepwalker Loretta Young, in this courtroom scene from "Half Angel," the new Technicolor comedy from Twentieth Century-Fox. Due to open today at the Joy Theatre, "Half Angel" reunites the celebrated couple of "The Farmer's Daughter." Richard Sale directed the Julian Blaustein production.

Loretta Young, Joseph Cotton Star In 'Half Angel,' Smash Comedy Hit

New Technicolor Attraction Opening At Joy Theater Today

Loretta Young is a bad girl one day and a good girl the next, but no matter which side of her dual character she portrays in "Half Angel," she is beautiful to gaze upon in the new Twentieth Century - Fox comedy which opened at the Joy Theatre today. And the Technicolor cameras do much to enhance her radiant personality in this story about a woman with a split personality who loves a man when she is in her sexie mood and doesn't even know him when she's a plain hospital nurse. The man, of course, is Joseph Cotten and you can't blame Miss Young for lapsing into her "world" mood so she can indulge in some uninhibited love making.

Both Miss Young and Mr. Cotten get themselves into a lot of funny hot water during the course of the story. She has him arrested and he, a lawyer, embarrasses her in court by partially proving that she spent one night, albeit decorously, in his bedroom. This scene, by the way, is easily one of the best in this hilarious comedy. Later she marries him while under her subconscious spell, only to steal away from their bridal bed the next morning, hating him, to hurry home and dress for her marriage to another man. Cotten manages to stop the wedding just as she faints and lapses into her subconscious again, which puts her back into the arms of the man she really loves.

Miss Young is completely fetching in a smart wardrobe designed by Travilla, and she plays Nora with a verve which easily reminds one of her role in "The Farmer's Daughter" for which she won an Oscar three years ago. With Cotten, her co-star in the former picture also, giving a suave, polished performance, the pair make "Half Angel" completely captivating.

Aiding in the fun and excitement with competent portrayals are rotund Cecil Kellaway, Basil Ruysdael, Jim Backus, Irene Ryan, the fluttery lass of radio and pictures, and John Ridgely. Richard Sale, who has a particular flair for comedy, directed the picture with a sure hand for the comic situations from a sparkling script by Robert Riskin. Julian Blaustein, who produced "Broken Arrow" and "Mr. 880," for Twentieth Century-Fox, has invested the production with a lively atmosphere.

Tunesmiths Ralph Blaine and Alfred Newman collaborated on the song, "My Castle In The Sand," which Miss Young, in fine voice, incidentally, sings to good advantage to Joseph Cotten in one of the scenes showing the subconscious Loretta.

"Half Angel" is a delight to the eye as well as a tickler for your funny bone. It will afford you a swell evening of entertainment at the Joy Theatre, which has been having an unusual good run of pictures lately.

Plans Probe Of Cattle Black Market

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Price stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle disclosed plans today to stiffen cattle price controls and to investigate what he called growing signs of a black market.

DiSalle said he is throwing a large part of the office of price stabilization enforcement staff into a drive to head off violations of price ceilings.

The justice department is being asked to give priority handling to cases involving cattle and beef ceiling violations.

DiSalle announced he was calling beef slaughterers to Washington next Wednesday to take over possible changes in existing ceiling rules. The proposals include ceilings on cattle sellers as well as buyers, and on individual beef animals, rather than on average sales prices as now.

Reductions in freight allowances, which the OPS said may now be overgenerous for eastern and far western markets, also are being considered to curb the flow of cattle out of the midwest. These allowances now run up to $1.25 per hundredweight and are designed to compensate for loss of meat weight in cattle during shipment.

DiSalle said the recent action of congress in banning slaughter quotas has brought "numerous complaints from packers that they were unable to purchase cattle at the ceiling prices.

Under the cattle quotas system, each slaughterer was told how many cattle he could handle. Officials contended the system was necessary to obtain even distribution of available cattle and to prevent slaughterers who were willing to go above the ceiling price from grabbing off large numbers of the animals.

But the American Meat Institute, representing large packers, charged that the growth of black markets was due to government regulations, including the quota system.

In a statement, it said that the volume of beef handled by "established companies" declined at an alarming rate under the quota system.

"Experience has proved," the institute said, "that livestock and meat controls are unworkable.'"

DiSalle's statement said:

"Since we are no longer able to channel meat into regular normal channels through the slaughter quota system, there are growing indications of maldistribution. This situation, of course, puts a strain on legal prices, and threatens to move the available supply to fewer areas where higher—and illegal—prices may be obtained.

"There are indications that ceiling price violators are outbidding legitimate slaughterers and are extending their operations far beyond normal.

"As a result honest packers in the absence of slaughter quotas find it difficult to get cattle at the legal prices and they are being forced to reduce their cattle purchases substantially below normal volume."

REGULATIONS ON BUILDING GIVEN

Material Dealer Association Head Explains New Construction Law

As a community service to home builders and contractors, R. Needham Ball, executive vice - president of the Louisiana Building Material Dealers Association, has given an interpretation of the new regulations of the government affecting construction of all types.

Original press releases of the national production authority were confusing and in many respects contrary to the provisions of these new controls. Subsequent releases have not entirely clarified the interpretations which have created a great amount of confusion in the minds of people who would like to build.

Under the order certain types of construction are self - authorized. This applies to single - family dwellings. It is well to bear in mind that the order does not go into operation until October 1. Consequently any such residence now under construction or started before October 1 is permitted and is dependent solely on whether the building material dealer or contractor has the essential items necessary for the particular job. Any residence started and under construction now or after October 1 is permitted provided such residential housing unit does not use more than 1,800 pounds of carbon steel excluding structural steel; or 35 pounds of copper and copper base alloys. No structural steel; no alloy and stainless steel; and no aluminum is permitted.

In the event a single dwelling residential structure uses copper pipe water distribution system, the owner may use 1,450 pounds of carbon steel and 160 pounds of copper. This means the controlled metals on the job would include copper or steel pipe used for water, gas and heating and would include other metal items when fabricated or shaped on the job. Nails are included as well as copper wire for electrical conduction. Not included in computing the amounts of permited controlled materials products such as steel sash, prefabricated ducts, furnaces, heaters, bathtubs and appliances.

The use of copper and aluminum for decorative or ornamental purposes is not permitted. This includes copper and aluminum for cornices, downspouts, gutters and accessories fabricated on the job.

Commerical buildings are permitted where they do not use more than 2 tons of carbon steel including structural; 200 pounds of copper and copper base alloys; but no stainless steel and no aluminum.

Recreational and amusement types of construction may use 2 tons of carbon steel; 200 pounds of copper — but no aluminum, no alloy steel or stainless steel. However, for this construction the builder is required to use an allotment symbol for the materials needed to finish any such job after October 1. This type of construction is not self - authorized.

Where the construction of a residence or commercial building will require greater amounts of controlled materials than are permitted under the order, it will be necessary to secure approval from the national production authority to start any such construction.

Stirring Coast Guard Saga Filmed With Full Government Cooperation

Studio Sticks To Realism With Thrilling Results In Action Film

In presenting "Fighting Coast Guard," action drama of the nation's first sea-going armed force, Republic Studios has contributed another stirring screen document to its long list of service pictures which pay tribute to the U. S. fighting forces. The film, which opens Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre, stars Brian Donlevy, Forrest Tucker and Ella Raines.

Covering World War II action highlights of the U. S. coast guard on convoy duty and spectacular invasion missions, the picture was directed by Joseph Kane, who also served as associate producer.

Working in close liaison with Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D. C., the studio was able to film location sequences in authentic backgrounds. Hundreds of Coast Guard and naval personnel appeared in these scenes which were filmed at the huge amphibious base at Coronado and San Diego, Calif., and at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

Hectic Adventure

Thrilling sequences were filmed aboard the famous Coast Guard bark-rigged training ship, Eagle, with cameras chronicling the hectic hours when a furious hurricane interrupted photographing and chased the Eagle back to Boston from Glouchester, Mass.

Many officers and enlisted personnel participating in filming "Fighting Coast Guard" were heroes of important land invasion actions in the Mediterranean and the Pacific during World War II, and actual defense department film of specific actions is incorporated into the picture.

Cast and crew went through hazardous operations off the coast of San Diego aboard a group of LCVP's during particularly rough weather.

Uniform Changes

Approximately 700 Coast Guard uniforms for stars and principals were made by Republic for the film. Donlevy, Tucker, John Russell, William Murphy and Richard Jaeckel had twelve uniform changes each while other cast principals had from four to six. Of course, extensive research went into the classifying of Coast Guard and naval insignia and the accurate use of this information during production.

"Fighting Coast Guard" is the first comprehensive film coverage of famous Coast Guard exploits in World War II, and marks another first for Republic Studios, which also produced the first motion picture record of the marines in World War II, "Sands of Iowa Jima."

DEDICATE PARK TO NEWSPAPER WRITER

Detroit, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The city of Detroit did something without precedent here last night.

A big park and playground was dedicated to the memory of a newspaper reporter.

The late Arthur W. O'Shea, well known writer who died a little less than a year ago, was honored. Mayor Albert F. Cobo and other dignitaries took part in the ceremony.

For the last several years of his life O'Shea was labor editor of the Detroit Free Press. Previously he had worked on all Detroit's daily papers.

O'Shea was held in esteem. On a bronze plaque at the park entrance is inscribed:

"Indifferent to the powerful,
"Gentle to the weak,
"He walked after God
"And wrote the truth."

Fernando Lamas and Greer Garson in a romantic interlude from M-G-M's "The Law and the Lady," current attraction at the Tem Theatre. Lamas, handsome Argentine star, makes his Hollywood debut in the new offering.

Legion Post To Meet On Monday

A regular business meeting of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion will be held at 8:00 p. m. Monday, August 20, at the Legion Home.

This is the first meeting after installation of the new officers for the coming year, and will be concerned with the formulation of plans for the year. In addition, members who attended the business session of the department convention at Shreveport last month will be called upon to report on the activities of those sessions.

All members are urged to be present. The usual social period will be observed after the meeting.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by GEORGE WUNDER

I DUNNO, TERRY, OLD LARD-BUCKET SURE DOESN'T LOOK AMBITIOUS.

WITH RED PATROLS WANDERING AROUND THE PREMISES, HE WON'T MAKE HIS MOVE UNTIL AFTER DARK.

WE'VE GOT TO BE RIGHT, CHAZZ... CHOPS CLAIMS HE WAS ONLY TRYING TO STALL US UNTIL THE LIN REPORT ARRIVED... AND WE KNOW HIS LEG MAN, THE OLD FISHERMAN, BROUGHT HIM NEWS — ABOUT HIS COURIER, I'LL BET.

HE WON'T RISK US MEETING THE COURIER, FACE TO FACE. WE MIGHT LOUSE UP HIS MIDDLEMAN ROLE. SO HE'D ARRANGE FOR THE MAN TO HOLE UP AT ANOTHER HIDEOUT.

NEXT MOVE, CHOPS SLIPS AWAY, SNAGS THE REPORT AND RETURNS TO PEDDLE IT TO US FOR FIFTY GEES — UNLESS WE BEAT HIM TO THE COURIER!

OUTSIDE OF SAVING THE TAXPAYERS' LOOT, IT WOULD BE A PLEASURE TO SMEAR OL' TUBBY'S BLACK MARKET.

BUT THE COURIER IS PROBABLY ONE OF HIS BOYS...

MAYBE NOT... HE COULD BE A PATRIOTIC CHINESE FROM ANOTHER UNDERGROUND... OH, OH! ACTION!

SCENE: THE STERILIZER ROOM OF THE HOSPITAL.

JUST AS SHE WAS READY TO TURN THE STEAM VALVE, I RUSHED HER.

HER GUN MISSED FIRE! THAT WAS THE KEY TO THE WHOLE THING! IT SAVED MY LIFE, AND IN THE SCUFFLE, I KNOCKED HER HEAD AGAINST THE STEEL DOOR OF THE STERILIZER.

THEN, NURSE JONES HANDED ME THE HYPO NEEDLE—THE REST WAS EASY!

YOU'VE DONE A HEROIC JOB!

FIVE MORE SECONDS AND THE KING WOULD HAVE LOOKED LIKE A PIECE OF STEAMED FISH.

I NEVER EXPECTED THAT CREWY LOU WOULD TAKE HER LAST TRIP WITH US SO PEACEFULLY.

YES, BUT WATCH HER, BOYS.

AND AS FOR YOU, KING, I'VE GOT SOMETHING TO SHOW YOU.

THESE ARE COLOR PICTURES WE FOUND IN YOUR APARTMENT.

MY APARTMENT? WHY, YOU—*!!

OH, WE HAD A WARRANT.

WE ALSO FOUND THIS LITTLE VIEWER—FOR VIEWING SUCH COLOR SLIDES.

"YOUR MAN, EDDIE, SAYS YOU WENT OUT TO YOUR FARM ABOUT ONCE A MONTH—AND ALWAYS SHOWED A LOT OF INTEREST IN YOUR CATTLE."

STRANGELY ENOUGH, MOST OF THESE PICTURES WERE TAKEN AROUND YOUR CATTLE WATER TANK!

SO WHAT?

OLD DOGS NEVER DIE… IF THEY'RE AS RESOURCEFUL AND TOUGH AS SANDY… …AND AMONG SANDY'S ANCESTORS MAYBE THERE WAS AN AC'TOR… BLOOD WILL TELL!

ODD ABOUT THAT LAST GUARD… HE CLAIMED A DOZEN VICIOUS DOGS TREED HIM… STRANGE!

A LIKELY STORY! LEFT HIS POST! HE KNEW THE PENALTY… WELL, WE'VE GOT A REAL GUARD NOW…

CLOSING UP FOR THE NIGHT… COME ON, BOY… TIME YOU HAD SUPPER…

YES… FEED HIM AND MAYBE HE'LL STAY AROUND…

YOU… YOU SAY A BIG, SANDY COLORED DOG HAS TAKEN TH' WATCHMAN'S JOB AT TH' GATE?

YEP… HE SURE HAS… WON'T LET NOBODY IN OR OUT… …EXCEPT TH' "DOCTOR," O' COURSE…

YOU SAW HIM… D-D-DID HE HAVE A BLACK LEFT EAR AND A PATCH ON HIS BACK…?

HM… WHY, I CAN'T RECALL… BUT, HEY… HERE HE COMES, NOW…

YOU GOT SCRAPS AND BONES… FEED THIS ANIMAL… TREAT HIM RIGHT… WANT HIM TO STAY… BEST G'ARD WE EVER HAD…

YOU BET, "DOCTOR"…

BUT, REMEMBER… DON'T LET ME CATCH ANYONE PETTING HIM OR MAKING UP TO HIM! IF HE GETS CHUMMY WITH JUST ONE CHARACTER IN THIS PLACE …HE GETS SHOT!

OH, SURE! WE GET YUH, "DOCTOR"…

THAT TH' POOCH YOU HAD IN MIND, ANNIE? BLACK PATCH… LEFT EAR… THAT WHAT YOU SAID?

ER… GUESS IT WAS TH' RIGHT EAR… YEAH… AND THIS ONE'S… ER… BIGGER… YEAH… LOTS BIGGER

JACK

HOT-ROD GRABBED THE CONTROLS… THE RUDDER WOULDN'T WORK— BUT…

…THE AILERONS AND ELEVATORS FUNCTIONED ENOUGH SO THAT HOT-ROD WAS ABLE TO MAKE A CRASH-BELLY LANDING!

LOOK! EVERYBODY DIDN'T BAIL OUTTA TH' C-47!

…ONE JUST CRAWLED OUT OF THE WRECKAGE AND IS HEADIN' FOR THE BRUSH!

HEY… THAT'S BICEPS TRYIN' TO GET AWAY! THERE MAY BE OTHERS PINNED IN THAT WRECK!

WE'VE GOTTA TRY TO LAND THIS PACK PLANE SKELETON IN THAT ROUGH VALLEY!

…I HOPE THIS AIRFRAME CAN TAKE IT! WELL, AT LEAST IT HAS EIGHT BIG WHEELS!

MEANWHILE— HOT-ROD HAPPY LIES UNCONSCIOUS IN THE WRECKED PLANE WHICH MAY BURST INTO FLAMES ANY SECOND!

DAGWOOD, WHEN YOU FILLED YOUR PIPE YOU SPILLED TOBACCO ALL OVER THE CARPET AGAIN

AND LOOK HOW YOU MUSSED UP THE LIVING ROOM--- AND LYING ON THE SOFA WITH YOUR SHOES ON!

I WISH I HAD A LITTLE DEN OF MY OWN THAT I COULD MUSS UP AS MUCH AS I PLEASED

WHY DON'T YOU BUILD ONE IN YOUR CELLAR?

A ROOM ALL MY VERY OWN

HA-HA--I UNLOADED ALL THAT JUNK LUMBER ON HIM FOR FIVE DOLLARS

I'LL CONVERT THIS LITTLE SPARE CORNER OF THE CELLAR INTO A LITTLE CASTLE WHERE I'LL BE KING

THIS IS GOING TO BE A DREAM OF A LIFETIME COME TRUE --NOBODY ALLOWED IN IT BUT ME

DAGWOOD CAN HAVE MY OLD MOHAIR SOFA

AND I BROUGHT HIM THIS STUFFED OWL FROM OUR ATTIC FOR HIS NEW DEN

I CAN DECORATE IT WITH MY FAVORITE COLORS---PURPLE AND YELLOW

BEHOLD-- MY HIDEAWAY IS FINISHED AND IT'S MINE--ALL MINE!

LET'S SEE NOW--- I'LL BRING DOWN MY TOBACCO HUMIDOR AND MAGAZINES AND BOOKS AND SLIPPERS AND IT'S COMPLETE

IT'S THE COOLEST ROOM IN THE HOUSE

IT'S SWELL FOR MY GYMNASIUM

I'LL KEEP MY TOYS DOWN HERE

THAT'S RIGHT! THE MINING COMPANY FOR WHICH I WORK SENT ME HERE TO LOCATE THE SOURCE OF THAT LITTLE PIECE OF ORE!

HAVE YOU FOUND THE SOURCE YET, MR. DUNEDIN?

NO...I HAVE VERY LITTLE TO GO ON EXCEPT A CRUDE DRAWING ON A PIECE OF PAPER....

WE'D LIKE TO HELP YOU, MR. DUNEDIN, BUT WE MUST CONTINUE LOOKING FOR OUR PET PIGMY ELEPHANT, SNOWBALL...

YOU BOYS PROB'LY KNOW THIS COUNTRY, AND I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT LOOK AT THE PAPER

THE PAPER AND THE ROCK WERE BOUGHT FROM A TRADER BY OUR MINING COMPANY....THE TRADER SAID HE GOT IT FROM A NADUWA NATIVE... IT MUST BE THE KEY TO THE SOURCE OF THE ORE...

IS IT A MAP?

NO... IT IS NOTHING MORE THAN A CRUDE DRAWING OF AN EAGLE...

FLASH GORDON

by MAC RABOY and DON MOORE ®

"WHAT WAS THIS NONSENSE ABOUT MARTIANS YOU RADIOED?" RUFF DEMANDS GRUFFLY. FLASH POINTS TO THE HOVERING INTERPLANETARY SHIP AND ASKS: "DOES THAT LOOK LIKE A MIRAGE, DOC?"

WHILE DR. RUFF GASPS IN SURPRISE, TOXO DECIDES IT IS A GOOD TIME TO GET RID OF ALL THE EARTHLINGS ON DECK. BUT FLASH WAS WATCHING FOR THE MAN FROM MARS. "TAKE COVER, GIRLS!" HE SHOUTS. AND THEY LEAP OUT OF THE LINE OF TOXO'S COSMIC-RAY SHOT.

FLASH'S SWIFT RAY BARRAGE DRIVES TOXO HEADLONG INTO SPACE, ZIGZAGGING TOWARD THE PROTECTION OF HIS OWN SHIP. HE FIRES BACK AT FLASH IN BLIND RAGE.

TOXO'S PARTING SHOT HITS A ROCKET TANK ON THE SPACE PLATFORM. INSTANTLY, LIQUID OXYGEN SPURTS OUT UNDER TERRIFIC PRESSURE, TRAPPING DALE BETWEEN THE FLAMES!

IT'S NOT SO TOUGH, MARK. FIRST YOU LEARN TO BE A SOLDIER-TO MARCH, TO LIVE WITH OTHER MEN, TO FIRE WEAPONS LIKE THIS 3.5 BAZOOKA.

WHILE YOU'RE LEARNING HOW TO JUMP, YOU ARE TRUSSED UP LIKE A CHICKEN IN ALL SORTS OF SAFETY APPARATUS. BUT THE ONE GREATEST FACTOR FOR SAFETY IS TOP PHYSICAL CONDITION.

THEN COMES THE WONDERFUL DAY WHEN YOU'RE ALL SET FOR THAT FIRST JUMP. WHAT A THRILL! THE SAME KIND OF THRILL YOU GET EVERY TIME YOU PIN ON THIS BADGE...

BOY, THAT SOUNDS GOOD TO ME!
WELL, MARK, JUST HIT OUT FOR A RECRUITING STATION AND TELL THE MAN YOU WANT THE AIRBORNE!
